Case Number: 24-DR-001150

Division: D

WIFE'S AMENDED PETITION FOR DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE WITH MINOR CHILDREN AND FOR OTHER RELATED RELIEF

Petitioner, Sarah Hanson, by and through the undersigned attorney, files this Amended Petition for Dissolution of Marriage with Minor Children and for Other Related Relief (the "Amended Petition"). As grounds therefore, Petitioner states the following:

1. Action. This is an action for dissolution of marriage with minor children and for other related relief.
2. Parties. The parties to this action are Petitioner, Sarah Hanson ("Wife") and Respondent, Christopher Hanson ("Husband"), collectively, (the "Parties").
3. Jurisdiction. The Parties were continuous residents of the State of Florida for more than six (6) months immediately preceding the filing of Wife's initial Joint Petition for Dissolution of Marriage with Dependent/Minor Children ("Wife's initial Petition") [DIN 5] on January 26, 2024. The Court entered an Initial Jurisdictional May 9, 2024 [DIN 23].
4. Venue. Venue is proper in the Thirteenth Judicial Circuit because the Parties last resided together as Husband and Wife in Hillsborough County.
5. Motion for Leave to Amend Not Required. It is not necessary for Wife to file a motion requesting leave to amend her pleadings because Husband did not file an answer to Wife's initial Petition.

6. Marital Statistic. The Parties were married on October 28, 2016, at Newport, Tennessee.
7. Marriage Irretrievably Broken. The marriage of the Parties is irretrievably broken, and the bonds of marriage should be dissolved, a vinculo.
8. Military Service. Both Parties are over the age of 18, and neither Party is an active member of the Armed Forces of the United States ("U.S. Armed Forces"), nor were they active members of the U.S. Armed Forces within a period of 30 days immediately preceding the date of filing of Wife's initial Petition.
9. Minor Children. There were two (2) minor children born to the Parties during the marriage, to wit: H.G.H., a female, born October 2017, at Tampa, Florida; and H.G.H., a female, born July 2019, at Tampa, Florida (the "Children"). No other children were born to or adopted by the Parties, the Parties are not parties to a pending adoption proceeding, and Wife is not pregnant.
10. UCCJEA Affidavit. Florida was the home state of the Children as of the date of filing of Wife's initial Joint Petition for Dissolution of Marriage with Dependent/Minor Children. Wife will file a Uniform Child Custody Jurisdiction and Enforcement Act (UCCJEA) Affidavit.
11. Premarital Agreement. On or about October 25, 2016, the Parties executed a Premarital Agreement. A true and accurate copy of the Premarital Agreement is attached hereto as "Exhibit A".
12. Marital Separation Agreement. On October 8, 2023, the Parties executed a Marital Separation Agreement. A true and accurate copy of the Marital Separation Agreement is attached hereto as "Exhibit B".

13. Parental Responsibility. It is in the best interests of the Children for the Parties to have shared parental responsibility of the Children with Wife having ultimate decision-making authority regarding education, healthcare, childcare, extracurricular activities, and other matters which are unique to this family.
14. Time-Sharing. Wife acknowledges that section 61.13(2)(c)(1) creates a rebuttable presumption that equal time-sharing of minor children is in the best interests of the minor children. However, based on the facts and circumstances that are unique to this family, equal time-sharing is not in the best interests of the Children. Furthermore, the provision set forth in the Marital Separation Agreement that stating "[t]he Parties agree to joint custody of the Children with 50/50 custody to be shared between Husband and Wife as agreed to by the Parties" is not in the best interests of the Children. It is in the best interests of the Children for the Court to establish a Parenting Plan awarding Wife majority time-sharing with the Children on a temporary and permanent basis.
15. Parenting Plan. In establishing the Parenting Plan, the Court should adjudicate, on a temporary and permanent basis, describing in adequate detail, how the Parties will share and be responsible for the daily tasks as associated with the upbringing of the Children; the time-sharing schedule arrangements specifying the time that the Children will spend with each of the Parties; a designation of who will be responsible for any and all forms of health care, school-related matters, other activities; the methods and technologies that the Parties will use to communicate with the Children; provisions relating to the right of first refusal; and provisions for domestic travel, international travel, and the acquisition, maintenance, and renewal of United States Passports for the Children.
16. Legal and School Designation. It is in the best interests of the Children for the Court to designate Wife's address as the Children's address for school (in the event that the Children attend public school) and legal purposes on a temporary and permanent basis.

