Basis of complaint and Violations of the Rules:

Mr. Davis's violation of The Professional Rules, as outlined in my complaint, are severe and multifaceted, undermining the very principles of justice and fairness in my legal proceedings. Mr. Davis's legal strategy in my divorce case directly contravenes many of the ethical rules critical to the profession. Specifically, he violated Rule 3.1 several times by filing motions and making claims that have no evident basis in fact or law. His motions to appoint a guardian ad litem and compel a psychological evaluation, especially without any substantive evidence of wrongdoing or necessity, are frivolous. Worse, they are pursued specifically and only for delay and to create leverage against a reasonable discovery request at the core of the dispute. These actions are clearly retaliatory and designed to pressure or burden me, wasting time and resources. Furthermore, this approach blatantly disregards Rule 3.2, which mandates lawyers to make efforts towards expediting litigation. Instead, Mr. Davis has utilized tactics that extend the legal proceedings, such as delaying document production, strategic availability for events, and filing motions that have no basis whatsoever, increasing the emotional and financial toll on all parties involved, especially our children.

Additionally, Mr. Davis's conduct raises significant concerns under Rule 3.3 regarding candor toward the tribunal. His failure to adhere to stipulated discovery deadlines and strategic production of documents suggest an intent to mislead me and the court about his compliance or intentions. This lack of transparency not only affects the integrity of the judicial process but also undermines the court's ability to administer justice effectively. Similarly, his interactions with me and my legal counsel include many false representations about discovery and his intentions, in violation of Rule 4.1, which requires truthfulness in all communications. His approach has not only delayed the case but it's deeply compromised the fairness and honesty expected in legal proceedings.

Mr. Davis's actions contravene Rule 4-4.4 by employing tactics whose primary and often sole purpose is embarrass, delay, or burden, thereby obstructing access to critical financial information at the core of the entire dispute. His strategic delays in document production, including the failure to honor stipulated deadlines and the selective, tardy disclosure of financial records, directly violate Rule 4-3.4, which demands fairness to opposing parties. By not only failing to comply with mandatory disclosures but also by filing motions without a legitimate basis, Mr. Davis appears to manipulate the legal system, effectively denying due process and access to evidence. This behavior not only delays resolution but also imposes unnecessary costs and emotional strain, highlighting a gross disrespect for the legal process and my rights as an opposing party.

Moreover, the facts I've presented reveal a pattern of misconduct under Rule 4-8.4, where Mr. Davis's actions are clearly dishonest and deceitful, particularly in how he has managed the discovery process. The refusal to comply with mandatory disclosures and properly certify the absence of any other financial interest during the relevant periods is an intentional dishonest violation of the rules and possibly the law. This not only affects the integrity of my case but also prejudicially impacts the administration of justice. The timing and nature of motions filed, such as those related to custody and psychological evaluations, are clearly retaliatory or diversionary rather than in good faith, further indicating a strategy to leverage emotional and financial pressure on me to abandon my pursuit of truth and fairness. These tactics represent a significant ethical lapse and require disciplinary action to uphold the standards of legal practice and protect the interests of all parties involved, especially our children caught in this dispute.

Brief summary of my background:

My name is Chris Hanson. I'm the Husband in divorce litigation, now representing myself, after having 2 attorneys, with one clearly pushed off the case by Mr. Davis. My soon to be ex-wife is represented by Mr. Davis. The only issue that required any litigation was my inquiry into wife's finances given her suspicious activity and the very strong likelihood I was defrauded in relation to a marital separation agreement. Mr. Davis has assisted Mrs. Hanson in concealing evidence using almost exclusively dishonest and unethical tactics for the past 9 months.

Background facts of case in litigation:

Mrs. Hanson and I worked through marriage problems the past few years leading up to when it became impossible mid 2023. We discussed divorce numerous times over those years. We always agreed that it would be 50/50 custody of the kids, and we would work everything out between ourselves to avoid the expense and conflict associated with litigation.

Things were particularly volatile by the summer of 2023. I was at times fearful in my own home. The marriage was over, but Wife insisted on buying a house to move into, and not living in an apartment or anywhere temporary before her new house was ready. She insisted that she did not have enough money for a down payment. She, around the time we started discussing a separation agreement, had represented that she did not have even $18,000 saved. She elected for the minimum withholdings out of her paychecks and was allegedly unable to pay the $18,000 tax debt which came to light April 1, 2023.

The parties signed a separation agreement (without attorneys and before there was any consideration of litigation associated with the separation) where Wife received $100,000. I provided all of my account information and balances. Wife refused to make any disclosures. When we had our first court date, I finally learned of "Mandatory Disclosures." Wife acted suspiciously about the disclosures. Finances were always a concern in the marriage as Wife had refused to help with bills when my income went down, while refusing to share her account statements that showed where her six figure salary was going. I made it clear that getting the financial discovery was a red line for me. I begged Wife to cooperate. Instead, she sent me 16 pages of interrogatories.

The only issue/request I ever pursued since day 1 was some discovery into Wife's financial information to determine if I was treated fairly in the separation agreement. There is nothing that suggests the parties would have ever pursued any litigation related to any of this had I not pursued the discovery into Wife's finances. All of Mr. Davis's antics relate to obstructing and concealing access to that information.

Since day 1, everything Mr. Davis has done in the case violates the professional rules as his goal remains to conceal evidence and suppress the truth all disrupting the administration of justice. My family continues to suffer the consequences from the constant ethical violations the past several months. All of his tactics aim at delay, harass, and burden. There is no good faith basis for the motions he's pursuing. He pursued them all the same day specifically as a way to burden me, on the day I lost my attorney, over my objection, at a hearing on 1 day notice. It is important to note that I am also pursuing a complaint against Judge Ayers based on her conduct in the case. The complaint related to that is below

Mr. Davis began his strategy of delay and conceal with the first stipulation reached in this matter.

Initially, Mr. Davis misled me and my attorneys by agreeing to exchange documents on June 28, 2024. The evidence supports that he had no intention of complying with the stipulation he reached. He put off the hearing as long as he could. When I did not abandon these discovery efforts, Mr. Davis began his attempts to leverage the children in this matter to push me off the discovery. It progressed to more baseless motion, filed at an unethically strategic time when I lost my attorneys.

The Scope of and the intent behind the ethical violations are some of the most concerning factors about Mr. Davis's misconduct. Everything that has occurred with the litigation relates to Wife and Mr. Davis ignoring all ethical boundaries in trying to conceal relevant, discoverable evidence and avoid even Mandatory Disclosures. I secured representation with Harris Hunt and Derr (HHD), specifically with Gracie Samarkos as the primary attorney and Katherine Scott overseeing and assisting.

Both the means and the end for Mr. Davis's litigation strategy are separate rule violations at their core. It's not a situation where a lawyer is working towards something legitimate and makes a mistake. Mr. Davis had and continues to have the specific intent to violate multiple rules and do whatever it takes to conceal evidence.

Every action Mr. Davis has taken in the case has a common core motive – to conceal evidence; and the following narrative explains some of that conduct in a manner that is at least in the quoted parts, identical to that shared with Mr. Davis in an attempt to curb the misconduct:

In order to summarize some the facts and patterns demonstrating many of the rule violations, I will utilize correspondence previously sent to Mr. Davis as an offer for him to correct any misunderstandings or offer any explanations for the facts that look really bad for him. The section below in italics is part of a longer email and email chain, all of which is available upon request, although I'm limiting the excerpts to the November 25, 2024 email from me to Mr. Davis and what assists with the factual summary:

By May 14, 2024, I was insisting on some discovery into Mrs. Hanson's account documents. Instead of cooperating, she suddenly and inexplicably issued 16 pages of interrogatories on May 15, 2024. She requested everything from my medical and pharmacy records to education information from over 20 years ago. Of course, Mrs. Hanson also sought and timely received voluminous financial records from me.

It's important to note that Mrs. Hanson was already aware of all of the accounts and balances that I had as our marriage was ending. She never requested any of the information sought in the interrogatories in an informal manner. It was clearly a reaction and attempted roadblock to my insistence on critically relevant financial discovery.

You and my prior attorney were in touch by June 14, 2024. Both sides were late on producing discovery. Each side agreed to produce documents by June 28, 2024. I even had to respond to interrogatories, which I did timely, in reliance on your representation that you and Mrs. Hanson would produce the financial info by June 28, 2024.

You and Mrs. Hanson did not produce any documents as of June 28, 2024, nor request an extension, nor provide any explanation for the delay. You failed to respond to my prior attorney's attempts to secure production. Is there any explanation for why you failed or refused to meet your discovery obligations as stipulated?

While failing to comply and as far as I know, failing to make any attempt to comply with the stipulated deadline, you obstructed every discovery effort I made since. You're still in clear non-compliance with Mandatory disclosures. And worse, it looks like you've played a strategic game in trickling documents out to provide further delay.

Chase Bank Subpoena

My prior attorney issued a subpoena to Chase Bank on June 4, 2024. You objected to the subpoena on June 13, 2024. My attorney attempted to negotiate with you to requesting 3 years of records if you would withdraw your objection. I understand my attorney followed up with you on July 15 and 17 on a possible agreement, and you have not responded on this. This is despite the fact that I personally compiled 3 years of records for multiple banks during this same time period. I'm curious why you and Mrs. Hanson would force me to obtain records for you as you specifically prevent me from obtaining the equivalent. Perhaps that's something that you can explain in a response to this correspondence so I can better understand your position.

Request to produce sent to Mrs. Hanson:

My attorney issued a request to produce to Mrs. Hanson on August 18, 2024 that was far less onerous than the interrogatories Mrs. Hanson forced upon me during this same period. Once details and background are out in the open, this is going to seem far more egregious than it already does. Nevertheless, you again summarily objected to producing far less than what Mrs. Hanson demanded of me.

Delay in hearing the discovery issues:

Your actions even served to push back the hearing on the discovery issues unnecessarily on multiple occasions. My attorney was trying to set a hearing on these discovery issues in early August. She received an email response letting us know you were out of the office for about 2 weeks. The automated email suggested that you filed a notice of unavailability with the Court. My understanding is that you never filed that. Had you done that, we would have known and could have coordinated earlier.

We were close to securing a September hearing date. My attorney contacted your office about that and did not hear back. That caused us to lose the September hearing and allow you and Mrs. Hanson to cause further delay.

Since the hearing, you have delayed producing documents required for the mandatory disclosure. Perhaps you can help me understand the basis for taking that position?

Eventual and apparent strategic trickle of long overdue discovery documents:

The first attempt you made to meet the stipulated due date of June 28, 2024, was nearly 4 months after the date to which you agreed. On October 25, 2024, 3 days before the hearing on the issues, you produced some minimal records. What I found interesting is that for the Ascensus account, only 6-1-24 forward was produced.

We attended the hearing on October 28, 2024 where you and Mrs. Hanson were ordered to comply. Earlier this month, you provided some additional Ascensus records from 10-1-23 forward. Of course, that does not meet your obligations for the mandatory discovery. And, it's quite obviously different than the dates produced from other accounts.

You had agreed to produce the records by June 28, 2024, and they were due back in April I believe. Yet, you delayed it and only produced back to October 2023. I have real concerns about using a delay you created to avoid producing the required documents going back at least to April of 2023. I doubt that you would make it so obvious and simple where information is hidden. Getting the mandatory disclosures certainly will not resolve the discovery issues after all of these delays.

Of note, we had already made the formal decision to divorce by September 2023. There are certainly patterns here that make the delays look intentional and well-coordinated. From my point of view, it certainly seems something is concealed or there is an intent to make me believe something is concealed there. I hope that's not the case and perhaps you can offer an explanation to clear things up.

Mrs. Hanson's filing for "primary" custody in Amended Petition:

This is certainly the most shocking and disturbing development from my perspective. While Mrs. Hanson and I discussed divorce for years, there was always a clear understanding that custody would be 50/50. No one has ever suggested that I am anything other than a loving protective father. The kids are my number 1 priority. I'm very proud of the way I've handled all of this with them and welcome any inquiry to what type of father I am.

The question I can't help but ask is what has changed where Mrs. Hanson thinks primary custody is appropriate after years of understanding that it would have to be 50/50? I've wanted to ask you and Mrs. Hanson for some time if there is some concern about the children under my care? There's been no injuries, missed school or activities, nor even a tardy under my care. For the benefit of the children, I hope you and Mrs. Hanson will pass along any concerns so that I may address them.

