

Re: Follow up on [MIA-tips] Miami Herald - Submit a News Tip [#17726]

From: [REDACTED] ([REDACTED])

To: bwallman@miamiherald.com

Date: Tuesday, May 26, 2026 at 05:54 PM EDT

Yep - Tony Marrero from Tampa bay times was following it in february 2025!! It was newsworthy then almost a year and a half ago. TBT was going to send a reporter to hearing on 2-12-25 and right before said they were short staffed blah blah blah and couldn't have someone cover. Despite the story getting more and more important and interesting, never heard from TBT again. Similar experience with at least a handful of reporters.

There are people who are deciding what stories get told in Florida. Your explanations for not pursuing the story, 4 different times in a row, don't make any sense. It's in black and white right below this email - all 4 times - you produced excuses directly inconsistent with what was already in our conversation!.

That's a pattern. And why would there be a pattern of showing interest in a story, and backing off it 4 times, and the explanation each time doesn't make sense. It doesn't take a pulitzer prize to know that means that someone else is filtering this out.

And it's a big deal. This lack of accountability that this sheepish media produces hurts people. It's harmed my family greatly, and the First Amendment foundation?? They're a joke. Brechner institute - now actively hiding records. Do you understand what that says about media and the violation of good faith and public trust that shows? It's really scary, and one would think in the wake of Epstein and Biden's collapse, someone in media would care about doing the right thing.

As far as this being a lot of work... That's crazy. it would be the easiest story ever to tell. You know every word that I've stated is true because the bar is trying to find a way to discipline me and simply can't. Ayers bar complaint against me is still outstanding. They can't name a single false statement I've made. At least a dozen lawyers have been working against me, and they're all losing because the truth has remained readily apparent for almost 2 years now.

So all the info is gathered, I've called out and documented the corruption. I've requested the recs from desantis. I just have to find time to file the lawsuit. Which I will do after I get this federal complaint filed. But I really need someone to tell the story.

I really think it can be the easiest story ever for someone to tell and really make a big difference. it highlights multiple layers and relationships of outright corruption.

If you think of someone that might tell it, let me know please.

Again nothing personal, but the corrupt parties involved are benefiting from media's silence. That's the whole point of silencing the story. It's another layer of corruption, and I have to put out that out there.

On Tuesday, May 26, 2026 at 04:21:44 PM EDT, Wallman, Brittany <bwallman@miamiherald.com> wrote:

have you tried the newspaper who actually covers that area? it would only fall under our domain if we did a big statewide project. which is why it won't happen soon - we are already assigned projects and working on them. looking at the Bar is something we have to spend a lot of time gathering data etc. As i told you before we are working on that Last year we spent a year on Brightline train (pulitzer finalist) that we had started the records requesting the YEAR PRIOR

that's how the investigation teams work

legal reporters or judicial reporters or courthouse reporters are more likely to cover single cases

On Tue, May 26, 2026 at 3:08 PM [REDACTED] <[REDACTED]> wrote:

It's happened too many times and it's too insane of a story. You have SB 1652 WHICH IS unprecedented in all of english common law. No other state has this. enacted right as these events are taking place - it's a mechanism for judges to bury facts that conflict with their rulings from public record. Unilaterally.

It was adopted almost unanimously in the house and senate in 2025. 135-0 in house...

Exact text the S Ct asked for.

Justification - "vexatious litigants" Not much behind it. just a committee they appointed.

Law where the judge can bury public record applies to EVERY CIVIL LITIGANT. not just those labeled "vexatious"

SO they can fix any case.

And they're doing it. My case calls them out every step of the way. There's video they're hiding,,, of active corruption and bias,

And the bar's not providing oversight and hiding evidence, paying an international law firm to essentially help them hide evidence. .

AG Uhtmeier is defending the corrupt court!!

Both sides of the aisle are too corrupt.

The first amendment foundation - ahhhhh.... I see. That's who's pushing you off. It's all going to be part of a bigger story.