17. Child Support. Both Parties can contribute to the support of the Children in accordance with the Florida Child Support Guidelines, section 61.30, Florida Statutes. The Court should calculate the Parties respective child support contributions, including contributions for the Children's insured and uninsured medical, dental, pharmaceutical, orthodontic, ocular, psychiatric, psychological, and related expenses and contributions to the Children's childcare expenses, summer camps, and extracurricular activities, as applicable.
18. Imputation of Income to Husband for Calculation of Child Support. Wife respectfully asserts that Husband is voluntarily unemployed. Husband is an attorney licensed to practice law in the State of Florida. For purposes of determining the Parties' respective obligations to contribute to the support of the Children as requested herein, the Court should find that Husband is voluntarily unemployed and impute an appropriate income to Husband, considering the employment potential and probable earnings level of Husband as determined based upon his employment history, education, professional licensure, other occupational qualifications, transferrable skills, and the prevailing earnings level in the community.
19. Payment of Child Support Via IWO and Through SDU. It is in the best interests of the Children that any child support ordered by the Court is paid via an Income Withholding Order and payable through the State Disbursement Unit pursuant to section 61.1301, Florida Statutes.
20. Health Insurance for the Children. Wife presently provides health and dental insurance for the Children and the Parties equally share the premiums. Wife should be required to continue to maintain health and dental insurance for the Children, so long as such insurance is reasonably available to her through her employment or through other reasonable and affordable means. The costs relating to the Children's health, dental, and ocular insurance should be equally divided between the Parties in accordance with the Marital Separation Agreement.

21. Children's Uncovered Health Care Expenses. The Parties should equally contribute to the Children's uncovered medical, dental, orthodontia, and ocular expenses both prospectively and retroactively, in accordance with the Marital Separation Agreement.
22. Children's Other Expenses. The Parties should equally contribute to the Children's childcare expenses to include after-school activities and clubs, extended day program at school, extracurricular activity costs for enrollment, supplies, and athletic gear, and the cost of tuition and school uniforms at Cambridge Christian, both prospectively and retroactively, in accordance with the Marital Separation Agreement.
23. Life Insurance to Secure Child Support. To secure the Parties respective obligations to provide for the support of the Children, both Parties should be required to maintain a life insurance policy on their respective lives and/or a bond and/or other mechanism with the other Party designated as the irrevocable beneficiary to provide for the support of the Children in the event of said Party's untimely demise.
24. Dependency Exemption and/or Child Tax Credit. Each Party should each claim one (1) Child for dependency exemptions[1] and/or for purposes of child tax credits on their

[1] As of the time of the filing of this Amended Petition for Dissolution of Marriage and for Other Related Relief, the deduction for personal exemptions is suspended for tax years 2018 through 2025 by the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act. Although the exemption amount is zero, eligibility to claim an exemption may make a taxpayer eligible for other tax benefits. Although taxpayers can't claim a deduction for exemptions, eligibility to claim an exemption for a child remains important for determining who may claim the child tax credit, the additional child tax credit, and the credit for other dependents, as well as other tax benefits. respective federal income tax returns each year in accordance with the Marital Separation Agreement. The other Party should be required to execute Internal Revenue Service Form 8332 (Release/Revocation of Release of Claim to Exemption for Child by Custodial Parent) on an annual basis and no later than January 31st of each calendar year.

25. Division of Assets and Liabilities. The Premarital Agreement and Marital Separation Agreement govern the division of assets and liabilities between the Parties. The Court should award each Party their respective assets and liabilities according to the Premarital Agreement and Marital Separation Agreement.

26. Alimony. The Premarital Agreement and Marital Separation Agreement include a waiver of alimony. Neither Party should pay alimony to the other.

27. Attorney's Fees, Costs, and Suit Money. Wife retained DML Attorneys, P.A. and subsequently Tampa Bay Family Law & Mediation, P.A. to represent her in this action and is obligated to pay reasonable attorney's fees, costs, suit money incurred for professional services rendered. The Premarital Agreement addresses attorney's fees incurred for the enforcement of the provisions therein and states "[s]hould any party hereto retain counsel for the purpose of enforcing or preventing the breach of any provision of this Agreement, including, but not limited to, by instituting any action or proceeding to enforce any provision hereof, for damages by reason of any alleged breach of any provision hereof, for a declaration of such party's rights or obligations hereunder, or for any other judicial remedy, then the prevailing party shall be entitled to be reimbursed by the losing party for all reasonable costs and expenses incurred thereby, including, but not limited to, reasonable attorney's fees and costs for the services rendered to such prevailing party, whether at trial, in bankruptcy or reorganization proceedings, or on appeal." Accordingly, should it become necessary for Wife to engage in litigation to enforce the terms and conditions of the Premarital Agreement and Marital Separation Agreement, Husband should be required to pay for Wife's reasonable attorney's fees, costs, and suit money, irrespective of need and ability to pay. The Parties should otherwise pay their own attorney's fees, costs, and suit money incurred in connection with this action.