Impacts from the failure to comply with mandatory and stipulated discovery obligations:

I believed you when you stipulated with my prior attorney to produce records by June 28, 2024. I suppose that was precisely the point of making that representation. I still have no answers to what you did to attempt timely compliance with the stipulated due date. You're certainly aware that my requests for discovery from Mrs. Hanson are the primary issue in the case by now. I've been under the impression that this was almost over the past 6 months. From a conversation with my new attorney last week, I'm concerned that you and Mrs. Hanson intend on dragging this out for many more months. I hope my grave concerns about these litigation tactics come across. It's been a hellish 6 months for me, and I can't help but believe that's what you and Mrs. Hanson intended with the manner you've proceeded."

Continuation of unethical “obstruct, delay, and conceal” strategy:

I gave Mr. Davis many opportunities to explain himself and/or change his conduct throughout the period of litigation. In fact, the email quoted above was an invitation to Mr. Davis to correct the record and/or come clean about his unethical conduct. He did neither. Time and time again, he fails and/or refuses to address the serious allegations.

Generally, the various account documents provided on October 25, 2024 go back to early 2023 with this glaring exception in the Ascensus records. 3 days after the hearing, Mr. Davis produces records from Ascensus going back to October of 2023, but disclosures are required back to April of 2023. That left a very relevant period of discovery still lacking, especially given that the account was unknown to me. Mr. Davis had just successfully delayed the hearing all the way until October of 2024. This was an intentional and devious violation of holding back evidence, and the metadata should prove that.

Despite specifically being discoverable, Mr. Davis recently filed an objection to producing the Meta-data that would provide specific answers on this “strategic trickle” strategy, further evidencing dishonesty and an intent to conceal and deceive. The Court entered an order effective October 28, 2024 requiring Wife’s compliance with mandatory disclosures within 10 days. While wife produced some additional documents, she refused to certify compliance with Mandatory disclosures that includes swearing that all financial interests during the relevant time periods were disclosed. They were not willing to swear to that, but hoped that Judge Ayers would simply excuse it. It was entirely clear that they were violating the spirit of the rule, intentionally. They remained in violation of the Court’s order ever since early November when time expired even though they could have corrected it any time.

Mr. Davis’s intent to delay, obstruct, and conceal evidence at all costs including filing baseless and slanderous motions against Husband and against the children’s interests is evident in looking at the patterns and the timing of his conduct.

Delay was part 1 of Mr. Davis’s plan to conceal these records. So, he lied about a date for intended production (June 28, 2024), made no effort to ask for an extension or provide an explanation. He put the hearing off as long as he could including going on vacation without advising HHD about the planned trip, despite representing in correspondence that he had filed a notice of unavailability. He had filed no such notice. His office refused to cooperate with scheduling the discovery hearings, putting it off until late October.

In the period just before the October 28, 2024 hearing, Mr. Davis was ready for phase 2 of his plan – leverage the children to force me off of the discovery. Despite the lack of any change in the children’s well-being, any complaints or concerns about either child or me as a parent, and any identifiable good faith basis, Mr. Davis files an amended petition for dissolution seeking primary custody on October 2, 2024, 26 days before the discovery hearing. Of course, he then started the trickle out of documents 3 days before the hearing, in an attempt to get it cancelled altogether.

Mr. Davis’s client never even required any of the discovery associated with the 16 pages of interrogatories nor even the mandatory disclosures. As stated above, the parties agreed to exchange records by June 28, 2024. Husband produced near complete responses in a timely manner. Yet at the October 28, 2024 hearing, it became clear that Mr. Davis never even shared any of the records with his client in the 120 days between production and the hearing.

The next phase of the plan did not start until Ms. Hodz was literally in the process of withdrawing. Suddenly then, the lawfare was necessary. Not only did they suddenly and inexplicably develop a need to compel this discovery, but other frivolous motions came with it. Ever since then, with the Court's consistent indulgence, Mr. Davis has continued to complicate matters in his efforts to conceal evidence.

I even offered to drop off the additional records I received by mail to Mr. Davis's office. He did not respond to those inquiries. At the recent hearing on February 12, 2025, he declined the offer to get the records despite my lack of access to a good scanner. He would rather force me to scan them in personally as his sole goal is to conceal wife's financial information; and getting mine is completely irrelevant.

Mr. Davis's contacts with and apparent control over my attorneys throughout the case:

My first attorney, Gracie Samarkos, had a conference with Mr. Davis after which her entire view of the case changed. When I initially retained HHD, the attorney's understood my sole objective which they thought was straightforward and I should be entitled to at least 3 years of financial records. After the conference with Mr. Davis, Ms. Samarkos did not think she would be able to help with that same discovery issue when there were no new facts or applicable law. It was difficult to even get HHD to work towards getting the discovery. They had always fought against issue a request to produce even though that was the only objective I had in the litigation – getting Wife to produce documents. I suspect that Mr. Davis likely asked my attorneys not to send a request to produce in the case.

By mid October of 2024, I had retained Vivian Hodz as my second attorney. She was trying to get up to speed on the file, and needed HHD to cover the October 28, 2024 hearing already on the calendar. However, she thought she would be able to secure the records once she had a conference with Mr. Davis. Ms. Hodz scheduled a telephone conference with Mr. Davis for mid October when she first agreed to take the case over. Just before the call was to take place, Mr. Davis cancelled. He refused to even reschedule it until Ms. Hodz could file her formal notice of appearance. Of course, there was no notice of appearance when the first call was scheduled, so Mr. Davis is taking polar opposite positions on the same issue just a few days apart. Clearly, this was an intentional delay tactic with no legitimate purpose served.

Ms. Hodz first mentioned her desire to withdraw in a conversation with Husband on November 15, 2024, the day after the conference with Mr. Davis finally went forward. Nothing changed about the facts, the law, or Husband's sole objective from the first contact with each attorney. However, nearly exactly like what happened with Ms. Samarkos, there was a sudden and dramatic change in tone and outlook on the case. The message from each attorney was, "they're not going to cooperate on anything related to our discovery requests, and I'm not sure I can help you." Something happened in those separate conferences to cause the dramatic change in each of my representative's outlook, and it's not based in the facts or the law.

During my first conversation with Ms. Hodz after she spoke to Mr. Davis, she told me something nearly identical to this; "Unless you hire the most aggressive male attorney in the city, I'm not sure anyone is going to be able to help you." And there was no explanation for it other than that "they are going to fight you on everything." Mr. Davis was attempting to leverage the children to push me away from the discovery. I offered undisputed facts that demonstrate Ms. Hodz wanted to withdraw because of

Mr. Davis's antics, the work would be more difficult than she anticipated, and likely something else said during the calls Mr. Davis had with Husband's attorneys, which produced the same full swing from, "your goal is simple and straightforward" to "this is going to be impossible."

Ms. Hodz was well aware of my expectations and goals in the litigation. I emailed her on October 21, 2024, raising some concerns about whether she would be up for the task, and she responded with assurances that, "you will get the answers that you need to move forward." There has never been an allegation of any ethical issue I caused or created. There was no allegation of any dishonesty or deceit from Husband. There was never any change in the facts, law, or Husband's objective since day 1 with the first attorney through the present.

Mr. Davis and Ms. Hodz eventually worked frantically with the Court to schedule the hearing on Ms. Hodz's withdrawal on 1 day notice for a time I was unavailable.

The sudden cooperation between Mr. Davis and Ms. Hodz in coordinating the hearing (which I couldn't initially attend) is revealing. They were able to schedule the hearing with the Court in one day, when, for Husband, who pleaded for efficiency, it took several weeks for Ms. Hodz and Mr. Davis to simply get on the phone with each other!

I was so concerned about my due process rights and allowing the Court to protect them that I waived attorney client privilege, allowing Ms. Hodz to say anything she wanted in order to describe the reason for her sudden and immediate withdrawal. Given the lack of any restraints on Ms. Hodz and her inability to describe any legitimate reason, there must be an illegitimate reason, which is why Ms. Vivian Hodz is a necessary witness.

As far as I know, Mr. Davis only spoke to each of my attorneys once. There was a sudden and dramatic change in their attitudes toward the case after each call that occurred months apart. I've received no explanation for the change, but one is warranted if Ms. Hodz is to effectively withdraw without notice putting Husband in this difficult position. Ms. Hodz advised Husband in the call immediately after her conference with Mr. Davis that she would have to withdraw if I did not cooperate with what they were asking while they continued to ignore the discovery concerns. Husband has serious concerns about spending time and money on a third attorney in case that counsel also runs in fear over some unknown aspect of a conference with Mr. Davis.

Whatever was said during that call, Mrs. Hodz had to withdraw in a hurry. Despite me, as her client, objecting, she, with cooperation from Mr. Davis and Judge Ayers moved the hearing on the motion to withdraw up from January 6, 2025 when it was initially set to December 13, 2024, at a time when I was unavailable. There were no ethical or dishonesty concerns about me of any kind. Nevertheless, the parties went forward with the hearing. I stayed up all night researching and filing what I could to object to the withdrawal until Ms. Hodz completed the job I hired her to do.

The February 12, 2025 Hearing and concerns over an arrangement with Judge Ayers where Mr. Davis is obtaining assistance in hiding from consequences for his conduct and arranging for his client to be exempt from following the Rules including the Rules of Family law procedure on Mandatory Disclosures.

The parties recently attended a hearing on February 12, 2025, just after I sent the letter (attached as Exhibit A, p. 15-21) to Chief Judge Sabella. The entire event seemed like a brainstorming session on how to not only deny Husband the discovery at the absolute core of all of this, but how to justify not applying the rules to Wife. At the hearing, Judge Ayers suggested that they are required to produce all of the information for mandatory disclosures but didn't think they actually had to swear that was everything that they actually had. It did not appear that Judge Ayers had any concern whatsoever about allowing them to violate the spirit of the rule if her understanding of the rule had been correct.

Judge Ayers was discussing allowing Wife and Mr. Davis who have remained out of compliance with the Court's order since October 28, 2024, inexplicably refusing to address this issue where they failed to certify what's required in the rules for the certificate of compliance. While the Court continues to excuse the dozen plus ethical and discovery violations that all relate to concealing this same information at issue in this "certification." The Court clearly had an opportunity to insist on simple Rule compliance to get Husband answers, but Judge Ayers has now even refused to do that, excusing Mr. Davis's client from rule compliance on the single issue that started all of this.

Creating an unnecessary Burden for Husband thru lawfare in direct and intentional violation of Rules 4-3.4, 4-4.4, and 4-8.4:

Mr. Davis suddenly filed 4 separate motions on December 13, 2024. two of which could have an extremely negative impact on the children given their current state of near ideal health, attitude, and overall well-being. Mr. Davis had not filed any motion in the several months until it was the perfect time to attack and overburden me, again clearly with the same goal of concealing the financial evidence. As Ms. Hodz's withdrawal was occurring (on an incredibly rushed basis over my objection), Mr. Davis files 4 separate motions in one day, without copying me on some of them. He even refused to provide the motion on the guardian ad litem.

Given the tactics employed by Wife and Mr. Davis to date, Ms. Hodz's withdrawal without notice was very problematic for Husband as he did not feel qualified to represent himself in this matter, a fact well known to Mr. Davis. Seeing the opportunity to further pile-on and overwhelm Husband, Mr. Davis filed some of the motions just before and some after the 430pm hearing on December 13, 2024. He made things especially confusing because on some of the motions, I was not copied but my former attorney who had long before stopped answering questions or helping in any way.

The motion to appoint guardian ad litem and the Motion to compel psychological evaluation have no good faith basis, and were only filed as a continuation of Mr. Davis's litigation strategy of obstruct, delay, and conceal. Husband attempted to resolve some of the issues from the December 13, 2024 lawfare attack waged by Mr. Davis and Wife, in a January 7, 2025 email. I pointed out the following about the motions from December 13, 2024 in that correspondence with this excerpt below:

Motions for 1-21-25 hearing and lawfare concerns:

Motion to compel:

I did find the additional records that had to be mailed to me. That should take care of the motion to compel. It's a large stack of records and I do not have a good scanner. Is there a time that II can drop them off and have someone scan the records in and then pick up the paper copies from your office?

Motion for default:

Is this still something that's at issue? Can we resolve before hearing? I may need more time to prepare for it if there's actually an issue here. i thought the answer and counterpetition took care of that.

Lawfare:

I think we're at a full dozen different occasions where your conduct seemed to directly and intentionally result in delay, obstruction, and concealment of information. I've laid most of that out for you and you haven't denied anything or offered any alternative explanation. Given that discovery was the single concern that required litigation, these tactics are obviously very concerning. Clearly, it's these litigation tactics that have dragged things out and placed so much increased pressure and conflict within the family.

