RESPONDENT/HUSBAND'S VERIFIED TIME-SENSITIVE MOTION TO STAY GAL CONTACT WITH THE CHILDREN, GAL PAYMENT ENFORCEMENT, AND THE CONTEMPT MOTION (DOC. 364) PENDING CERTIORARI REVIEW, TO COMPEL DISCOVERY, AND FOR RELATED RELIEF

Respondent/Husband, Christopher A. Hanson, self-represented, moves to stay the guardian ad litem ("GAL") orders (Docs. 337, 351, 365) and Wife's contempt motion (Doc. 364) until the Second District decides both of his certiorari petitions, No. 2D2026-1955 and No. 2D2026-2213; moves to compel the discovery Wife has withheld; and states:

Record citations. "Doc." is the docket index number in this case. "App." is a page of the indexed composite filed with Husband's Notice of Filing on October 7, 2026, Filing No. 258744485 (stamped App. 000001-000195). "DQ Motion" is Husband's Verified Motion to Disqualify Judge Matthew Felix, filed October 7, 2026, at 11:34:13 p.m., Filing No. 258744602. "DQ Ex. A" through "DQ Ex. C" are attached to the DQ Motion; "DQ Ex. D" was filed the same night, Filing No. 258744643. This motion relies on those filings and does not re-attach them. Exhibits 1 through 3, attached, are October 4, October 8, and October 1, 2026 emails. Exhibit 4, attached, is a September 25, 2026 parent-teacher conference form, with the child's name redacted.

I. THE SANCTION WIFE SEEKS IS UNAVAILABLE

1. Wife asks this Court to cut Husband's equal time-sharing to alternate weekends as a sanction for contempt: "an appropriate sanction is to modify the children's current schedule to permit Respondent visitation only every other weekend." Doc. 364 ¶ 13; see id. ¶¶ 11, 15. The Second District forbids that sanction: "A court cannot modify timesharing as a sanction for a parent's contempt of a custody order." Duncan v. Brickman, 233 So. 3d 477, 480 (Fla. 2d DCA 2017). Doc. 364 is unsworn and pleads no substantial change in circumstances.

2. Two days before the hearing, Wife filed a "temporary" parenting plan that gives her the majority of overnights and sole parental responsibility beginning October 12, 2026. Petitioner's Notice of Filing Proposed Parenting Plan (Oct. 7, 2026, Filing No. 258740297) at 2, 4, 6-7. That paper is unsworn and is a notice of filing, not a motion. A court cannot change time-sharing unless its jurisdiction "has been properly invoked by appropriate pleadings" and the parties receive notice and an opportunity to be heard on that issue. Busch v. Busch, 762 So. 2d 1010, 1011 (Fla. 2d DCA 2000); Pelliccia v. Arce, 867 So. 2d 619, 620-21 (Fla. 2d DCA 2004) (reversing custody change sought by contempt motion).

3. Wife names no concern about the children or about their relationship with their father. Neither Doc. 364 nor her proposed plan identifies any harm to either child. The children are happy and healthy, and they are thriving; their teachers' reports confirm it. At parent-teacher conferences on September 25, 2026, the second grader's teacher checked every listed strength and no concern, recorded an A in all six subjects, and wrote "Awesome!" Ex. 4.

4. Wife sought a GAL only after Husband sought her finances. Husband moved for her account statements on May 16, 2024 (Doc. 22). Wife moved for a GAL seven months later, on December 13, 2024 (Doc. 69). Her sworn mandatory-disclosure certificate answered "None exist" for loan applications; nine days later she produced a "Uniform Residential Loan Application dated 10/16/23." Doc. 44 at 3 ¶ 6; Doc. 46 at 3 ¶ 6(b). The timeline supports one conclusion: Wife is concealing marital assets, and she has limited even her mandatory disclosures to keep them concealed. Asking the Court to disrupt a schedule that is working, without naming a single concern, shows she is not putting the children's welfare first.

5. Wife filed Doc. 364 at 9:49 a.m. on August 4, 2026, to enforce the July 23 GAL order (Doc. 351). The day before, the GAL wrote the Court that "it appears that several of the pages of the Order are missing" and that "only one side of each page was captured when it was signed and uploaded into Hover." App. 113. The complete order (Doc. 365) was not e-filed until 4:58 p.m. that day. Wife sought contempt of an order entered with four of its nine pages missing, including the page directing the GAL's interviews of and access to the children (Doc. 365 ¶¶ 3, 5).