WHEREFORE, Wife, Sarah Hanson, respectfully requests that this Honorable Court enter a Final Judgment of Dissolution of Marriage awarding Wife the following relief:

A. Continue to exercise jurisdiction over the subject matter and the Parties;

B. Grant the relief requested herein and dissolve the marriage of the Parties, a vinculo;

C. Award the Parties shared parental responsibility of the Children with Wife having ultimate decision-making authority regarding education, healthcare, childcare, extracurricular activities, and other matters which are unique to this family;

D. Enter a Parenting Plan awarding Wife majority time-sharing with the Children on a temporary and permanent basis;

E. Order the Parties to contribute to the support of the Children, equal contributions to the Children's insured and uninsured medical, dental, pharmaceutical, orthodontic, ocular, psychiatric, psychological and like expenses, after-school activities and clubs, extended day program at school, extracurricular activity costs for enrollment, supplies, and athletic gear, and the cost of tuition and school uniforms at [redacted] both prospectively and retroactively, in accordance with the Marital Separation Agreement;

F. For purposes of determining child support, find that Husband is voluntarily unemployed and impute an appropriate income to Husband, considering the employment potential and probable earnings level of Husband as determined based upon his employment history, education, professional licensure, other occupational qualifications, transferrable skills, and the prevailing earnings level in the community;

G. Order both Parties to maintain a life insurance policy on their respective lives and/or a bond and/or other mechanism with the other Party designated as the irrevocable beneficiary to insure their respective child support obligations and provide for the support of the Children in the event of the other Party's untimely demise;

H. Order that any child support payments ordered be paid via an Income Withholding Order and through the State Disbursement Unit pursuant to section 61.1301, Florida Statutes;

I. Order that neither Party pay alimony to the other Party in accordance with the Premarital Agreement and Marital Separation Agreement;

J. Divide the Parties' assets and liabilities in accordance with the Premarital Agreement and Marital Separation Agreement;

K. To the extent that it is necessary for Wife to engage in litigation to enforce the terms and conditions of the Premarital Agreement and Marital Separation Agreement, Order Husband to pay Wife's reasonable attorney's fees, costs, and suit money, irrespective of need and ability to pay. Otherwise, order that each Party pay their own attorney's fees, costs, and suit money incurred in connection with this action;

L. Award Wife any other relief requested herein; and

PREMARITAL AGREEMENT

THIS PREMARITAL AGREEMENT (herein after "Agreement") is between Christopher Hanson and Sarah Sorgie, each of whom reside in Tampa, Florida.

RECITALS

This agreement is made with reference to the following facts, which each party acknowledges to be true:

A. The parties contemplate marriage to one another in the near future.

B. The parties desire to define their financial and property rights and responsibilities, insofar as these can be seen, with the objective of this Agreement governing the disposition of the parties' financial and property rights should the marriage of the parties be dissolved in the future. Except as expressly described in this Agreement, each party intends for his or her respective assets to benefit his or her respective children, heirs, or other designated beneficiaries, free of any right, interest, or claim of the other party, or of a spouse.

C. Each party owns separate assets. A simple financial statement of each party has been attached to this Agreement. While neither party represents that his or her financial statement, as attached, presents a precise delineation of his or her assets and liabilities, each acknowledges that it constitutes a full and frank disclosure in general and approximate terms.

D. Each party acknowledges that his or her financial statement has been prepared without the benefit of professional appraisals and without the assistance of accountants; consequently, the values reflected in each statement represent the owner's personal, good faith estimate of value, which each party has presented in a manner which seems logical to the drafter. However, each party represents to the other that he or she has fully disclosed to the other his or her financial position by the representations contained in the attached financial statements, subject only to the caveat that the attached statements were prepared informally and without professional assistance.

E. Each party acknowledges that he or she has substantial information concerning the financial position of the other party, and the financial opportunities available to the other party, by virtue of the fact that they have dated each other for an extended period of time and have discussed these matters in detail in the context of their anticipated marriage to each other and the execution of this Agreement.

F. Each party acknowledges that he or she has had a full and fair opportunity to learn the current assets, income, financial opportunities, and financial position of the other. All questions concerning such matters which he or she has asked the other party have been answered to his or her satisfaction.

G. Each party is satisfied with the information and disclosures which he or she has received from the other party, or otherwise possesses, and each feels prepared to execute this Agreement knowingly, intelligently, and voluntarily, as a product of his or her free will. Each party hereby waives the necessity of further financial disclosure from the other party, acknowledging that additional disclosure is unnecessary to the decisions set forth in this Agreement.