I want to make sure you have the opportunity to explain yourself for the various delays and any efforts you made to mitigate and resolve them so the case could move forward. My motions from early August 2024 are still not resolved given your "strategic trickling" and refusal to simply certify what the Rule requires you to certify. It should be helpful to have those be the focus of the 1-21 hearing so that you have the opportunity.

It was interesting that you hadn't needed to file a motion with the Court for the first several months on the file. Then, my attorney withdraws over my objection on a day notice, and you suddenly need to file 4 motions that same day? The subject matter of the motions is even more concerning to me. As you know, I still have not received a copy of the motion to appoint a guardian ad litem. I've asked several times, but still do not have it and cannot see where I was ever served with it. You were so quick to file motions at the time of withdraw, some went to the prior attorney, I think one to me, and perhaps one that didn't get served on anyone? Either way, I don't have it, and I don't see how I can be expected to attend a hearing on something like that in less than 2 weeks. I object to hearing that motion and the motion for psychological evaluation at the 1-21 hearing. There's simply no way I can be prepared for those events. I'll need to arrange for affidavits and/or deposition testimony from at least 3 doctors. I've been sick since December 14, 2024 with recurrent sinus infections. I've been really bad since last Friday, and go back to the ENT on Thursday. The recent CT of my sinus revealed rather extensive Naso Sinal disease which will likely require a surgery. In any event, I need to get witness statements from various people to inform the Court of just how incredibly well the kids are doing on the ad Litem issue. I think it's a bit embarrassing to have to ask teachers, coaches, and parents to write statements about the kids, but if Sarah is going to go down this road, I have to fight against it. Please let me know your thoughts on whether this is something that we can resolve without the drama. Best interest of children, and the dangers of messing with something that's working:

I assume you're aware of how incredibly well both kids are doing. I've asked you numerous times about the basis for changing from 50/50 custody to Sarah filing for primary custody. You've raised zero concerns with me. Sarah's raised zero concerns with me. So, either you're not interested in resolving any concerns or, there simply aren't any concerns, and this is just more lawfare and attempts at obtaining leverage. From my conversation with Ms. Hodz, this was exactly what you were attempting to do with her during the call you finally attended. Is this Guardian ad litem something Sarah would really go forward with? We should be thanking God that somehow we've made the split and the kids are thriving. She wants to have a stranger come in and start making decisions for us when despite everything going so well? They're busy learning and growing, and yall want to take attention away from that and focus on the divorce?? Or, at least communicate with me if she thinks there are problems. What's the concern with the kids currently with me? Their living situation? Overall as healthy 5 and 7 year olds? I seriously don't know what could be going better for our kids. Messing with what's working for the kids in such a tense and difficult situation is very dangerous and concerning

Unfortunately, this nor any of my other efforts had any impact in even slowing the unethical onslaught of litigation pursued by Mr. Davis. Perhaps

Actions taken against the welfare of the children:

Mr. Davis began attacking the welfare of my children with his attempts to overburden me with nonsensical issues to distract from his delay, obstruct and conceal efforts. The parties' children are doing incredibly well despite the conflict and going between homes. There is not a single allegation of any problem with them, nor any problem with my parenting of them, nor even how I've treated their mother throughout this difficult process. There's no basis in reality to suggest that they need a Guardian Ad Litem. It's the complete opposite of the truth. The only purpose of pursuing that litigation is to use the children as leverage to assist in concealing the evidence that is at the core of all of this.

The Motion to appoint a guardian ad litem is certainly a low point in terms of the combination between presenting a risk to the children with a complete absence of any good faith basis for the request. The children have been thriving under difficult circumstances. There is no evidence anywhere that they are doing any less than fantastic in all areas of their being. Mrs. Hanson nor Mr. Davis have responded regarding any concerns with their living situation with me nor their general well being. I requested the Court do any investigation into the children's well being in the least invasive and attention demanding manner possible. Mr. Davis objects to the children's teachers filling out a questionnaire on their well-being

Mr. Davis is actively suppressing the truth as it relates to the children in order to keep them in the litigation to use as pawns. While I thought the lack of any complaints whatsoever about the children would be sufficient to avoid such absurd litigation, I wanted to get some evidence that the children are truly doing incredibly well. Unfortunately, Mr. Davis and his client are not interested in learning how the children are doing before throwing a stranger in their lives to shake things up through the GAL process. Mr. Davis continues to refuse to agree to a court order requiring the children's teachers to fill out child wellness forms before moving to the Guardian Ad Litem program.

Looking closely at the course of events relating to Husband's discovery efforts (the only issue that required litigation), years of agreement that the parties would have 50/50 custody of the kids, the lack of any evidence that the kids are doing anything less than fantastic and/or that Husband's parenting abilities are anything other than excellent, and what Ms. Hodz passed along from her conference with Mr. Davis about needing to comply with their demand to address Holiday custody before discovery, it's quite clear that Wife and her attorneys changed Wife's position on custody in the Amended Petition for Dissolution specifically as a strategy to use the children and their welfare as leverage to push me away from my legitimate discovery pursuits.

Mr. Davis has attempted to shame and embarrass me over my health concerns while suggesting slanderous allegations about me as a father and suppressing the truth as to the current status of the children, all in order to delay, burden, and harass me:

Unfortunately, Mr. Davis specifically resorted to shaming me for some common health struggles looking to imply that health problems automatically mean, "unfit parent." Of course, Mr. Davis produced exactly zero evidence nor even allegations that I am anything other than a responsible, loving father. Mr. Davis never had and doesn't now have any good faith basis for the accusations made. Mr. Davis must be held accountable for shaming Husband in this litigation over his mental and physical health for no good faith reason, and specifically for a purpose and in a manner both prohibited by the rules. 4-3.4, 4-4.4, and 4-8.4

I have attached a copy of the motion to compel psychological evaluation to this complaint as Exhibit B (p. 22-24 below). With no complaints whatsoever from Wife or Mr. Davis or anyone else about the well-being of the children nor my care for them, they continue to pursue clear harassment and lawfare attacks in response to my persistence in pursuing the discovery. To make it perfectly clear that Mr. Davis and his client have zero actual concerns about Husband, they have made no attempt to secure his medical records despite having extensive information about various treating doctors. They want to hide their heads in the sand from the truth while pursuing increasingly slanderous and ridiculous litigation, much like they are doing in the motions they're pursuing related to the children.

The Motion to compel a psychological evaluation is a bit like someone kicking you in the leg over and over again, and then questioning your limp. I have made Mr. Davis and Mrs. Hanson well aware of the impact the delays and obstruction are causing in terms of making decisions on 2 separate surgeries, back and sinus. Yet, Mr Davis insists on pursuing these frivolous motions because he thinks they will improve his chances of getting away with this. And he has not even sought any medical or therapy records, while blocking the children's teachers from confirming their well being.

This is a simple discovery matter that could have been resolved in a month or less. I would more than likely be back working full time had Wife and Mr. Davis simply cooperated with elementary discovery. I placed the Court and Mr. Davis on notice of some health issues, including a recommended back surgery, on hold in order to sort out this discovery issue before making a final determination. That was back on May 14, 2024 when I first made the Court aware of the ongoing health concerns.

At the October 28, 2024 hearing, Mr. Davis stated, "This gentleman while he is an attorney he has not filed a notice of appearance as co-counsel and shouldn't be arguing his case plus he filed a financial affidavit saying that he's too sick to be a lawyer" in an attempt to keep me from speaking about my case. It was clearly and intentionally dismissive and insulting towards me and health issues which I doubt he's taken the time to even consider.

Mr. Davis has committed severe misconduct through pushing Divisiveness and false/anti-true narratives over the pursuit of Truth to the point that it is prejudicial to the administration of Justice:

Find some emails to include:

Email from 2-7-25, no need to find common ground on anything. Trying to push the parties farther apart than they need to be. Obviously, the purpose/motive is the same as everything else Mr. Davis does – delay and conceal.

Nevertheless, Mr. Davis has continued and escalated the unscrupulous litigation tactics designed to shield discoverable information relating to Wife's finances. Mr. Davis shows no sign of abandoning his strategy has dragged on for several months now, due entirely to the intentional conduct of Wife and Mr. Davis. Husband has now spent large sums of money on attorney's fees and litigation costs associated with these frivolous claims from Wife and her attorney, with no end in sight. The period of conflict for the children has unnecessarily encompassed many times over the span it should have, absent the unethical conduct from Mr. Davis.

Ultimately, Mr. Davis's emails became increasingly contentious and he brought a weapon into the conversation in a very concerning development. He offered some excuses insisting it was not the veiled threat (it clearly was) that I described. He provided a google search and his insistence that his mom used to say, "take your bat and ball and go home." Regardless, Mr. Davis remains in continuous violation of these rules as he his entire litigation arsenal are ab initio rule violations given the nature of this case.

Ways that Mr. Davis's misconduct has caused me and my family harm:

Mr. Davis's conduct has harmed our family in many ways, and some which are yet to be seen. Specifically, he has put off my ability to make a decision about my career. I stopped working at least in part to settle the divorce and ensure the children are fully adjusted. I thought it would take a couple of months at most. Now, with Mr. Davis's conduct, it could take years. Obviously, that presents completely unnecessary and problematic financial concerns for the family beyond what the divorce itself is costing.

To make matters worse, I've also put off decisions on a major back surgery and a less invasive sinus surgery. Given the level of stress and conflict involved in this, I've continued to put off a back surgery, surviving with epidural shots and PRP injections. Eventually, I'll have to decide on having the surgery before going back to work or trying to wait another year or more. I've informed Mr. Davis of the hardships his conduct has caused, and if anything, it seems to please him.

Divorce is emotionally taxing for all involved. Minimizing unnecessary conflict can help reduce the emotional toll on our clients, allowing us to move forward with our lives more peacefully. Mr. Davis has done the opposite of this. Mr. Davis is actively misrepresenting the health and well-being of the children and slandering me in the process. He's putting off any hope of establishing a positive coparenting relationship that I desperately seek. I have put off making this complaint as long as I could. It's undoubtedly true that Mr. Davis presents a serious danger to Florida families given his conduct in this case. It's to the point where it requires action.

Conclusion:

Mr. Davis held off on providing any documents (he stipulated to producing no later than June 28, 2024) until 3 days before the hearing on the subject, and thereafter; Mr. Davis and/or his client schemed a Strategic Trickle of documents to further delay Husband's discovery, and avoid compliance with the Rules. His actions in relation to discovery are clearly in bad faith.

Mr. Davis's intent is to delay and conceal. What makes his ethical violations so severe and critical to fellow litigants is that both the means and the end are ethical violations. Clearly, he's willing to implement and litigate strategies with the goal of violating the ethical rules. His brash indifference to the rules is evident throughout the case.

I have extensive documentation available. I waived any attorney client privilege so everything I have, I'll be happy to get you. Please let me know if you have any questions or if I can help in any way. Thank you for your attention to this very serious matter.

Re: Ethical violations from Mr. Scott Davis and the cover from scrutiny for the ethical misconduct from Judge Ayers.

I'm a Licensed Florida attorney of almost 18 years. I practiced in workers' compensation defense for 17 years, AV rated with zero history of any ethical violations. There's no history of even any alleged dishonesty or inappropriate behavior from myself or a client I was representing in a case. I stepped away from the practice of law partly because of corruption and dishonesty in the system. Even with that experience, I have never seen anything even approaching the absolute violation of public trust in the profession as the conduct from Mr. Davis in this case causes. It's a very long history, but the more you look at the case, the clearer one sees the pattern of intentional misconduct from Mr. Davis that Judge Ayers has consistently ignored and even suppressed.

I'm certain there is a critical question as to Mr. Davis's honesty, trustworthiness, and fitness as a lawyer. I have experienced just how devious and flat out dangerous he is to Florida families as he's completely unrestrained by the Florida Rules of Ethics. Without a Judge that has any concerns about such severe ethical violations, I am now certain that I cannot get a fair process with Judge Ayers. I filed a motion to disqualify Judge Ayers, which she denied without comment.

I can certainly provide you with citations for all of this information and welcome the opportunity to prove these claims and/or question Mr. Davis and even Judge Ayers about these issues. The problem is that Judge Ayers is constantly moving the target and creating entirely new issues for me to research and address by failing to allow the simple discovery that would prevent all of this wasted time and expense.