II. THE DISCOVERY THE COURT CAN ORDER NOW

6. Husband sought Wife's financial records for seven months before Wife moved for a GAL (Doc. 69). Ordering that discovery resolves the dispute that drives this case, and it will show what Wife has withheld. Wife's objections to Husband's Second Request for Production (Doc. 101) are already set for hearing on October 9, 2026. Doc. 361.

7. Doc. 22 has been pending since May 16, 2024; by October 9, 2026, it will have been pending 876 days. Husband offered his own statements on the same terms. Doc. 22 ¶¶ 16-17. Wife's then-counsel conceded: "We were late on our mandatory disclosure, and I acknowledge that." Apr. 17, 2026 Tr. 73:11-13. On November 20, 2024, the Court granted Husband's motion to compel and ordered Wife to comply fully with Rule 12.285 within ten days.

Doc. 54. Husband moved to enforce that order (Doc. 84); the motion was denied without prejudice (Doc. 130). Wife has never produced the account statements Doc. 22 seeks.

8. On February 3, 2026, Husband asked that financial discovery be heard first because he needed it "to make my argument on the guardian ad litem." The Court answered: "Okay. We'll do that first." Doc. 279, Tr. 18:10-14. On April 17 the Court ruled from the bench: "So I'm going to order three years of mandatory disclosure going back three years from the date of the filing initial petition on January 26th 2024." Apr. 17, 2026 Tr. 114:10-13. Asked whether that was the ruling on Doc. 22, it answered: "Correct." Id. at 116:9-11. The GAL order (Doc. 337) issued June 25 with Doc. 22 still unwritten. On July 7 the Court said: "I need a written order on that." July 7, 2026 a.m. Tr. 10:10-11. Husband moved for that order on July 22 (Doc. 346) and gave notice under Florida Rule of General Practice and Judicial Administration 2.215(g)(2) on July 29 (Doc. 355). No written order has issued.

9. Outstanding requests. Husband served his Second Request for Production on December 17, 2024. Doc. 82. Wife answered with objections and a motion for protective order on January 16, 2025. Doc. 101. Husband asks the Court to overrule those objections on October 9 and order complete responses and production within fourteen days.

10. Chase records. Husband's answer objected to the postmarital agreement dated October 8, 2023, citing "evidence that already demonstrates an intent to mislead Husband about assets at the time of entering into the post-marital agreement." Doc. 79 ¶ 27. Two weeks later, Doc. 93 barred the JPMorgan Chase ("Chase") subpoenas and declined to rule on the agreement's validity because "that issue has not been challenged by either Party or properly brought before the Court." Doc. 93 at 2 ¶ 3. Husband then moved to void the agreement and reopen Chase discovery. Doc. 146. Doc. 146 and Wife's objection (Doc. 149) to Husband's Chase notices (Docs. 147-148) remain undecided.

11. Husband asks leave to serve a fresh Rule 12.351 subpoena on Chase for monthly statements of accounts titled in Wife's name from January 2021 to date. For accounts of The Law Office of Sarah Hanson (Doc. 93 at 2 ¶ 2), he seeks only accounts through which Wife received compensation or marital funds, with client trust funds excluded or redacted and any dispute resolved in camera. These statements test the financial representations behind the 2023 agreement and both parties' current ability to pay.

III. CURRENT ABILITY TO PAY

12. Coercive civil contempt requires a present ability to comply and a purge the contemnor can perform. Parisi v. Broward County, 769 So. 2d 359, 364-65 (Fla. 2000). Neither Doc. 337 nor Doc. 365 contains a finding on either party's ability to pay. Doc. 337 divides GAL costs equally "without prejudice subject to a potential letter [sic] reallocation." Doc. 337 at 1 ¶ 3; Doc. 365 ¶ 16. Section 61.16(1), Florida Statutes, requires the Court to consider the parties' financial resources, and an allocation without that finding is reversible. Levy v. Levy, 388 So. 3d 932, 936-38 (Fla. 3d DCA 2024). Wife wrote the GAL on October 4, 2026: "I simply cannot afford to pay someone to sit and listen to legal arguments." Ex. 1.