H. Each party acknowledges that he or she has given careful thought to the making of this Agreement. Each party acknowledges that he or she has had sufficient time to make an informed decision in this regard, having begun this process well before the date of this document's execution.

I. Each party acknowledges that he or she independently desires to execute a premarital agreement for his or her own personal reasons, which include defining their financial and property rights and responsibilities should the marriage be dissolved.

REAL PROPERTY AND HOME FURNISHINGS

In consideration of the mutual promises contained herein and their forthcoming marriage to each other, Christopher Hanson and Sarah Sorgie agree as follows:

Mr. Hanson currently maintains his home in a residence located at 3934 E. Eden Rock Circle, Tampa, FL 33634. The residence is deeded solely to Christopher Hanson as a single man. The home secures, and is encumbered by, a mortgage, of which Mr. Hanson is the sole obligor. Mr. Hanson purchased the home within the past year and made a ninety-thousand dollar ($90,000.00) down payment on the home at the time of the purchase.

If the parties do make the home their marital residence, it is expected that payments on the mortgage will be made from marital funds. Should either party file a petition for dissolution of the parties' marriage (or similar proceeding) within thirty (30) days of the date of the filing of said petition for dissolution of marriage, Sarah Sorgie shall provide to Christopher Hanson a list of four (4) names of qualified and licensed residential property appraisers. Mr. Hanson, at his expense, shall have the marital home appraised by one of the aforementioned residential property appraisers. Upon completion of the appraisal Mr. Hanson, at his sole discretion, may elect to pay to Sarah Sorgie one half of the appraised value of the marital home less $90,000.00. In consideration of said payment, Sarah Sorgie shall at that time, waive any right, interest, or claim to the marital home, notwithstanding the use of the property as a marital homestead, Sarah Sorgie's investment of funds in the property, or her provision of services in connection with such property, or either party's investment of funds or provision of services to the property, even if such funds or services enhance the value of the property. Upon said payment, Mr. Hanson shall retain the marital home free of any and all rights, interests, or claims of Sarah Sorgie. The payment shall be made prior to the entry of any final judgment of dissolution of marriage.

Sarah Sorgie's waiver provided for herein shall include, without limitation, the right to claim a life estate under Florida homestead law, and the right to seek continued use or possession of the marital residence. The waiver provided for herein shall also include, but is not limited to, the right to share in the increased or enhanced value of the marital residence, even if such increased or enhanced value accrued during the parties' marriage, or resulted from either party's investment of funds or use of personal efforts, skills, or services in connection with the property during their marriage, or from the parties' mutual investment of funds or mutual commitment of personal efforts, skills, or services in connection with the marital residence.

Each party owns certain furnishings, decorative effects, and personal items which may accompany them to the residence which they establish after their marriage. Such furnishings, decorative effects, and personal items always shall remain the separate, exclusive, non-marital property of the original owner, free of any and all rights, interests, or claims of the other party, notwithstanding the combination of such furnishings, decorative effects, and personal items in a mutual marital home, or the commitment of such property to use by the parties mutually or by either party, individually, after their marriage.

The parties anticipate purchasing with marital funds certain furnishings, decorative effects, electronic equipment, and other personal items for the marital home after their marriage. All such property shall be considered marital assets as that term is defined in Chapter 61 of the Florida Statutes and subject to equitable distribution as provided for in said Chapter.

ASSETS AND LIABILITIES

Each of the parties agrees that the assets and liabilities described hereafter shall remain the separate property of the party who originally owned them, free of any and all right, claim, or interest of the other party:

A. All property, whether real or personal, belonging to the party at the commencement of the parties' marriage to each other;

B. All property acquired by a party out of the proceeds or income from property owned at the commencement of the parties' marriage, or attributable to appreciation in value of said property, whether the enhancement in value is due to market conditions or to the services, skills, financial investments, or efforts of either or both of the parties, or to a combination of factors;

C. All property hereafter acquired by a party by gift, devise, bequest, or inheritance from any source, or income from said property, or attributable to appreciation in value of said property, whether the enhancement in value is due to market conditions or to the services, skills, efforts, or financial investments of either or both of the parties, or to a combination of factors;

D. All gifts of personal property made by either party to the other prior to or during their marriage shall become and always remain the separate property of the recipient;

E. All property purchased or acquired from the earnings, financial entitlements, or income of a spouse during the marriage shall become a marital asset as that term is defined in Chapter 61 of the Florida Statutes and subject to equitable distribution as provided for in said Chapter; and

F. All debts owed by either party individually at the inception of their marriage shall remain the separate liabilities of the original individual obligor.