The most recent concern is that we were set to hear my Motion for clarification regarding Court's order sustaining objection to Chase subpoenas today as discussed at the January 21, 2025 status conference. Husband spent significant time preparing for that hearing that should be occurring today. However, the Court, at the last minute, barely a day before the hearing, enters an order on that motion depriving me of the right to even create a record. It's important to note that the motion I so desperately wanted to argue includes a lot of facts about Mr. Davis's misconduct and Judge Ayers attempts to sweep it under the rug. It's another step in a long pattern that demonstrates significant violations of lawyer and judicial ethics create great public risk of harm, and actual harm to me and my family.

I'm now turning back to you for help, Judge Sabella. I beg you to take close look at this sooner rather than later as it's having real consequences on me and my health. There's at least 2 attorneys that are actively and intentionally violating ethical rules to continue the concealment of critically relevant information. Whether Judge Ayers is actively assisting with the concealment is not clear, but she has absolutely gone to concerning lengths to protect the attorneys practicing before her from much needed scrutiny over my due process rights.

Attorney Scott Davis and his client are actively misrepresenting the children's current condition to use them as leverage, suppressing the truth by refusing to allow child welfare forms from their teachers or trying to get any records, and defaming Husband in an attempt to conceal clearly relevant and discoverable information, which is the sole reason the parties retained attorneys in the first place. The issue relates to marital assets that Wife hid, refused to disclose at the time of signing PMA, and has now spent over 8 months pursuing dirty litigation tactic after ethical violation and vice versa in attempts to continue this fraud. Every word of this is true, and I invite Mrs. Hanson, Mr. Davis and/or Judge Ayers to correct me on anything either finds less than accurate, and we can each testify under oath as to the facts.

When the truth is simple, complexity is the refuge for the dishonest. That's not a legitimate litigation strategy, but it's absolutely the idea behind every action Mr. Davis and Mrs. Hanson have taken. I've given Mr. Davis many opportunities to offer some other explanation for the various misdeeds which he has completely failed to explain. Mr. Davis's conduct confirms his intentional and repeated ethical violations as Judge Ayers' absolute refusal to address any of it makes matters increasingly dangerous for the parties. Judge Ayers treated Husband and his due process rights in a truly contemptuous way multiple times to ensure Mr. Davis suffered no embarrassment, let alone consequences for his gross misconduct.

Mr. Davis's conduct is far worse than simple violations of the ethical rules. In the present case, both Mr. Davis's goal and strategy to achieve it are in direct violation of the ethical rules explained below.

Both the means and the end for Mr. Davis's litigation strategy are separate rule violations at their core. It's not a situation where a lawyer is working towards something legitimate and makes a mistake. Mr. Davis had and continues to have the specific intent to violate multiple rules and do whatever it takes to conceal evidence. Mr. Davis also recently brought up a weapon in a heated exchange with myself. When I told him I viewed his comment as a threat, he offered some absurd excuses, while continuing his failure to address any of the allegations about his strategy to delay, harass, and conceal.

Some of the Rules Violated:

Rule 4-4.4 - Respect for Rights of Third Persons

(a) In representing a client, a lawyer shall not use means that have no substantial purpose other than to embarrass, delay, or burden a third person...

Mr. Davis planned and executed his entire legal strategy with unethical maneuvers designed to embarrass, delay, and burden Husband, even filing 4 separate motions the same day his attorney withdrew from the case over Husband's objection (after filing zero motions the first several months while I was represented. Clearly, the rules mean nothing to Mr. Davis as he's continued with such reprehensible conduct despite having his behavior and its impact on Husband's health and the children pointed out many times.

Rules - Rule 4-3.4 - Fairness to Opposing Party and Counsel

A lawyer shall not:

(a) unlawfully obstruct another party's access to evidence or unlawfully alter, destroy, or conceal a document or other material having potential evidentiary value. A lawyer shall not counsel or assist another person to do any such act;

(c) knowingly disobey an obligation under the rules of a tribunal, except for an open refusal based on an assertion that no valid obligation exists;

(d) in pretrial procedure, make a frivolous discovery request or fail to make reasonably diligent effort to comply with a legally proper discovery request by an opposing party;

This is the entire objective to Mr. Davis's and Mrs. Hanson's legal strategy - to "unlawfully obstruct" husband's access to the material that is the absolute foundation to all of this litigation. Mr. Davis's conduct reflects a knowing and intentional plan to conceal an obvious fraud through these really divisive and harmful tactics, and severe penalties are necessary under these circumstances from the local Courts and the Florida bar.

Judge Ayers has violated numerous Judicial Canons in her handling of this case which at every step demonstrates bias in favor of the attorneys (including one purportedly representing me) and against myself.

Unfortunately, Judge Ayers has been all too keen to provide refuge for the dishonest in this case, not only at the expense of Truth, justice, and due process, but also the well-being of the family that desperately needs a fair process to heal. Judge Ayers, with rushing the withdrawal process as she did to one day notice, set for a time Husband wasn't available, has already rendered these proceedings near meaningless. That was such an extreme violation of a litigant's due process that Husband has now wasted hundreds of hours researching and writing on a due process issue when this was only a simple discovery issue several months ago when this all started.

Judge Ayers actively shut down Husband's attempts to argue the relevance of Mr. Davis's ethical obligations at the December 19, 2024 hearing. At 2 other hearings, she completely ignored Mr. Davis's outrageously unethical conduct on the only issue Husband ever raised with the Court, and instead suggested that she knows that he's actually just a "teddy bear" who is much less difficult than the attorneys I had representing me (who dropped me based on a call with Mr. Davis where he made it clear he would cooperate with nothing. It's "judicial gaslighting" where Judge Ayers ignores the specific atrocious conduct in the case, and instead insists to the victim of the corrupt behavior that the perpetrator is actually just a "teddy bear." These violations are well documented throughout the pleadings in this matter with over a dozen specific actions where the only logical motive, and the impact on the case, are both more delay.

There are numerous other ways the Court has demonstrated its bias in favor of the attorneys and against Husband. Another example is when Judge Ayers considered a post-hearing memo Mr. Davis provided to the Court late (without excuse). Judge Ayers proceeded precisely as Mr. Davis instructed in his memo, but made no comment on the justification for considering his late filing.

We recently received the transcript for the 1-21-25 hearing, and there are certainly more concerning actions and biases all against me, that continue this trend of protecting the attorneys, attacking me, and preventing me from getting clearly discoverable materials.

Highlights from the 1-21-25 hearing, at docket #118.

Page 4, Lines 11-19: The husband explains that his second attorney's withdraw from the case, without getting answers to what's happening during my attorneys calls with Mr. Davis make it difficult for him to secure a third attorney, due to fears of yet another repeat of Mr. Davis pushing local attorneys off the case. Judge Ayers conduct all but precludes me from getting new counsel throughout her involvement in the case because it's clear she'll let Mr. Davis get away with anything.

Page 4, Line 23 - Page 5, Line 11: The husband expresses concern over the Court's failure to inquire about crucial conversations with his previous counsel, even excusing his attendance at the hearing despite my please for the Court to force him to attend. To actively prevent me of arguing my right to due process so Mr. Davis doesn't have to answer for his ethical violations is a very serious violation of Judge Ayers' ethical duties.

Page 6, Lines 4-6: Judge Ayers suggests that she would have potentially forced Mr. Davis to attend had I brought the issue up before the hearing.

Page 6, Lines 7-19: The husband clarifies that he had requested Mr. Davis's presence at the hearing in advance, emphasizing Mr. Davis's importance to the due process issue. I remind Judge Ayers that I waived any privilege, which allowed for open discussion of that conversation that changed my attorney's outlook on the case entirely, with no identifiable change in facts, law, or the single objective I hired 2 attorneys to complete.

Page 6, Line 25 - Page 7, Line 5: Judge Ayers states that even with the waiver of privilege, Mr. Davis would not have been able to discuss what was talked about with the husband's lawyers, which the husband argues is nonsensical because his attorneys are obligated to share relevant information with him.

One can get some insight into how Judge Ayers views the judicial process on pages 7-8 at docket #118. She explains, "Attorneys a lot of times work together to get things done. I'm sure, once attorneys get together and talk, they do the best they can to talk about legal perspectives and to tone down what their clients are feeling so they can get a resolution.

Docket 118, p. 7, L15-20

Judge Ayers seems to be advocating for a system where attorneys “get things done” irrespective of whether either client agrees. Mr. Davis has been an absolute menace to due process and fairness. The one thing I needed in the case is some discovery and his position is that he’s not giving it up ethics, rules, and justice be damned. Somehow, Judge Ayers continues to back him up and cover for him through all of this.

It’s clear that Judge Ayers is also unfamiliar with basic legal concepts like privilege and confidentiality as demonstrated at the January 21, 2025 hearing where she “assured” me of a legal conclusion that first year law students would recognize as preposterously wrong. Once she realizes she’s wrong, she just moves on without fixing all of the illegitimate actions she took based on her mistaken understanding. She ignores the prejudice against Husband based on her misunderstanding of the case law and her failure to know the fact that I was actively requesting Mr. Davis’s presence at the recent hearing on January 9, 2025, which he simply didn’t attend, allegedly, without any ex parte communications with the Court.

Much more important to the core of the issue that brought the parties to Court, Judge Ayers grossly misinterprets the law relating to post marital agreements, the need for disclosures at the time of entry, and the Court’s obligation to investigate reasonableness. She refuses to allow any discovery to assess reasonableness even though it’s clear I made complete and accurate disclosures and Wife made none. Nevertheless, the Court refuses to allow the discovery despite at least 3 separate, but each incredibly compelling reasons to order it. 1) Wife didn’t disclose for PMA, and there’s strong evidence to support a need for additional information, 2) Wife’s numerous discovery violations directed at this core issue justify ordering disclosure. 3) To date, Wife has sought and received a 3 times longer period of financial information despite the fact that she received full disclosure at the time of the PMA and Husband received none.

The entire case has no logic or grounding in the law. Judge Ayers is making whatever decisions she believes will help the attorneys. It’s truly shocking that Judge Ayers is so oblivious and almost intentionally antagonistic toward Husband for seeking discovery (the one issue resulting in all this) to which he’s clearly entitled. Judge Ayers bias against Husband has put the case in an absurd posture, and there’s no way a reasonable person could have any confidence in her impartiality at this point.

Judge Ayers has utterly failed the Hanson family, certainly making the coparenting relationship more difficult and putting off any sort of resolution for this family. While Husband is still researching the Judicial canons and his duties under them, it's clear that Judge Ayers has violated those ethical mandates on multiple occasions. The extent to which reporting that is required immediately will control whether it can wait, while Husband tries to research and address all of the issues that Mr. Davis and Judge Ayers are creating to distract from the one true issue in the case – getting answers on the marital assets that remain concealed.

The manner in which Judge Ayers ran and funded her judicial campaign makes these ethical violations and complete disregard for my due process all the more concerning

Here's a link to a concerning article about Judge Ayers and potential ethical concerns: <https://floridapolitics.com/archives/350088-kelly-overfields-campaign-is-playing-loose-and-fast-with-the-rules/> “Kelly Ayers, err, Overfield’s campaign is playing loose and fast with the rules”

The Court will also see the campaign finance information for Judge Ayers and the candidate that ran against her. It appears Judge Ayers put up $92,500 of her own money to run her campaign, with more from some family members. So, personally, Judge Ayers paid about 90 percent of the cost to get elected, with her family contributing even more. Contrast that to her opponents financing records where it seems the campaign was actually funded by the community, and my concerns become even more real and urgent. Certainly, the facts of this case demonstrate grounds for grave concerns about the impartiality and fitness required for public trust in the judiciary.

TSO, will Hillsborough County Courts allow an incredibly dishonest and unethical lawyer and a Judge that by all appearances purchased her position decide the future of my children? I certainly hope that changes will be made immediately, but I will continue to fight this battle and draw attention to these abuses until something changes. I know this is last minute, but Judge Ayers depriving me of my right to even create a record on critical issues just arose this week. And that’s especially concerning because her conduct is now impacting my rights on appeal. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions, concerns, or ideally, solutions to these problems plaguing the 13th Circuit’s family law division. Thank you for your attention and cooperation.

Sincerely,

Chris Hanson

FAMILY LAW DIVISION

In re: the Marriage of:

SARAH HANSON,

Petitioner/Wife,

Case No.: 24-DR-001150

and

CHRISTOPHER HANSON,

Division: D

Respondent/Husband.