13. Both parents face the same pressure. Wife has said she is concerned about keeping the children in private school, and Husband shares that concern. Husband anticipates having to obtain a loan secured by the equity in his home to meet the family's financial needs. On October 1, 2026, at 8:34 a.m., he wrote Wife: "As I've told you several times I cannot afford to pay you." He added that he was "looking at taking out a second mortgage on the house just to meet expenses." Twenty-four minutes later Wife answered: "You cannot take out any mortgages while legally married without my signature." Ex. 3. Wife holds a veto over the one source of funds Husband identified, and she uses it while asking the Court to coerce payment.

14. Husband's home also needs urgent repairs, including damage from a recent burst pipe. Two and a half years of litigation, in this Court and on review, have compounded the cost. The GAL retainer is one more obligation in that period. Husband asks the Court to determine both parties' current ability to pay, and any reallocation under Doc. 365 ¶ 16, before any coercive GAL-cost relief.

15. Husband has pursued remedy after remedy to obtain Wife's financial records, the central dispute in this case: his motion for her account statements (Doc. 22), his motion to reopen Chase discovery (Doc. 146), his motion for a written order on Doc. 22 (Doc. 346), his Rule 2.215 notice (Doc. 355), and review in the Second District. The records remain unproduced.

16. Husband will continue until he obtains them. Meanwhile, the Court should pause every proceeding that reaches the children, let the equal schedule that is working continue, and take no step that puts the children in front of the GAL until the Second District decides both petitions.

IV. BOTH GAL ORDERS ARE UNDER CERTIORARI REVIEW

17. No. 2D2026-1955 reviews Doc. 337 and is fully briefed. No. 2D2026-2213 reviews Docs. 351 and 365; Wife filed her response on October 6, 2026. The Second District ordered responses in both cases, on August 3, 2026, and September 8, 2026. Rule 9.100(h) authorizes that order "[i]f the petition demonstrates a preliminary basis for relief." Fla. R. App. P. 9.100(h).

18. Doc. 365 goes beyond Wife's request (Doc. 69) and beyond the statutes that define a GAL's powers:

(a) ¶ 11 issues records orders "without the necessity of a hearing" absent a written objection, and even then objections "may be resolved by the Court without hearing," where section 61.403(2), Florida Statutes, requires "notice to all parties and hearing thereon";

(b) ¶ 12 bars either party from the GAL's "notes, file, or other file/investigative materials" for any reason, where section 61.404 protects only materials obtained under section 61.403(2);

(c) ¶ 14 recites a waiver of all hearsay objections;

(d) ¶¶ 16-17 condition GAL work, reports, and attendance on advance payment, including for the GAL's own counsel;

(e) ¶ 18 waives present and future claims against the GAL; and

(f) ¶ 19 orders that "[a]ny postings to social media about the case shall be immediately removed" and bars online reviews of the GAL. Doc. 365 at 8. That is a prior restraint on speech. U.S. Const. amend. I; Art. I, § 4, Fla. Const.; Romero v. Erik G. Abrahamson, P.A., 113 So. 3d 870, 872 (Fla. 2d DCA 2012).

19. Husband moved to stay the GAL obligations on July 28 (Doc. 353), before Wife filed Doc. 364, and renewed the request on August 16 (Doc. 367). Neither has been heard. A stay turns on the likelihood of success and the likelihood of harm. Fla. R. App. P. 9.310(a); Perez v. Perez, 769 So. 2d 389, 391 n.4 (Fla. 3d DCA 1999). Both favor a stay.

V. THE CHILDREN

20. Doc. 365 directs that the GAL "shall interview the parties and the minor child(ren)" and that the parties "shall permit the Guardian ad Litem to have access to the minor child(ren) as requested by the Guardian ad Litem." Doc. 365 ¶¶ 3, 5. The last sentence of ¶ 3 recites a waiver of the notice section 61.403(1) requires before those interviews. Wife's own exhibit describes the GAL's practice: "These meetings occur without prior notice to either party," typically at "daycare or school." Doc. 364 at 8.

