Re: Scott Paul Davis; The Florida Bar File No. 25-6861

Dear Mr. Hanson:

The Florida Bar takes seriously complaints against its members for allegedly violating The Rules Regulating the Florida Bar, adopted by the Florida Supreme Court. Extensive rules, procedures, and policies exist to ensure that bar complaints are fully aired, investigated, and reviewed at multiple levels, depending upon their substance and support. Those procedures are designed to assure substantive accuracy and procedural fairness for both complainant and respondent attorney.

The review of your allegations against Mr. Davis included investigation by a Senior Staff Attorney, review of the closure by the undersigned as Director of Intake, and a review by the Chair of Grievance Committee 13A. Enclosed please find correspondence from the chair's decision concurring with the closure of the file.

While your disagreement with the outcome of the Bar's investigation is duly noted, there is no further review afforded to closed files and no right to appeal. (See Rule 3-7.3(d) and (g); Rule 3-7.4(i), Rules of Discipline; Cole v. Owens, 766 So.2d 287 (Fla. 4th DCA 2000). Further correspondence from you regarding this matter will be placed in the file without response.

Sincerely,

Shanell M. Schuyler
Director of Intake