WIFE’S MOTION FOR PSYCHOLOGICAL EXAMINATION OF HUSBAND

Petitioner, Sarah Hanson, by and through the undersigned attorney, and pursuant to Fla. Fam. L. R. P. 12.360, files this Motion for Psychological Examination of Husband. As grounds therefore, Wife states as follows:

1. The parties to this action are Petitioner, Sarah Hanson (“Wife”) and Respondent, Christopher Hanson (“Husband”), collectively, (the “Parties”).
2. Pending before the Court is Wife’s Amended Petition for Dissolution of Marriage with Minor Children and for Other Related Relief (“Wife’s Amended Petition”) [DIN 42].
3. There are two (2) minor children who were born to the Parties during the marriage, to wit: H.G.H., a female, born October 2017, at Tampa, Florida; and H.G.H., a female, born July 2019, at Tampa, Florida (the “Children”).
4. On May 16, 2024, Husband filed a Response to Motion to Compel Payments and Motion to Compel Evidence of Marital Assets and Financial Information [DIN 22] wherein Husband stated:
 - a. Husband has “severe mental, physical, and emotional conditions...” (§ 21).
 - b. Husband “is undergoing invasive treatments both for physical and psychiatric issues...” (§ 22).

- c. Husband “will soon start daily (5 days per week) TMS treatments that will increase the time and cost of necessary medical care.” (§ 22).
 - d. Husband acknowledged that he “momentarily refused to provide payment for [the Children’s] expenses, certainly in part out of anger and frustration...” (Emphasis added).
- 5. Husband has also made other references to his mental state in connection with this litigation.
 - 6. Husband’s behavior and actions in connection with this litigation, including filing communications with his attorney with the Court, have become increasingly unstable and erratic.
 - 7. A parent involved in a dispute relating to parental responsibility and time-sharing may be required to submit for a psychological examination by a qualified expert when a parent’s mental health is in controversy. See Fla. Fam. L. R. P. 12.360.
 - 8. Where good cause is shown and the mental condition of a party is in controversy, the Court may order a psychological evaluation. See Williams v. Williams, 500 So. 2d 166 (Fla. 2d DCA 1989).
 - 9. Pursuant to section 61.13(3)(g), Florida Statutes, a trial court is required to consider the mental health of the parents for the purposes of determining parental responsibility and time-sharing in order to determine the best interests of the children.
 - 10. A parent’s mental state is typically at issue in a custody hearing only when there are verified allegations that the parent in question is having mental problems that could substantially impact his or her ability to properly raise children. See Wade v. Wade, 124 So. 3d 369 (Fla. 3d DCA 2013).

11. The mental state of a parent, even though “in controversy,” cannot adequately be evidenced without the assistance of an expert medical testimony. See Gasparino v. Murphy, 352 So. 2d 933 (Fla. 2d DCA 1997).
12. It is in the best interests of the Children that Husband undergo a psychological examination to aid the Court in determining Husband’s present ability to parent the Children, and whether Husband requires any additional treatment for any mental health conditions.
13. Husband should be solely responsible for the costs of any psychological testing, psychological examination, and any recommended treatments for the Husband.

WHEREFORE, the Wife, Sarah Hanson, respectfully requests that this Honorable Court enter an Order awarding the following relief:

- A. Order that Husband undergo a psychological examination to aid the Court in determining Husband’s present ability to parent the Children, and whether Husband requires any additional treatment for any mental health conditions;
- B. Require Husband to be solely responsible for the costs of any psychological testing, psychological examination, and any recommended treatments for the Husband; and
- C. Grant any other relief that the Court finds to be necessary or appropriate in this matter.

NOTICE OF GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES

1. The enclosed letter is an official inquiry by bar counsel. Your response is required under Rule 4-8.4(g) of the Rules Regulating The Florida Bar. Rule 4-8.4(g)(1) and (2) require that a lawyer submit a written response within 15 days to an initial inquiry and within 10 days to any follow-up inquiry made by bar counsel, the grievance committee or the board of governors during the course of an investigation of the lawyer's conduct. If you do not respond, the matter will be forwarded to the grievance committee for disposition in accordance with Rule 3-7.3. Failure to respond may also be a matter of contempt and processed in accordance with Rule 3-7.11(f).
2. Many inquiries considered first by staff counsel are not forwarded to a grievance committee, as they do not involve violations of the Rules of Professional Conduct justifying disciplinary action.
3. Pursuant to Rule 3-7.1, any reports, correspondence, papers, recordings and/or transcripts of hearings submitted by you in this matter shall become accessible to the public upon dismissal or a decision by the grievance committee. Please advise Bar Counsel if you believe any material provided to The Florida Bar is confidential under applicable law and identify the basis of your claim that the material is confidential. Please note that The Florida Bar is required to acknowledge the status of proceedings during the pendency of an investigation, if a specific inquiry is made and the matter is deemed to be in the public domain.
4. The grievance committee is the Bar's "grand jury." Proceedings before the grievance committee are non-adversarial in nature. The grievance committee's function and procedures are set forth in Rule 3-7.4.
5. If the grievance committee finds probable cause, formal adversarial proceedings before the Supreme Court of Florida will be initiated pursuant to Rule 3-7.6. A referee will make a recommendation as to guilt and discipline to The Supreme Court of Florida, unless a plea is submitted pursuant to Rule 3-7.9.

Re: Response to The Florida Bar File No. 2026-10,395(13F)

Dear Mr. Sheridan, Bar Counsel and to whom it may concern,

I am writing to formally respond to the complaint filed against me as referenced above. I take the allegations seriously and intend to provide a thorough and factual response addressing each point raised in the complaint.

Unfortunately, Judge Ayers includes no information whatsoever about what she believes to be false nor stated with reckless disregard as to its truth. She simply cites the rule and attaches very public statements I've made going back a few months. I need to have her specify precisely what she believes is anything less than true and well-supported by the cited evidence.

Lack of specificity in complaint and demand for response raise due process issues

The Rules Regulating The Florida Bar require that a complaint contain sufficient factual allegations to reasonably inform the respondent of the conduct at issue so that a meaningful response can be prepared. Under Rule 3-7.1, the Bar's intake counsel has the authority to dismiss complaints that are vague, conclusory, or lack sufficient factual specificity to support a violation of the Rules of Professional Conduct.

The complaint only cites two rules accompanied by public statements and screenshots without sworn factual allegations or a clear identification of specific misconduct. Such a complaint raises legitimate questions about whether it met the Bar's threshold for forwarding to me for a formal response rather than dismissal at intake. Under Rule 3-7.1, I believe the Bar's intake counsel has the discretion to dismiss complaints that are vague, conclusory, or lack sufficient factual specificity to support a violation of the Rules of Professional Conduct? Was consideration given to that option?

What are my options in securing a more definitive statement about the complaint?

I'd like to have the opportunity to review and assess what the allegations against me are. I hope you can understand that from the complaint, it's literally impossible for me to respond to the alleged violation of Rule 4-8.2(a) and/or Rule 4-8.4(d). In contrast, you'll find links here to complaints I submitted to the JCC on Ayers and the Florida Bar on Davis.

JQC complaint on Ayers: <https://tinyurl.com/2jm32u6a>

Bar complaint on Davis: <https://tinyurl.com/8swrd3uc>

I provided a comprehensive and well-supported narrative outlining a pattern of many intentional ethical violations from Davis. Yet, despite constitutional requirements for transparency, the rule making public all submissions from bar complaint respondents, and my focused public records request, the Florida Bar has not even advised me of whether Mr. Davis was ever even required to draft a response to my detailed allegations.

Frankly, I have trouble understanding how Ayers' bar complaint made it this far? Has she sworn to anything whatsoever in relation to my purported violations of these ethical rules? I state a lot of facts in the 20+ pages of screenshots she included with the complaint referencing only the rules that theoretically she believes were violated. How does that qualify as a bar complaint to which anyone could ever respond substantively?

Concern over retaliation, bias, and systemic corruption preventing a fair process with the Florida bar:

As explained in my initial email response, Judge Ayers is corrupt and vindictive. The complaint is 100 percent baseless and retaliatory for my JCC complaint and continuing efforts to ensure accountability for serious systemic corruption eroding confidence in the Judiciary. Judge Ayers is at the center of that now and this complaint further highlights her unfitness for the bench.

Again, I urge you to consider the level of bias and corruption that support real concerns about whether I can get a fair process, especially given my allegations about “clubhouse corruption” in the 13th Circuit Family bar and the bar’s assignment of a family law attorney to this complaint.

I had one goal when this situation started as noted in my filing from May of 2024 – timely obtain the financial discovery at issue while keeping things efficient and civil for my children. Massive corruption and cover- ups have ensued. No one has disputed my allegations. Instead, insider protectionism throughout the higher levels of Florida’s judicial system took over, attempting to sweep the misconduct of the original few, under the rug. All of this continues to cause significant damage to my and my family’s financial, emotional, and overall well-being.

Expanding Systemic Corruption:

“The cover up is worse than the crime.” The facts illuminate serious institutional corruption that so far, no one has the integrity and courage to acknowledge. That doesn’t make it untrue. I’m fully prepared to litigate the veracity of my’ statements in any and all venues it may become appropriate. I do ask for the opportunity to question my accusers consistent with the fundamental principles of due process and fairness guaranteed by the Constitution. The right to confront and cross-examine witnesses or accusers is a cornerstone of our legal system, ensuring that allegations are tested and verified before any adverse conclusions are drawn. Without this opportunity, the process risks becoming one-sided and unjust, undermining the integrity of the disciplinary proceedings and my ability to mount a full and fair defense.

Conclusion:

Please consider this letter and my original email as only the preliminary draft of my written response. I will provide detailed explanations and supporting documentation as necessary in subsequent communications, especially if and when Judge Ayers provides some details on what facts she believes are untrue.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

/s/ Chris Hanson

Florida Bar Complaint — Vivian Hodz, File No. 2026-10,601(13E) (w/ exhibits)

The Florida Bar disciplinary record

FLORIDA BAR COMPLAINT

COMPLAINANT: Christopher A. Hanson

RESPONDENT: Vivian Cortes Hodz (Bar No. 574643)

FIRM: Cortes Hodz Family Law & Mediation, P.A.

I. INTRODUCTION AND OVERVIEW

I retained Ms. Hodz on October 3, 2024, for a singular, explicit objective: to obtain financial discovery that opposing counsel (Scott Davis) had been concealing. Ms. Hodz accepted the representation with full knowledge of the ongoing difficulty and obstruction from the other side. October 21, 2024, she induced my reliance by stating in writing: "...I assure you that you will get the answers that you need to move forward." Exhibit A below, p. 5-8 below. (Exhibit list at p. 4 below)

Instead of fulfilling this promise, Ms. Hodz abandoned the case immediately after conferring with opposing counsel, Davis, performed no substantive work, and colluded to "rush" a withdrawal hearing on 24 hours' notice. I waived attorney-client privilege in open court to allow her to justify her withdrawal. She failed to offer any explanation about the conference with Davis resulting in her improper capitulation without getting me the information I remained entitled to under the law. She failed to justify any factual or legal basis for the withdrawal let alone any grounds to rush the proceedings, against her client's interests.

II. STATEMENT OF FACTS

1. The Assurance: On October 21, 2024, Ms. Hodz assured me via email that she would obtain the necessary discovery records [Exhibit A].
2. The Shift: On November 15, 2024, Ms. Hodz held a phone conference with opposing counsel, Scott Davis. Immediately following this call, her attitude shifted 180 degrees. She informed me she could no longer help because "they are not going to cooperate with anything," despite having filed no motions to compel.
3. The Rushed Withdrawal: On December 3, Ms. Hodz filed a Motion to Withdraw set for January 6, 2025. However, on December 11, she filed an "Expedited Motion," moving the hearing to December 13—giving me only 24 hours' notice. Somehow, the Court, and opposing coordinated the hearing to occur with about 1 day's notice, ignoring my inability to attend. (Exhibit C: Composite Emails from Dec 11 & 12, 2024 (Pleading for time and providing notice of unavailability)).
4. The Waiver of Privilege: At the December 13 hearing, I explicitly stated to the Court: "I am waiving any attorney-client privilege. I just want to put the cards on the table... Ms. Hodz is aware of that." [Exhibit B: at p. 9 from the Dec 13 Transcript].

5. The Silence: Despite this waiver removing all ethical barriers to disclosure, Ms. Hodz refused to state a single fact justifying "irreconcilable differences." She offered no evidence of the "repugnant" conduct her firm later alleged.

6. The Default: Immediately following her withdrawal on December 13, opposing counsel filed a Motion for Judicial Default against me for a pleading due that very day—a deadline Ms. Hodz knew about, failed to meet, and failed to warn me of.