21. Doc. 337 identifies no act by Husband that harmed or endangered the children. Its findings are ¶¶ A-C, and its one finding about Husband is that "Father stated multiple times that he is not a bad parent and in fact, is an excellent parent." Doc. 337 ¶ B. Its stated purpose is a GAL "to investigate the issues in this case and to provide the Court with some information to aid in its decision-making." Id. ¶ C. The children are thriving under the equal schedule. Ex. 4; DQ Ex. D. Asked whether "for at least two years it's been 50/50 custody," Wife answered: "Sure." May 29, 2026 Tr. 36:22-24.

22. A stay keeps today's status quo. On October 4, 2026, the GAL wrote: "I do not begin an investigation until the retainer has been paid in full," and "no investigation has occurred, but for a review of the family law docket." Wife answered the same day: "There is nothing to be offered by your office on behalf of my girls since nothing has occurred to date." Ex. 1. The harm runs one way. An interview of a child cannot be undone; if the Second District quashes either order, the children will already have been questioned under it. Parents' authority over decisions involving their children is protected by the privacy guarantee of Article I, section 23 of the Florida Constitution. Kirton v. Fields, 997 So. 2d 349, 352 (Fla. 2008). A weekend taken as a contempt sanction cannot be returned. Protections waived under ¶¶ 11, 12, 14, 18, and 19 cannot be restored by a later appellate ruling, and a retainer paid under ¶ 16 funds the interviews the stay is meant to prevent.

23. If the Court wants a written temporary schedule while review proceeds, Husband will accept one that keeps equal overnights and shared parental responsibility, with the days, exchange times, and exchange locations Wife prefers, effective only while GAL contact with the children is stayed, without any finding or concession about either parent, without prejudice to either parent's position on time-sharing, and subject to review at the status hearing in relief I. The existing equal schedule remains in force until the Court approves a temporary schedule. Under Duncan, no schedule may be imposed as a contempt sanction.

VI. TIME WITH FAMILY

24. Husband's Doc. 371 asked to take the children to Michigan in August to see their grandfather, who "is elderly, has health issues, and cannot travel to Florida," and offered Wife a one-night trade. Doc. 371 ¶¶ 5-8. Wife wrote: "I do not agree to the trip." Id. ¶ 11. The August dates passed with Doc. 371 unheard. Husband asks that it be heard and applied to holiday travel to Michigan, including New Year's.

VII. THE JULY 7, 2026 RECORDING

25. The Court Administrator reports that the recordings of seven proceedings in this case "had already been overwritten prior to the date of your request," and that a video record of the July 7, 2026 proceeding "does exist satisfying this specific date request and has been preserved." App. 16-17. It is the only surviving recording of the eight proceedings Husband requested. Husband asks that it remain preserved.

WHEREFORE Husband requests an order, entered after the DQ Motion is determined and before any hearing on Doc. 364:

A. Declining to change the existing time-sharing schedule as a contempt sanction, and maintaining it except as relief C provides;

B. Staying, until the Second District has decided both No. 2D2026-1955 and No. 2D2026-2213: (1) the GAL's interviews of, meetings with, and other contact with the children under Doc. 365 ¶¶ 3, 5, and 10 and the corresponding terms of Doc. 351, with the GAL's confidentiality duties under Doc. 365 ¶ 12 and section 61.404 remaining in force; (2) enforcement of payment under Doc. 337 ¶ 3, Doc. 351, and Doc. 365 ¶¶ 16-17, including enforcement fees and costs; (3) the notice waiver in the last sentence of Doc. 365 ¶ 3, the hearing provisions of ¶ 11, the last sentence of ¶ 12, the hearsay waiver in ¶ 14, the claims waiver in ¶ 18, and ¶ 19; and (4) adjudication of Doc. 364; and continuing items (2) through (4) until the Court also enters a written order on Doc. 22, any ordered production has occurred and Husband has had fourteen days to use it, and both parties' current ability to pay has been determined;

C. Approving, on the terms in ¶ 23, a temporary written schedule that keeps equal overnights and shared parental responsibility, effective only while GAL contact with the children is stayed under relief B(1);

D. Overruling Wife's objections and denying her motion for protective order (Doc. 101), set for hearing October 9, 2026, and ordering Wife to serve complete responses to Husband's Second Request for Production (Doc. 82) and produce all responsive documents within fourteen days;