G. All liabilities entered into during the marriage shall become a marital liability as that term is defined in Chapter 61 of the Florida Statutes and subject to equitable distribution as provided for in said Chapter.

EARNINGS, INCOME, AND FINANCIAL ENTITLEMENTS

The parties mutually agree that all of the earnings, income, and financial entitlements resulting from a party's personal services, skill, effort, work, investments, retirement, or disability prior to their marriage, together with all property acquired or income derived therefrom, shall be and remain the separate property of the party to whom the earnings, income, retirement pay, or financial entitlements are attributable.

DISPOSITION OF PROPERTY TO SPOUSE

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, either party may, by appropriate valid written instrument only, transfer, convey, devise, or bequeath any property to the other, or nominate the other as personal representative of his or her estate. Either party may make gifts of assets or items to the other, which shall constitute the sole, exclusive separate property of the recipient. Neither party intends by this Agreement to limit or restrict in any way the right to receive any such transfer, conveyance, gift, devise, or bequest from the other, or to act as such personal representative if so nominated.

JOINTLY OWNED ASSETS

During their marriage, the parties may acquire and own property jointly with the other party, as reflected in the title of the joint asset, or the written instrument which created their mutual ownership. To the extent that such jointly owned property may exist, the parties intend for it to be resolved as follows: Jointly owned assets shall pass by operation of law to the survivor upon the death of the first joint tenant, to be owned, controlled, and enjoyed by the survivor as his or her sole separate property, as the survivor sees fit. In this regard, the parties understand that jointly owned assets are not estate assets, which otherwise would be governed by the estate planning of the first spouse to die. Should the parties' marriage end in dissolution or annulment, then they intend for jointly owned assets to be partitioned equally between them in such proceedings, irrespective of the original source of funding for such joint assets, and irrespective of claims of special equity, or of the right to seek a disproportionate equitable distribution, or of any other claim or assertion which otherwise might increase a joint owner's equal share, all of which they hereby waive and relinquish. Notwithstanding the foregoing, however, an owner who pays ownership expenses on behalf of the other co-owner after a legal proceeding has been filed by one party against the other shall be entitled to reimbursement of the ownership expenses which he or she has advanced on the other owner's behalf. Such reimbursement shall be paid promptly upon the request of the party who advanced payment, but in no event later than the division of proceeds in the context of a closing of the sale of such property, including a court-ordered partition of such property.

SPOUSAL RIGHTS IN DISSOLUTION PROCEEDINGS

This Agreement shall be construed as a Marital Settlement Agreement in the event that proceedings are filed to dissolve or annul the parties' marriage, or to establish support obligations related to it, and it shall not be subject to modification by the Court thereafter regardless of any change in circumstances of either or both parties which may occur after its execution. Except as provided herein, each party releases all claims or demands that either of them may acquire because of the marriage against the other for property of the other (including the separate property of the other and the other's share of joint or marital property), whether by way of equitable distribution, lump sum alimony to effect equitable distribution, special equity by reason of special contribution of money, property, or services, or otherwise, for spousal support, and for attorney's fees, costs, and suit money, both on a temporary and ongoing basis. This paragraph shall include all rights now existing or which hereafter may be conferred on either party by statute, decisional law, or otherwise. Nothing in this paragraph, however, shall preclude a court of competent jurisdiction from partitioning the joint property of the parties in an action for dissolution of marriage or annulment of the parties' marriage, or in a separate action for partition. In the event of dissolution or annulment of the marriage of the parties, this Agreement shall be enforced by the court and incorporated into any final judgment rendered by the court, provided that, despite incorporation, the Agreement shall not merge into the final judgment but shall survive the judgment and also be binding according to its terms.

ALIMONY

Each party hereby releases the other from any and all claims or demands that he or she may acquire because of the marriage against the other for alimony or spousal support in any form, including, without limitation, temporary, rehabilitative, durational, bridge-the-gap, lump sum, and permanent alimony, support, and separate maintenance (both periodic and lump sum in nature), whether unconnected or connected with dissolution or annulment of marriage, and for attorney's fees, costs, and suit money incurred in connection with a dissolution or annulment of the parties' marriage pursuant to the terms of this Agreement. Nothing in this paragraph shall preclude an award of attorney's fees, costs, and suit money to a prevailing party who successfully enforces this Agreement, as set forth herein.