III. SPECIFIC ACTS OF MISCONDUCT

1. Abandonment & Failure to Protect Client Interests (Rule 4-1.16(d))

Rule 4-1.16(d) requires a withdrawing lawyer to "take steps to the extent reasonably practicable to protect a client's interest." Ms. Hodz actively prejudiced my interests with no justification under the facts.

- The Privilege Waiver Proves Lack of Cause: Attorneys often cite "irreconcilable differences" to protect client secrets. However, I explicitly waived attorney-client privilege on the record [Exhibit B, p. 4]. This removed any barrier for Ms. Hodz to explain her withdrawal. Her failure to articulate a single specific instance of client misconduct—when she was free to do so—confirms that no valid cause existed. She withdrew simply because opposing counsel was difficult, which is not "good cause" under the rules.

- The 24-Hour Ambush: Despite my written pleas on December 11 and 12 that I was unavailable and needed time to find counsel [Exhibit C], Ms. Hodz proceeded with an expedited hearing on 24 hours' notice. She prioritized her need to avoid much need scrutiny assessing her abandonment over my due process rights. EMAILS at exhibit C below, p. 10-18.

2. Lack of Diligence & The "Default" (Rule 4-1.3)

Rule 4-1.3 requires reasonable diligence. Ms. Hodz's negligence exposed me to a default judgment, I was able to avoid thru my own rushed efforts.

- The Violation: A Response to the Amended Petition was due on December 13, 2024. Ms. Hodz was my attorney of record until 4:55 PM that day. She did not draft the response, did not file it, and did not warn me of the deadline.

- The Harm: She withdrew at the exact moment the deadline expired. Opposing counsel immediately filed a Motion for Judicial Default [Exhibit D]. Ms. Hodz effectively walked her client into a procedural trap set by the opposing counsel she had just conferred with.

3. Lack of Candor Toward the Tribunal (Rule 4-3.3)

- The False Narrative: At a rehearing over her withdrawal on January 9, 2025, Ms. Hodz's law partner (appearing on her behalf) stated to the Court that representation had become "repugnant" and that I had "attacked" Ms. Hodz.

- The Evidence of Deceit: These statements were materially false. My emails [Exhibit C] show only polite, desperate pleas for the work she promised to do. Furthermore, simply 27 days prior, at the December 13 hearing where I waived privilege, Ms. Hodz failed to mention any "attacks" or "repugnant" behavior when given the opportunity. She allowed false justifications to be placed on the record to cover her abandonment.

4. Failure to Communicate (Rule 4-1.4)

- Withholding the File: In the days leading up to the rushed hearing, Ms. Hodz failed to timely provide the case file, specifically the "draft" Motion to Compel or do any other work to advance the client interest she was paid to complete. She provided a confusing digital drop-box less than 24 hours before the hearing, making it impossible for me to prepare or retain new counsel in time.
- The Secret Conference: She refused to explain why her outlook on the case changed immediately after speaking with Scott Davis on November 15, despite my specific inquiries. A client has a right to know if their attorney has been intimidated or influenced by opposing counsel.

IV. CONCLUSION

Ms. Hodz accepted a retainer to perform specific work, performed none of it, and then "switched sides" after a single conversation with opposing counsel. The silence in offering an explanation for the withdrawal based in the facts is essentially confirmation of what I'm stating here in light of my privilege waiver. When a client stands in open court and says, "I waive privilege, tell the Judge what I did wrong," and the attorney withdrawing has no explanation, it is an admission that the client did nothing wrong. Ms. Hodz withdrew to protect herself and opposing counsel, leaving me defenseless against an unscrupulous attorney and a default motion she knew was coming.

Subject: Re: HANSON - Fraud Analysis and questions on Ocs petition dissolution.

Good morning Vivian and Jennifer. I hope you both had good weekends. The parts that frustrate me the most are the delays in issuing an RTP despite several requests, they haven't prepared the motion to compel with additional arguments, and the failure to document any email attempt or any communication other than a form letter in order to get something the attorney stipulated he'd provide 4 months. Especially considering that this is the only issue that required an attorney.

I thought about the most recent amended petition addressing the kids. And wanted to share some thoughts with you. If it's irrelevant stuff that's nothing more than distraction at this point, feel free to highlight those parts so I can start to learn what's worth sharing.

The custody thing is such an immense shocker. I have no idea what would cause this change from something I'm doing. But if she's concerned about the kid's welfare at my home or under my care, I'd like to know why that is. I'd correct whatever her concern would be if there's any merit or just to appease her. Can we email OC with a good faith request for some explanation in the interests of the children? I can draft a couple of sentences if you want to just attribute it to me.

I mentioned to you about what Hope said on Tuesday about "mommy and I have a lot of secrets I can't tell you...." Then she told me about "mommy and her friend sending a text that was going to make me really angry." Then with me reading their amended petition more closely and thinking that's got to be what she referenced.

I thought back to an event that concerns me more now that occurred about 3 months ago. The kids facetime every night with their parent they're not staying with at the time. I always try to give the kids space where I'm not hearing their conversation with mom. One night, I overheard Hope tell her mom, "And daddy didn't even feed us dinner," It was a blatant lie. And I went into her room and called her out on it in front of her mom. I was really frustrated with Hope, but she couldn't or wouldn't tell me why she said that.

There's been other occasions where Hope told me that she "doesn't like when mommy says rude things" about me. I'm concerned about Sarah suggesting negative things to them about me. Or even asking questions in a way to encourage the kids to make up stories about me, like the "no dinner" thing.

It's another reason why I'd like to ask the questions mentioned above about what is occurring with the custody change. It may simply be untrue. I still have a great relationship with both kids. I have zero secrets with them from their mom and I only say positive things about her. I'm not getting the same courtesy. I've been bullied in this situation for years. Trying to make something work with someone who doesn't want it to work is rough.

I want you to know that I was doing extremely well with the separation before this financial records issue came up in May. I was dating someone seriously that I really cared about, even close to telling Sarah about her and discussing introducing the kids. I broke it off around the time all this came up and have not dated since. I never told Sarah I was dating, but I think she probably knew. I don't think kids knew. I just want you to know that I'm at peace with the separation and even all that lead to it. There are things that happened before the separation that I think are important still. Like her telling me she only had $16,000, refusing to allow either of us to rent someplace, needing the 100k for downpayment etc.

My only problem now is her clearly lying about finances for years and now putting us all through this to try and keep it hidden. If you can bring that info out into the open, I really think we can resolve just about everything else. Sarah and I were at Hope's gymnastics meet yesterday and were friendly with each other.

The only thing I care about are getting to the bottom of what Sarah is hiding, and now unfortunately, we have a second one given Sarah's recent pleading. I still think the custody thing goes away once the records are in the open.

One other thing that I thought was worth mentioning is that when Sarah first refused to produce records, I was livid. I told her I didn't care about any affairs or giving her family some money here and there, etc. I just wanted to resolve it to avoid all of this and said whatever I could to make it happen. At one point, I said something like, "If you actively defrauded me in the separation agreement, lied to me throughout much of the marriage about finances, left when I had health and career problems, and now you're going to put our family thru the stress and expense of litigation over hiding your fraud, I would go after primary custody of the kids." There are other reasons that would support it I won't mention here because it doesn't matter now.

I wonder if her filing about custody is in anticipation of that intention I told her a few months ago. I don't want to fight about custody. I think 50/50 is best for the kids and what we'd get after wasting lots of time and money. But, I wonder if seeking primary custody is necessary just to get a compromise at 50/50? And let the Judge know that I want the kids just as much as she does?

Last thing her is, I know we never want to denigrate another attorney's work. And I hope you know that's not what I'm asking you to do here. I've read the first few lines of your email below several times and I can't tell if you think the last law firm's work for me is sort of "par for the course" or what. I can already tell that your firm is different and I want you as my attorney. But just let me know if you think that given my frustration with the past firm, you have any concerns about whether another attorney would be a better a fit for what my goal is here.

I really need someone that's going to fight for me on this. Please let me know if you want to discuss anything. I believe there's a couple more emails that came thru over the weekend, and I'll take a look at those now. Thanks.

Chris

Good afternoon Chris,

Thank you for sending these following our meeting yesterday. Upon review of the email chains it seems that a significant amount of time and effort has been made by HH&D on the outstanding discovery issues – at least in this most recent week as well as on your matter as a whole. Again, I understand your concerns as to the issues having been lingering and unaddressed in the past.

Given the amount of time and knowledge your existing attorneys have as to the matter I think it would be most effective for them to continue representing you through the October 28th hearing and would recommend that you respond to them as to the amended responsive filing and proposed stipulation to Attorney Davis with approval for them to move forward with the filing and the efforts at a amicable resolution of the issue. Both are appropriate, reasonable and consistent with actions I would recommend.

This is a departure of what I expected and strategized with you yesterday, however, in reviewing the actual emails and efforts being made on your behalf I do not have any concerns remaining on the sidelines at this time. I am going to hold off on contacting Mr. Davis at this time.

I would, however, like to attend any hearing that you have with your current attorneys next week to begin to work with them under the concept of phasing them out as your counsel and/or co-counsel that way I can be fully involved in how

1 should be stricken from the record or not.

2 THE HUSBAND: Okay. Your Honor, I filed
3 several more documents where I got receipts saying
4 that they had been formally received and processed.
5 I've never e-filed -- I e-filed one thing early in 6 this case, a response to a motion before I had an 7 attorney, but that's my only experience with 8 e-filing and --

9 THE COURT: I see -- I see on Docket Number
10 74, there's a letter from you. There's a notice,
11 Docket Number 73. There is an objection, and I
12 will just glance at it; it's Respondent's Motion on 13 Rulings for Objection, Number 72. Then there are 14 exhibits filed from 59 through 66. And then I also 15 see another letter which is from you; again, it's 16 an email correspondence between you and your 17 lawyer, and then another email. So it looks like 18 four emails and then a bunch of exhibits.

19 THE HUSBAND: Okay. And Ms. Hodz is aware
20 that I am waiving any attorney-client privilege. I
21 just want to put the cards on the table. I don't 22 have any concerns about anything that has been 23 discussed either way. So Ms. Hodz is aware of 24 that.

Hi Ms. Heyward - I am not trying to be difficult now and haven't been throughout this process. It really bothers me that you and others probably have the opposite impression from looking at recent filings.

Sorry for the lengthy email here. I need to condense it and get it and some other info in a pleading, I assume? If you have a minute to talk tomorrow, I can save you the trouble of reading all this by explaining my position over the phone. I have a few questions I'm hoping you may be able to answer for me about any rights I may have.

I really just want this behind me and I'm doing what I think is best to get to a timely fair result. I'm pleading the Court to give me some more time to prepare for this hearing because Ms. Hodz withdrawing in the manner she is attempting will absolutely be unduly prejudicial to my objectives in this case and our family's future.

All of this has been rushed upon me directly against my pleas to Ms. Hodz for information and more time. Even with a couple weeks for me to prepare for the hearing on this motion, I'm extremely confident that any other option I have is worse in light of the history here. It's very important that I have a chance to lay that out given the likely prejudice, not the least of which is finding a 3rd attorney to take my case when the 1st and 2nd ones didn't do any of the actual legal work. It seems like they both put that off and when everything couldn't just get wrapped up in a mediation agreement, she refused to help.

I have never practiced in circuit or county Court in my life. I was a work comp defense attorney for 16 years under the JCC/DOAH. It's a completely different system so all of this is foreign to me.

This simple discovery issue is the single biggest obstacle to everyone getting through this. It's the root of all this and it's easily fixable if we just get some information out there and Ms. Hodz helps me through the relevant law and procedures.

Ms. Hodz is still my attorney of record. I'm asking her to remain my attorney and help me thru at least this simple discovery issue that's already required 2 attorneys who initially told me it would be very routine to get 3 years of records. I already provided that and far more extensive records in response to their discovery requests.

A lawyer of Ms. Hodz's caliber should be responsible for completing that assignment when nothing has changed about the objectives and the urgency from when she accepted the case.

It's worth noting that Ms. Hodz had already indicated her intent to withdraw based on my refusal to resolve an issue she wanted resolved before I sent any email to Mr. Davis. I told her I'd negotiate in good faith on everything required of me, but besides that, my sole objective remained getting the records I sought from the start of this.

Also, I advised that I would immediately stop emailing Mr. Davis if Ms. Hodz simply agreed to actively work on my case again.

I don't believe there is any good faith reason to withdraw especially in light of the prejudice - more delay, expense, and negative impact on our family. I'm not making any demands on anything other than my sole objective in the case which has always remained the same since I first spoke to Katherine about 8 months ago, getting some discovery back from Petitioner as timely as possible.