It relates to Desanti's judicial heavyweights that he's hidden. it's corruption of an entire judicial system.

AND YOU WANT ME TO BELIEVE YOU'RE JUST TOO BUSY WITH OTHER STORIES??
THAT'S A JOKE.

I'd think that people would start to realize that this is not a joke.

On Tuesday, May 26, 2026 at 02:59:57 PM EDT, Wallman, Brittany <bwallman@miamiherald.com> wrote:

You might not have noticed because it's not your industry, but there are a teensy tiny fraction of reporters left, compared to what existed 10 to 15 to 20 years ago in this region, this state and this country.

Therefore, a tiny number of us are fielding every news tip in the entire region of millions.

We are DOING THE BEST WE CAN.

On Tue, May 26, 2026 at 2:55 PM [REDACTED] <[REDACTED]> wrote:

Thats crazy. Is there any journalist that is actually interested in reporting the truth. How is it this controlled? Its terrifying. Im still pretty lost and not looking to make enemies. But I do think calling yall out for being scared is part of what I have to do. If u change your mind lmk. Nothing personal.

On Tuesday, May 26, 2026, 12:01 PM, Wallman, Brittany <bwallman@miamiherald.com> wrote:

hi

i'm working on other projects right now - but saving this for when we can get at it next year probably

On Fri, May 22, 2026 at 1:25 PM [REDACTED] <[REDACTED]> wrote:

Hello - any luck on getting more info from the bar? Are you all still following the story? I'm not sure if you understand the extent of what's going on in the 13th Circuit, 6th Circuit, First Amendment Foundation, and UF, but it's the most unbelievable stuff I've seen yet. You have situations where the First Amendment groups are propping up corrupt govt officials, supporting their first amendment violations. It's SPLC on steroids. I'm confident someone will eventually tell the story still. The ground work is nearly done.

Have you found anything I've stated that's untrue so far?? Please update me with your position either way. Thanks.

Chris

On Monday, May 11, 2026 at 05:31:05 PM EDT, Wallman, Brittany <bwallman@miamiherald.com> wrote:

hi - we're interested in the Bar activity/non activity but more likely to spend time on a lawyer case in our region. and actually we still are trying to get more of their data and that's gonna take some time.

On Mon, May 11, 2026 at 10:05 AM [REDACTED] <[REDACTED]> wrote:

Hi Brittany. You noticed the Florida bar appeal! Please let me know if you're interested in telling the story. I'll stop posting about it if so. There's a ton of other stuff active around it but you can tell as much or as little of that as you want. The FL bar gets way crazier with judge Ayers still pending bar complaint against me! It's demonstrably baseless and everyone knows it! Pls lmk either way.

Sent from Yahoo Mail for iPhone

On Thursday, January 15, 2026, 4:42 PM, Wallman, Brittany <bwallman@miamiherald.com> wrote:

no conspiracy here. I'm interested in Florida Bar currently, which is why I asked for more information. This case is complicated and Tampa-based, so I can't invest the time it would take. I still would keep an eye on it - feel free to send things over. My timeline as an investigative journalist is pretty long.

On Thu, Jan 15, 2026 at 4:33 PM [REDACTED] <[REDACTED]> wrote:

Yeah- that just doesn't fit though. You knew it was a Tampa story before you reached out for more info. It involves the JQC and the Florida bar both statewide agencies. It just adds to what I don't understand. Why didn't Tony marrero from TBT offer an explanation for the sudden disinterest? and why tell me "out of the coverage area" as the reason when you were aware of that originally and it obviously has statewide implications? I really wish I knew, but I'm still confident I'll figure it out.

On Thursday, January 15, 2026 at 04:16:37 PM EST, Wallman, Brittany
<bwallman@miamiherald.com> wrote:

Hi there. It's out of the coverage area for us. We do some statewide coverage but this is more of a story for a Tampa area news outlet, I think.