DEBTS

Neither party shall assume or become responsible for the payment of any debts or obligations of the other party because of the marriage. Neither party shall do anything that would cause the debt or obligation of one of them to be a claim, demand, lien, or encumbrance against the property of the other party without the other party's written consent. If a debt or obligation of one party is asserted as a claim or demand against the property of the other without his or her written consent, then the party who is responsible for originating the debt or obligation shall indemnify the other party from the claim or demand, and hold him or her harmless, including the indemnified party's costs, expenses, and attorney's fees.

CONSIDERATION FOR AGREEMENT

The consideration for this Agreement is the contemplated marriage between the parties and the mutual promises contained herein, the sufficiency of which the parties acknowledge.

FURTHER ASSURANCE

Without any additional consideration, each party shall promptly, at the request of the other, execute, acknowledge, and deliver from time to time all additional instruments which may be required to accomplish the intent of this Agreement, including, but not limited to, title papers, deeds, or other documents usually executed by a husband and wife residing in the state of Florida which are necessary or convenient to transfer or encumber real or personal property, or to evidence the fact that the property of a married man or woman residing in Florida is the separate property of such married man or woman. separate property owned by either of the parties is or becomes characterized as homestead property under Florida law, the non-owning party shall join in any conveyance or documents of encumbrance (e.g., deed or mortgage) without additional consideration to permit the owning party to convey or encumber such property at will.

EFFETIVE DATE OF AGREEMENT

This Agreement shall not be effective until the marriage contemplated by the parties has been solemnized. In the event that the marriage is not solemnized within one year from the date the last party to execute this Agreement does so, then this Agreement shall be null, void, and of no legal force and effect whatsoever.

TRANSMUTATION, MODIFICATION, OR REVOCATION

Except as otherwise provided herein, property or interests now owned or hereafter acquired by either party, which by the terms of this Agreement are classified as the separate property of one of the parties, can only become the separate property of the other party, or the parties' joint or marital property, by a valid written instrument which has been executed by the party whose separate property is being transferred or reclassified. Except as otherwise provided herein, the parties acknowledge that contributions of money, property, or services by one or both parties toward the separate property of the other, or toward property held by them jointly, shall not result in the creation of a special equity, enhanced interest, or other claim for a share of separate property or for a disproportionately greater share of jointly owned property.

The parties do not intend for this Agreement to be challenged or nullified by virtue of a party's conduct which may be viewed as being inconsistent with its terms (unless such conduct results in execution of a valid written instrument which conveys title or creates an interest in previously separate property, as described and authorized in this Agreement). They do not intend for the validity or operative effect of this Agreement to be challenged or successfully attacked through contractual defenses, which they hereby waive, or through claims or arguments that one or both parties failed to comply with this Agreement in some respect, or revoked this Agreement verbally or through conduct, including destruction of the document, or failed to furnish consideration, or that he or she has breached this Agreement by failing to perform its terms in whole or in part, so as to relieve the other party of its operative effect. Consequently, to the extent that one or both parties engage in personal or financial transactions which are, or could be viewed as being, inconsistent with the terms of this Agreement, then such conduct shall not result in revocation, rescission, alteration, revision, modification, or amendment of this Agreement in any manner, or provide grounds to avoid specific performance of its terms. Conversely, such transactions shall not, either individually or by cumulative effect, alter, affect, revoke, invalidate, or excuse specific performance of this Agreement, which shall remain valid and binding for all time unless modified or revoked in writing, as described below.

Modification, amendment, or revocation of this Agreement shall occur solely through a valid written instrument which specifically modifies, amends, or revokes it, which is executed in the presence of a notary and two subscribing witnesses.

BENEFIT AND BURDEN

This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective heirs, administrators, personal representatives, successors, and assigns. No other person shall have a right or cause of action arising or resulting from this Agreement.

INTEGRATION

This Agreement sets forth the entire understanding and agreement between the parties with regard to the subject matter hereof. All agreements, covenants, representations, and warranties, express and implied, oral and written, of the parties with regard to the subject matter hereof are contained herein. No other agreements, covenants, representations, or warranties, express or implied, oral or written, exist or have been made by either party to the other with respect to the subject matter of this Agreement. All prior and contemporaneous conversations, negotiations, possible and alleged agreements, and representations, covenants, and warranties with respect to the subject matter hereof are waived, merged herein, and expressly superseded by this document. This is an integrated Agreement, which shall not be altered by parole evidence.

GOVERNING LAW AND VENUE

This Agreement has been drafted in Tampa, Florida, and shall be governed by, construed, and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Florida, as applied to contracts made in Florida by Florida domiciliaries to be wholly performed in Florida. Venue of any legal proceeding brought on or in connection with this Agreement, including, without limitation, a proceeding to dissolve or annul the parties' marriage, shall lie exclusively in Hillsborough County, Florida.