I'm waiving any attorney client privilege so Ms. Hodz - please feel free to file anything that I wrote and/or disclosed in otherwise privileged conversations.

It's amazing that Ms. Hodz and Mr. Davis are able to connect so quick in this instance, when it's directly opposed to my interests.

It took Ms. Hodz and Mr. Davis several weeks if not a couple of months to connect on a simple phone call for my urgent issue that I thought was at the center or all this. Ms. Hodz has placed me in a terrible position, giving me only 4 days notice of her immediate withdrawal, with the refusal to answer any questions starting immediately on Monday 12-2.

It's been nearly 10 days since her sudden motion to withdraw, and Ms. Hodz still hasn't provided me with my file.

Ms. Hodz was kind enough to confirm that she did no work on the motion to compel the response to my RTP, precisely the reason I retained her in the first place - the first attorney agreed to get that filed before the 10-28 hearing and failed.

Ms Hodz also requested an extension on a response and counter petition when she knew I was very anxious to address some claims in that, and to the best of my memory, she never discussed the extension with me.

She did zero work on it despite my requests that she do so and advise on whether I should plead for primary custody or agree to 50/50. She never responded on that, and I believe is still refusing to tell me when it's actually due, is that right, Ms. Hodz?

Right after the conference with Mr. Davis, Ms. Hodz's attitude completely changed from "this is routine, I'll get you the records," to "I don't think I can help you." I hired Ms. Hodz to help when the other side won't cooperate with something reasonable, not suddenly find a reason to quit.

I had the same experience with Ms. Samarkos. Her attitude was that "we'd be working it out with OC any day" before talking with Mr. Davis. After the call with Mr. Davis, the message was, "they're not going to cooperate on literally anything."

My family shouldn't have to suffer increased delays, costs, and stress because Ms. Hodz finds the work is more contentious than she'd like. I'm not the one making all this contentious. I really need an opportunity to lay some of this out in a concise manner before and at the hearing.

I'm truly unavailable each of the times sent in the message below - kid commitments and doctor appointments. I'm ok keeping the hearing right around January 6, 2025. Or I can try between Christmas and New Years but otherwise I'm busy with multiple medical appointments, obligations with the kids and holiday plans.

My only requests are that we consider it an evidentiary hearing and set aside an hour to consider this motion that's critical to this litigation. Please let me know on any guidance you can offer and again, please excuse this to the extent it's just a rant. Thanks.

I am unable to attend as I explained in an email last night. I object to the hearing occurring without me. I have serious health, family and legal problems related to this and I pray the Court will take that seriously or at least give me an opportunity to be heard. This certainly doesn't.

And I simply cannot be there. Hope has a 7 year check up this afternoon and then gymnastics and a Christmas party and I cannot miss all of that.

Also, as the litigant, do I have any rights? Or you can force me to attend a hearing on a day's notice when I've begged for a hearing on the one issue in this case for 8 months?

This motion was filed without my review. The timeline Ms Hodz has laid out is draconian and unbelievably and almost purposefully prejudicial.

If the hearing will go forward without me, please let me know and I'll do my best to get some information filed for the Courts consideration. Please let me know either way.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE THIRTEENTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
IN AND FOR HILLSBOROUGH COUNTY, STATE OF FLORIDA
FAMILY LAW DIVISION

In re: the Marriage of:

SARAH HANSON,

Petitioner/Wife,

and

CHRISTOPHER HANSON,

Division: D

Respondent/Husband.

WIFE'S MOTION FOR JUDICIAL DEFAULT

Petitioner, Sarah Hanson ("Wife"), by and through the undersigned attorney, moves this Court for entry of a Judicial Default against Respondent, Christopher Hanson ("Husband"). As grounds therefore, Wife states as follows:

1. On April 4, 2024, Husband was served with the Joint Petition for Dissolution of Marriage with Dependent/Minor Children (the "Petition") [DIN 5].
2. Husband never filed a written response to the Petition.
3. Fla. R. Fam. L. P. 12.190 (a) provides in relevant part that "[a] party may amend a pleading once as a matter of course at any time before a responsive pleading is served . . ."
4. On October 2, 2024, Wife filed an Amended Petition for Petition for Dissolution of Marriage and for Other Relief (the "Amended Petition") [DIN 42].
5. Fla. R. Fam. L. P. 12.190 (a) provides in relevant part that "[a] party must plead in response to an amended pleading within 10 days after service of the amended pleading unless the court otherwise orders."
6. Pursuant to Fla. R. Fam. L. P. 12.190 (a), Husband's answer to Wife's Amended Petition was due on Monday, October 14, 2024.

7. Wife acknowledges that on November 11, 2024, counsel for Husband filed a Motion for Extension of Time to File Answer to Wife's Amended Petition for Dissolution of Marriage ("Husband's Motion for Extension of Time") [DIN 52]; however, the Court should take the following facts into consideration:

a. Husband requested an additional 30 days to file his Answer to Wife's Amended Petition and the 30-day period has expired; and

b. In an email from Husband's current attorney, Vivian Cortes Hodz, Esq., to Husband dated December 2, 2024, which Husband¹ intentionally filed with the Court on December 13, 2024, at 2:10 a.m. [DIN 64] thereby waiving attorney-client privilege, Ms. Hodz, advised Husband that his prior counsel "HH&D had prepared a rough draft" of the responsive pleading to the Amended Petition.

8. As of the date of the filing of this motion, which is 73 days after the filing of Wife's Amended Petition, Husband has failed to file a response to Wife's Amended Petition. (Emphasis added).

9. Somewhat ironically, on December 13, 2024, between the hours of 1:16 a.m. and 2:51 a.m., Husband electronically filed eight (8) emails with the Court [DIN 59-66], several of which he asserts intentional delay by Wife, yet at the same time, Husband has failed to file a pleading responding to Wife's Amended Petition during the past 73 days.

10. Wife acknowledges that the Court cannot default Husband regarding issues relating to parental responsibility and time-sharing.

11. Accordingly, Wife moves for a judicial default against Husband for all issues other than parental responsibility and time-sharing.

WIFE'S REQUEST FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Wife respectfully requests this Court enter an order granting the following relief:

- A. Entering a judicial default against Husband for all matters pled in Wife's Amended Petition other than those which relate to parental responsibility and time-sharing; and
- B. Granting any further relief the Court deems proper under the circumstances.

1 that's not fair.

2 MR. HANSON: It's not a possibility because
3 the prenup --

4 THE COURT: Mr. Hanson, I'm gonna stop you.

5 We cannot talk about the prenup because
6 Mr. Davis is not here.

7 We are here on a Motion to Withdraw, and I
8 need a legal basis -- and I've already given you
9 the only example I can think of off the top of my 10 head is that we have an impending trial and 11 Ms. Hodz is trying to get out before this trial
12 is set. That's the only reason I can think of 13 that I would not allow a Motion to Withdraw.

14 So have you found a legal basis that would
15 prohibit me from allowing Ms. Hodz to withdraw?

16 MR. HODZ: Judge, I'm sorry. I just want to 17 interject for a minute.

19 THE COURT: I know.

20 MR. HODZ: I thought you said there was a
21 trial.

22 THE COURT: No. That was the -- I'm trying
23 to think of, in my 30 plus years of practicing, I
24 think I've only seen one Motion to Withdraw not
25 granted, and that's because there was a jury

1 trial next week. So that's the only thing I can 2 think of. So that's what my questions is.

3 Before Mr. Hanson answers, we do have a court
4 reporter. Would you like to put your position on 5 the record, Mr. Hodz?

6 MR. HODZ: Yes, I will, Judge.

7 THE COURT: Okay.

8 MR. HODZ: So this isn't about Mr. Davis or 9 discovery. This is about -- we cite it in our 10 motion, Judge -- in the original Motion to 11 Withdraw.

12 It has become repugnant, unfortunately, to 13 represent Mr. Hanson. He has attacked Ms. Hodz.
14 He has not followed advice. I won't get into it
15 past there. He's waived some attorney/client
16 privilege, it seems, by filing communications
17 with the Court.

18 But there's zero prejudice to him. Whether 19 this hearing was on a one-day notice or four 20 weeks notice, there was zero prejudice to him,
21 whatsoever.

22 He can clearly file stuff on his own. I've 23 seen the barrage of it come through in the last 24 -- I don't know -- less than 24 hours. There was 25 a Motion for Extension of Time filed to file his

1 responsive pleading. I know Mr. Davis has filed
2 a Motion for Judicial Default. There's a simple
3 remedy for it. You file the answer before
4 default's entered by the Court. You're entitled
5 to plead.

6 I don't know why Mr. Hanson is fighting so
7 much for my firm and Ms. Hodz to stay on, but
8 we -- it's probably borderline, at this point --
9 we have to withdraw. That's how bad it's gotten.

10 Mr. Hanson has attacked Ms. Hodz, just 11 continuously berated her and sent a barrage of 12 e-mails. It has to end. We cannot represent 13 him.

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MR. HODZ: We will not represent him. I
16 don't think, ethically, we can.

17 THE COURT: Mr. Hanson, I'll give you one
18 follow-up, please.

19 MR. HANSON: Your Honor, I have a lot to say
20 to that. There's a lot of very serious
21 allegations in there about me that don't have any 22 basis in reality.

23 Repugnant? I'd like to know what I've done
24 that makes representing me repugnant.

25 He said that I've attacked Ms. Hodz

1 repeatedly. I'd like for him to provide some
2 basis for that because these conclusory,
3 non-true, inaccurate summations of what I've done
4 are problematic.

5 I deserve some findings of fact here. The 6 facts are that Ms. Hodz made the decision that 7 she wanted to withdraw. In the conversation that 8 we had right after she spoke with Mr. Davis, and 9 she said, either you have to agree to this stuff
10 that they want you to agree to that came up long
11 after the discovery issue that you care about,
12 even though you told me that all of this other
13 stuff would happen if the discovery issue weren't 14 resolved, and I said, I can't do that. The 15 discovery issue is still my objective. No change
16 in facts, law, or objective, and that's when 17 Ms. Hodz decided to withdraw.

18 What's happened since then isn't relevant to 19 whether Ms. Hodz should be able to withdraw
20 because she put me in a position where there -- I
21 didn't have any assistance. Immediately, she cut 22 me off from help. It was ten days before she 23 even attempted to send me the file materials.

24 I've talked about the prejudice to my health,
25 to my children. It's not like the timeliness of

TO: THE FLORIDA BAR

RE: Complaint by Christopher A. Hanson

FILE NO: 2026-10,601 (13E)

RESPONDENT: Vivian Cortes Hodz

REBUTTAL TO THE MARCH 11, 2026 RESPONSE OF VIVIAN CORTES HODZ

The Respondent's March 11, 2026 response is a calculated effort to recharacterize her "strategic abandonment" of a client as a necessary withdrawal. The record— consisting of the Respondent's own billing entries, sworn court filings, and contemporaneous emails— conclusively proves that she was hired for a singular, litigation-intensive objective: forcing compliance with financial discovery in the face of ongoing obstruction and fraud.

The Respondent abandoned this objective at the "critical hour" of enforcement and utilized procedurally aggressive tactics to effectuate a withdrawal over the Complainant's documented unavailability and a pending judicial default.

I. THE OCTOBER 3RD MANDATE: SCOPE DEFINED AT INTAKE

In her response, Ms. Hodz relies on a boilerplate "mediation" label in her fee agreement. This is a material misrepresentation of the actual scope defined and accepted at intake.

1. The Singular Objective (Oct 3, 2024): Before a retainer was paid, the Complainant defined the scope: "The subject to the hearing all relates to them producing documents ... They had agreed to produce mandatory disclosures ... They've also objected to a subpoena to her bank and our RTP."
2. Litigation Trigger: The Complainant explicitly noted the hire was necessitated by the opposition's failure to comply with discovery obligations due three months ago, per a stipulation they reached.

Argument: Ms. Hodz accepted a retainer based on a specific litigation mandate. Her claim that "no significant litigation was envisioned" contradicts the very instructions she accepted to induce the representation.

II. BREACH OF EXPRESS ASSURANCES AND INFORMED CONSENT

Ms. Hodz suggests the case was "simple" and "not extensively contested." This ignores the specific "fit inquiry" and her subsequent promises.

1. The Option to back out after seeing the fight that was coming (Oct 21, 2024): The Complainant explicitly challenged Ms. Hodz's resolve: "But just let me know if you think that... you have any concerns about whether another attorney would be a better fit... I really need someone that's going to fight for me on this."

2. The Binding Assurance: Ms. Hodz did not mention a limited "mediation-only" scope.

She promised results to secure the client: "I understand your frustrations... I assure you that you will get the answers that you need to move forward."