On Thu, Jan 15, 2026 at 4:05 PM [REDACTED] <[REDACTED]>
wrote:

Hi Brittany. Did you have a chance to look at this? Any gaps I can address for you?

When you have a second, pls let me know if you want to hear more or if you can recommend any reporters who might tell the story. Or if it's just not going to get told, any insight into why that is would be appreciated.
Thanks

Chris

On Wednesday, January 14, 2026 at 06:22:41 AM EST, [REDACTED]
<[REDACTED]> wrote:

Good morning! Thanks for reaching out. Here's a link to a very long fact intensive summary: <https://x.com/truthoverchaos/status/1992245722901577796?s=46>

Some really interesting stuff has happened since then. Judge Ayers filed the first ever bar complaint against me. She cited a rule against lawyers making false statements and attached then article. But the complaint fails to allege that any statement I made is false. I responded to bar with the defense that every statement in there is true, requesting clarification from Ayers regarding a single statement she believes untrue. The bar nor Ayers responded and it's been about a month.

DeSantis has done a 180 on govt and judicial transparency from his time in us house to fl governor. Exec branch thru the fl attorney generals office is now defending the corrupt 13th circuit in the public records case I have against them.

This has dragged on so long with so many working to cover it up, it's hard to know where to start and what you might find interesting. I prob include too many details. If you have a minute to talk, I'd appreciate any investigation or writing you are willing to do. Thanks

Chris hanson

[REDACTED]

Sent from Yahoo Mail for iPhone

On Tuesday, January 13, 2026, 4:46 PM, Wallman, Brittany
<bwallman@miamiherald.com> wrote:

Hi, Chris. Can you link the summary you mention so I can review it?

----- Forwarded message -----

From: 'MiamiHerald.com' via MIA Tips <tips@miamiherald.com>

Date: Wed, Dec 3, 2025 at 9:36 AM

Subject: [MIA-tips] Miami Herald - Submit a News Tip [#17726]

To: <tips@miamiherald.com>

Name	Chris Hanson
------	--------------

Email	[REDACTED]
-------	------------

Phone Number	[REDACTED]
--------------	------------

Zip Code	[REDACTED]
----------	------------

Comments *

Hello - I have a story about severe Judicial Corruption in Tampa, 13th Circuit Court, the Florida Bar, the JQC, and even some local politicians that are at least complicit with the corruption. The Tampa Bay Times was interested in doing the story until the corruption started to expand out of the initial Judge guilty of misconduct. Here's a link to an extremely comprehensive story. This is a problem of great public importance. I'd appreciate a phone call to better explain as the linked summary is very lengthy and there's even more to it. I can explain much better on the phone. Please call [REDACTED]. The Miami Herald will really be able to set itself apart from TBT, if you all are brave enough to tell the story.

--

You received this message because you are subscribed to the Google Groups "MIA Tips" group.

To unsubscribe from this group and stop receiving emails from it, send an email to [REDACTED]@miamiherald.com.

To view this discussion visit

[https://\[REDACTED\]/a/miamiherald.com/d/msgid/tips/DD.85.05694.0EA40396%40i-0f0ff0290ba81fe7e.mta2vrest.sd.pr.d.sparkpost](https://[REDACTED]/a/miamiherald.com/d/msgid/tips/DD.85.05694.0EA40396%40i-0f0ff0290ba81fe7e.mta2vrest.sd.pr.d.sparkpost).

--

Brittany Wallman
Miami Herald
[REDACTED] (cell)

--

Brittany Wallman
Miami Herald
[REDACTED] (cell)

--

Brittany Wallman
Miami Herald
[REDACTED] (cell)

--

Brittany Wallman
Miami Herald
[REDACTED] (cell)

--

Brittany Wallman
Miami Herald
[REDACTED] (cell)

--

Brittany Wallman

Miami Herald

[REDACTED] (cell)

--

Brittany Wallman

Miami Herald

[REDACTED] (cell)