COSTS AND EXPENSES

Each party shall bear his or her respective costs and expenses incurred in connection with this Agreement, including without limitation, the negotiation, preparation, and consummation thereof.

INDEPENDENT COUNSEL AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Prior to signing this Agreement, each party consulted with an attorney of his or her choice, or had a full and adequate opportunity to secure desired legal consultation. Each party acknowledges to the other that he or she has a complete understanding of this Agreement and the rights and obligations that each would have to the other if this Agreement were not made. Each party acknowledges that but for this Agreement, the rights which each would be entitled to as a spouse or which each could assert against the other would be greater than as provided in this Agreement. Each party acknowledges that the provisions of this Agreement are fair and reasonable as to each. Each party acknowledges that he or she is signing the same freely and voluntarily and that neither party has any reason to believe that the other party did not understand fully the terms and effects of this Agreement or that he or she did not freely and voluntarily execute this Agreement.

SEVERABILITY

In the event any of the provisions of this Agreement are deemed to be invalid or unenforceable, the same shall be deemed severable from the remainder of this Agreement and shall not cause the invalidity or unenforceability of the remainder of this Agreement. If such provision shall be deemed invalid due to its scope, such provision shall be deemed valid to the extent of the scope or breadth permitted by law.

CAPTIONS

Paragraph titles or captions contained herein are inserted as a matter of convenience and for reference and do not define, limit, expand, or describe the scope of this Agreement or any provision hereof.

INTERPRETATION

No provision in this Agreement is to be interpreted for or against a party because that party or that party's legal representative drafted the provision.

FUTURE ATTORNEY'S FEES

Should any party hereto retain counsel for the purpose of enforcing or preventing the breach of any provision of this Agreement, including, but not limited to, by instituting any action or proceeding to enforce any provision hereof, for damages by reason of any alleged breach of any provision hereof, for a declaration of such party's rights or obligations hereunder, or for any other judicial remedy, then the prevailing party shall be entitled to be reimbursed by the losing party for all reasonable costs and expenses incurred thereby, including, but not limited to, reasonable attorney's fees and costs for the services rendered to such prevailing party, whether at trial, in bankruptcy or reorganization proceedings, or on appeal.

RELEASE

Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, each party releases all claims or demands in the property or estate of the other, however or whenever acquired, including acquisitions, appreciations, enhancements in the future, and for alimony in all forms, support, separate maintenance, attorney's fees, costs, and suit money.

FAILURE TO ENFORCE

The failure of a party to insist on strict performance of any provision of this Agreement is not a waiver of this Agreement, or of any provision of this Agreement, nor does it have any legal consequence or bearing on the matters of future enforcement of this Agreement.

Exhibit B

MARITAL SEPARATION AGREEMENT

This Marital Separation Agreement is to be effective as of the date of signature of both spouses and is made in the spirit of cooperation between Christopher Hanson (Husband) and Sarah Hanson (Wife).

In exchange for Wife relinquishing any and all claims/rights she may have to any of husband's assets and any future rights to support (outside of sharing in children's expenses discussed separately below) including but not limited to the following: real estate/real property including but not limited to the property of 3934 E Eden Roc Cir., Tampa, FL 33634 (including but not limited to any proceeds from sale or other transaction), any and all property and/or property rights within and/or outside the City of Tampa, any claims to any past, present, and/or future inheritance(s), any and all investment property, any vehicles, any claims of alimony, and/or spousal support, Husband agrees to a one-time payment of $100,000.00 to Wife's Chase Banking Account. Funds are to be transferred to: the account of Sarah Sorgie, account number 0971391702, routing number 267084131 or made payable by way of Money Order to be deposited by Wife upon receipt. The payment/transfer is to occur within one week of the signed agreement.

This one-time payment of $100,000 shall forever resolve Husband's financial responsibilities and obligations to wife for any financial duties or responsibilities he may otherwise owe or may have owed under the law including but not limited to past, present and/or future support (outside of the child expense agreement referenced below) and/or alimony, any right Wife may have and/or have had to any marital funds and property of any kind (other than items purchased specifically by the wife). By accepting payment of the $100,000, Wife understands and agrees that the Husband is not waiving any protections offered by the Pre-Nuptial agreement. Wife further agrees in exchange for the $100,000 consideration, not to challenge any protections the Pre-Nuptial agreement may offer Husband and agrees not to seek any additional money, investments, or property of any kind from Husband (outside of the child expense agreement referenced below). By accepting the $100,000 payment referenced above, Wife specifically understands that she waives any rights to the property and support described herein that she otherwise had, has, or may have at the time of formal divorce should that occur. In the event the Husband and Wife formally divorce in the future, child support will continue per the agreement herein, while this agreement specifically confirms that there will be no further obligation for Husband to offer any further payment or support to Wife.