E. Overruling Wife's objection in Doc. 149, modifying Doc. 93 in light of Doc. 146, and permitting the Chase subpoena described in ¶ 11;

F. Entering a written order on Doc. 22 and Doc. 346 identifying the records, the producing party, and deadlines;

G. Directing that the video record of the July 7, 2026 proceeding (App. 17) be preserved pending further order;

H. Setting Doc. 371 for hearing as to holiday travel to Michigan, including New Year's;

I. Setting a status hearing within twenty-one days to set discovery deadlines and review the stay and any temporary schedule; and

J. Granting Husband relief in all other manners of relief that may be or become available under the law.

VERIFICATION

Under penalties of perjury, I declare that I have read the foregoing motion and that the facts stated in it are true. Paragraph 4's final two sentences state inferences I draw from those facts. § 92.525, Fla. Stat.

CERTIFICATE OF CONFERRAL

On October 2, 2026, at 1:29 p.m., Husband asked Wife by email whether she objects to a stay. At 1:43 p.m. she answered: "I object to all the motions and do NOT agree to a stay." App. 114-115. On October 8, 2026, at 7:43 a.m., she wrote: "Petitioner objects to any disqualification or stay of these proceedings." Ex. 2. On October 3, 2026, Husband asked the GAL for her position on the stay. On October 4 she replied that she has "no opinion on the matters you are seeking my position on." Ex. 1. Wife's position on Husband's Second Request for Production is stated in Doc. 101.

Good afternoon,

I am aware of the upcoming hearing and will be present at the hearing, as it is my understanding that at least one of the motions is in relation to my appointment as the GAL.

However, as I indicated in my correspondence, I do not begin an investigation until the retainer has been paid in full. As of today, your portion of my retainer has not been paid. So, no investigation has occurred, but for a review of the family law docket to determine the stage of the litigation.

As such, I have no opinion on the matters you are seeking my position on.

Thank you so much,

Hi Alexa,

I do not intend to be rude but I do believe you would need to be paid for your time.

Since you are not working the file and apparently cannot work the file as not yet been paid; is it necessary for you to attend the 8 hour hearing? There is nothing to be offered by your office on behalf of my girls since nothing has occurred to date. This is an 8 hour hearing with multiple motions and Mr. Hanson forced nearly 15 hours of hearing time to have you appointed to the point I had to part ways with my attorney. I simply cannot afford to pay someone to sit and listen to legal arguments let alone reviewing the books Mr. Hanson writes in his emails.

This retainer is going to be depleted before any work has been completed to interact.

You do not need to respond, I'm just asking for consideration as to whether your presence is mandatory given the current circumstances.

Thank you,

Good afternoon,

I do not take it as rude at all, I completely understand your concerns. I will be asking Judge Felix to address the motion as it relates to me first. Depending on the outcome of that motion, I will either be discharged as GAL and will leave or be ordered to continue my appointment, at which time I will have to stay as part of my appointment.

If I am discharged, I will not be charging for my appearance and will refund your retainer.

Petitioner objects to any disqualification or stay of these proceedings. This has become Respondent's modus operandi to derail these proceedings and cause further delays.

A response to this Motion with formal objection with demand for sanctions will be filed separately.

Subject: Re: Expenses to Date - September

I recently discovered that the 13th Circuit Court and the Florida Attorney Generals office concealed critical evidence under a confidentiality exemption with no basis for a year and a half. Obviously, this is extremely concerning when the presiding court goes to these lengths to conceal critical evidence in our litigation and violates its constitutional duties of public access to records in the process. The court had continued to act out the utterly baseless fiction that interfering with the kids lives is appropriate. I cant express how unconscionable I find that. I am going to be filing a motion to stay proceedings first in the trial court, and after that in the Second District Court of Appeal. Please let me know if you object to the motions or if you would like to discuss anything regarding options moving forward. Thank you for your cooperation.

Subject: Re: Expenses to Date - September

As I've told you several times I cannot afford to pay you. I am looking at taking out a second mortgage on the house just to meet expenses and fund the time it's going to take to pursue the federal lawsuit.

I have had the same singular request ever since May of 2024, when this all started - for you to