The parties agree as part of the separation that Husband/Wife is absolved of his/her spouse's liabilities, financial responsibilities, and obligations and holds no past, present, or future financial responsibilities and obligations to his/her spouse for any financial duties or responsibilities he/she may otherwise owe or may have owed under the law including but not limited to past, present and/or future support and/or alimony, any right Husband may have and/or have had to any marital funds and property of any kind (other than items purchased specifically by the Husband Husband/Wife further agrees not to seek any money, investments, or property of any kind from his/her spouse (outside of the voluntary child support referenced below). Husband/Wife specifically understands that he/she waives any rights he/she otherwise had, has, or may have at the time of formal divorce and any other event that may otherwise have impacted past, present and/or future support and/or alimony, any right Husband/Wife may have and/or have had to any marital funds and property of any kind. In the event the Husband and Wife formally divorce in the future, child support will continue per the agreement herein, while this agreement specifically confirms that there will be no further obligation for Wife to offer any further payment or support to Husband.

Wife shall continue to reside at the premises of 3934 E Eden Roc Cir., Tampa, FL 33634 until such reasonable time for her to locate a permanent residence. During her residency at the property address, she shall continue to make payments for the internet, pool, electrical (TECO) and water/sewage expenses. Husband shall continue to remit payment of the mortgage and remaining caretaker expenses of the property. Wife shall have access to the entirety of the house; however, shall maintain her sleeping and showering in the upstairs area during this time of "nesting."

Wife agrees to promptly look for and secure a new homestead. Wife agrees to continue assisting in keeping the house in appropriate condition for showing between the monthly housekeeper visits. Wife further agrees to make the home available for any showings as needed. Husband may sell the house within the nesting period. Husband shall give wife 3 weeks' notice prior to the closing date of any sale.

Husband shall continue to be on Wife's Health Insurance in accordance with company guidelines/protocols. Husband shall contribute to the premium paid by Wife to cover his portion and half the child-care portion of the premium, totaling approximately $354.00 payable monthly and/or in one lump sum. This figure is to be adjusted at the time of renewal of the health insurance elections.

Husband agrees to not damage or remove or sell or destroy any of Wife's belongings and personal property within the home.

The parties shall file taxes as married but separate in the following years and each may claim one child as a dependent.

Wife shall have access to 3934 E Eden Roc Cir., Tampa, FL 33634, after purchase of any new property for the sole purpose of gathering her belongings, the children's belongings (that are going as per any property division agreement to be decided between the parties separately) and personal property. Any property upon which the parties cannot agree shall be addressed separately.

Husband/wife relinquishes his/her spouse's claims to any property purchased by his/her spouse after the date of this signed separation agreement. It is understood between the parties that from the signing of this agreement forward, any property purchased by Wife for use by Wife and the children will belong solely to Wife and any property purchased by Husband for use by Husband and the children will belong solely to Husband. It does not become marital property. It is the intent of Husband and Wife to divest any and all marital property pursuant to the terms outlined above with the only exceptions being the children's property which remains to be divided/determined. Husband and Wife also specifically intend and agree that the above eliminates any obligation for spousal support and/or alimony from his/her spouse.

The parties agree to joint custody of the children with 50/50 custody to be shared between Husband and Wife as agreed to by the parties. The parties agree to 50/50 payment of childcare expenses to include after-school activities/clubs, extended day program at school, extra-curricular activities costs for enrollment and supplies/athletic gear, and the cost of tuition and school uniforms at [redacted]

The expenses payable by the Husband to include the premium payment and monthly childcare expenses are to be paid within 30 days from the date of notice of the expense payable.

BeoWoof Hanson shall belong to Husband who shall remain responsible for any and all financial obligations and liabilities of BeoWoof. BeoWoof Hanson's primary residence shall be with Husband; however, at Husband's discretion with Wife's permission BeoWoof may stay with Wife and children as permitted.

In the event of breach by either party of this agreement involving financials, the breaching party shall remit payment of a financial stipend representative of the amount of the breach as determined by a Court of competent jurisdiction with interest at the rate established under s.55.03 payable within 10 days of the breach. The prevailing party is entitled to payment of taxable costs in relation to any litigation related to enforcement of the contract.

unless ~~the~~ Husband and Wife can agree to some other arrangement.

SIGNED THIS DAY OF 9th, October, 2023

The parties sign this on his/her own behalf with the understanding and the intention to formally separate with the duties and rights as described above.