III. LACK OF DILIGENCE: WEAPONIZING OPPOSING COUNSEL'S EVASIVENESS

The Respondent failed to act with reasonable diligence and promptness in representing me, directly violating Rule 4-1.3.

1. Halt of Legal Work: Following her written assurances that she would secure the concealed records, Attorney Hodz failed to perform the appropriate legal work on the Complainant's behalf. Instead of filing the necessary enforcement motions to compel the overdue discovery, Ms. Hodz simply waited for a phone call with Mr. Davis (which they delayed multiple times).

2. Permitting Obstruction: She actively permitted Mr. Davis to continuously delay and put off this basic meet-and-confer conference for months, effectively weaponizing his evasiveness to stall the entire case. As the Complainant contemporaneously documented on November 2, 2024: "Even OC continually putting your call off is an example of it. He's shirked his responsibility for over 4 months..."

3. The Unexplained Pivot: The Circuit Court record confirms that the Respondent's entire strategy was improperly tethered to this single, delayed phone call. As sworn in the Complainant's court filings: "Right after the conference with Mr. Davis, Ms. Hodz's attitude completely changed from 'this is routine, I'll get you the records,' to 'I don't think I can help you.'" (See 13th Circuit Dockets #112, ¶9; #167). She immediately moved to withdraw despite absolutely no change in the underlying facts, the law, or the singular objective she was hired to complete.

IV. FAILURE TO COMMUNICATE AND ABIDE BY CLIENT DECISIONS

The Respondent's response omits her failure to abide by the Complainant's decisions regarding the objectives of the representation (Rule 4-1.2(a)) and her failure to communicate (Rule 4-1.4).

1. Refusal to Address Deficient Compliance: On November 4, 2024, the Complainant provided the Respondent with specific, written analysis detailing how the opposition's "Certificate of Compliance" fraudulently limited financial disclosures to the "last 12 months" in direct violation of the timeframes mandated by Rule 12.285. Despite explicit directives from the Complainant to address this obvious failure, the Respondent refused to raise the issue with Mr. Davis, thereby allowing the defective and non-compliant certificate to stand unchallenged.

2. Refusal to Answer: Upon deciding to withdraw, the Respondent refused to answer basic questions regarding case posture, leaving the Complainant legally exposed during a critical window including and beyond the imminent default, the same day as the rushed withdrawal.

V. INTENTIONAL PROCEDURAL EXPOSURE: THE DECEMBER 13TH "DEFAULT TRAP"

The Respondent portrays her withdrawal as an orderly transition. The court record proves a "procedural ambush" that left the Complainant legally defenseless.

1. The Abandoned Extension: On November 11, 2024, the Respondent filed a Motion for Extension of Time to respond to the Wife's Amended Petition. This work was never addressed by Ms. Hodz.

2. The Overlapping Deadline: The extension for the responsive pleading was coming due on December 13, 2024. Rather than completing the work (necessitated by opposing counsel' s attempt to leverage the children against the discovery), the Respondent, still representing me, pursued a course of action directly contrary to my interests , with no good faith basis for withdrawal, let alone rushing it as she did.
3. Failure to advise on default possibility or deadline for amended petition response: Ms . Hodz failed to take any actions to protect me from default, with the motion from opposing counsel filed within hours of her rushed withdrawal.
4. Exploiting Unavailability: Despite the Complainant 's documented unavailability and objections to the rush, Ms. Hodz gave less than 24 hours' notice for the hearing .
5. The Resulting Default: By rushing her exit on the very day the pleading was due, she created a "gap" that the opposition immediately exploited by filing for a Judicial Default. Refusing to seek a stay of the default while terminating representation is a direct violation of Rule 4-1.16(d) (Protection of Client's Interests).

VI. HODZ'S DISINGENOUS PRETEXT FOR WITHDRAWAL: THE EMAIL TO OPPOSING COUNSEL

Ms. Hodz claims her withdrawal was a "direct result" of the Complainant's email to Scott Davis on Nov 25th. This is chronologically false.

1. Prior Abandonment: On November 22, 2024, three days before the Davis email, Ms .

Hodz had already stated that if I insisted on pursuing the discovery (my sole objective from day 1), she would withdraw from the case.

2. Hodz had already formally and permanently abandoned my sole objective before I ever sent an email to Davis.
3. Email to Davis on 11-25-24: Everything in the email to Davis on 11-25-24 was related to litigation work and strategies necessary for my sole objective, discussed with Hodz. She consistently failed to act in support of my objective and had already advised me that she would not act on my behalf in the future.

VII. DEPARTURE FROM DILIGENCE (RULE 4-1.3)

Even as the Complainant offered to "deposit more money on the retainer " on November 2, 2024, to ensure the discovery issue reached a "final answer ", the Respondent was already failing to perform any work supporting my objective. Despite the Complainant 's persistence and

"unrefuted" focus on the "red line issue" of discovery , the Respondent failed to file the necessary motions to enforce the Judge's 10-day order.

Summary of Unrefuted Facts:

1. Fact: Complainant warned Respondent about the 12-month language defect. Respondent 's Answer: Silent.
2. Fact: Complainant requested enforcement/contempt on the first day possible. Respondent 's Answer: Silent.
3. Fact: Complainant never approved the list sent to OC. Respondent 's Answer: Silent.

Closing Argument: The Respondent's "Mediation" narrative is a post-hoc justification for her failure to litigate a complex discovery fraud case. The Complainant 's detailed, contemporary emails prove he was identifying specific legal errors that required a diligent attorney 's attention. The Respondent's silence on these specific allegations in her response should be treated as a tacit admission of her failure to provide the promised representation.

VIII. LACK OF VERIFICATION FROM RESPONDENT AND CONCLUSION

The Bar should note that the Respondent— despite experience with disciplinary procedures as a former Grievance Committee Chair—has submitted a response that is not verified under oath.

In contrast, the Complainant has provided the complaint and this Rebuttal under penalties of perjury. While the Respondent offers a carefully curated narrative attempting to entirely rewrite the case history, the Complainant offers a sworn evidentiary record. The Respondent's choice to remain unsworn while contradicting documented timelines speaks to the lack of evidentiary weight her response should be afforded.

The Respondent misled the Bar regarding her scope of work and the reasons for her withdrawal. These are additional clear violations (beyond those already described in the initial complaint) of Rule 4-1.2, Rule 4-1.3, Rule 4-1.4, Rule 4-1.16, and Rule 4-8.1.

Pursuant to Rule 3-7.4(h), the Complainant formally requests that the Grievance Committee exercise its authority to take testimony from both parties before considering any dismissal. Given the Respondent's failure to verify her written response and the material contradictions between her claims and the sworn court record, a formal investigatory interview is necessary to preserve the integrity of these proceedings.

The harm from Hodz's misconduct is severe and ongoing. What should have been relatively routine enforcement of an order complying with mandatory disclosures has turned into a nightmare of conflict, health and financial challenges. The fact that the misconduct has encompassed so many officials, including those at the Florida bar, makes this a matter of great public importance. Dismissing these allegations, including many unrefuted ones referenced herein and in the initial complaint, would cause further harm to the Florida judiciary, which already has a lot of concerns in the surrounding facts.

ATTACHMENTS:

1. 10-3-24 email to Hodz
2. The bar has the 10-21-24 and other relevant correspondence attached to the original complaint.

3. Additional evidence and support available upon request.

VERIFICATION

Under penalties of perjury, I declare that I have read the foregoing Rebuttal and that the facts stated in it are true and correct. Additional supporting documents available upon request. Respectfully Submitted, /S/Chris Hanson Chris Hanson

Dear Mr. Hanson:

The Investigative Panel of the Commission has completed its review of your complaint in the above matter and has determined, that the concerns you have expressed are not allegations involving a breach of the Code of Judicial Conduct warranting further action by the Commission but may be matters for review through the normal court process.

The purpose of the Commission is to determine the existence of judicial misconduct or disability as defined by the Constitution and the laws of the State of Florida. If such misconduct or disability is found, the Commission can recommend disciplinary action to the Florida Supreme Court. The Commission has found no basis for further action on your complaint that therefore has been dismissed.

Judge Kelly Ayers and Judicial Corruption in the 13th Circuit

Good evening. I've called a couple of times the past couple of months to offer additional information and request an update on the above referenced complaint. You'll see that the Florida bar has violated many of its own rules in handling my bar complaint against Scott Davis involving conduct closely intertwined with Judge Ayers' misconduct. I hope that the JQC is taking this seriously and will update me very soon. I remain open to offering additional evidence or undergoing cross-examination regarding these facts. I'll continue to pursue accountability for all responsible for such misconduct and its cover up. I very much hope that the JQC will assist in that process.

Please contact me at your earliest convenience to discuss this misconduct, any questions you may have on the evidence documenting it, and any assistance I can offer. Thank you for your cooperation.

Hi. Thank you for the response. However, the oversight in place can no longer be trusted at least as it relates to the Florida bar. I urge you to look at the attached and consider the bar's failure to communicate with me about the investigation process nor even explain the appeal process that purportedly took place. The first couple of pages are the bar's final dismissal communication, again offering no answers, explanation nor transparency as required by their rules. The remaining pages relate to my efforts to offer and get information on the purported investigation.

There are clearly people protecting Mr. Scott Davis from his participation in obvious and harmful attorney misconduct and colluding with Judge Ayers in working against my rights under the constitution. These issues are not debatable, but obvious evidence of a corruption problem that many in positions of authority are shockingly ignoring. That is precisely the Florida bar is incapable of providing any transparency to the investigation or explanation for the conclusions.

I have similar concerns regarding the JQC which operates almost entirely behind closed doors. I've exhausted attempts at contacting my local representatives as well. This is too big of a problem to allow busy politicians to avoid. The 13th Circuit management is now seeking to conceal evidence of the corruption previously offered by one if its corrupt judges.

Making all of my efforts and the responses from officials public is the only way to ensure necessary change. Please contact me tomorrow as I'm working on publishing extensive information tomorrow and this weekend. Thank you for your cooperation.

Good morning. I'm dealing with a massive problem in Tampa Florida. I have extensive evidence of corruption that's active and causing ongoing harm to children with no basis under the law. I'm addressing the corruption thru the Courts, the Florida bar, and the JQC. The Courts and bar have already demonstrated an attempt to protect their fellow attorneys in a clear clubhouse over citizens result. It really needs attention. Someone please contact me to help. I'll attach a couple recent docs.

Possible suppression of the story on broad systemic corruption in the judicial system

Hi Tony. I hope you're well. I'm copying some of your associates in hopes of getting a response sooner rather than later. I wanted to provide you with a rough draft of this story. It's certainly gotten a lot more interesting since our initial communications back in February. Tampa Bay Times was my first contact. You initially expressed some interest in the story and as I reached out with updates on clearly newsworthy local corruption, I never heard back.

Is there a reason for that? I'm concerned that the same people guilty of such corruption are working to suppress the story somehow. I've attached a rough draft of an article I'm going to publish soon. I'm considering adding a section about the history with TBT and our correspondence to raise questions about whether the story is being suppressed. I don't know enough about the news industry to understand what's happening. But it's concerning that as the corruption expanded, it seems to be less interesting to news organizations. Please let me know if you can offer any explanation for suddenly going silent. If there's a good faith reason, obviously, I will not add a section to the article about this. If I don't hear from you, I believe it's important to at least explain that part of the story and raise questions about whether those involved in this systemic misconduct are actively suppressing information about it. I'll likely have it done and ready to publish later today or tomorrow. If you contact me after it's published with a good faith explanation, I will be happy to amend the article to reflect that should it be filed before I get a response from you.

Please respond at your earliest convenience. Thank you.

Hey Tony - I hope youre well. As you can see below, the corruption in the state of Florida is shocking in the entitlement with which the compromised operate. You seemed interested in the story many many chapters ago. There's plenty of corruption and supporting evidence that I've identified and exposed, which thus far has only adding to the corruption. I've also identified others who identified concerns specifically with Judge Ayers.

The below is an email I just sent to the Florida bar. I've been afraid for my safety a couple of times with the people I've had to challenge. Seeing how they control the Florida bar is the scariest part yet. The truth remains simple and increasingly important as it demonstrates obvious bias and corruption in the Court system, and worse, an interconnected web of judges and lawyers who watch one another's back, even when there's blatant corruption terrorizing Florida families.

It disheartens me that this is just business as usual for so many. If you know a journalist willing to tell this story, please share that info with me. I'm offering an open and shut case documenting corruption at high levels of oversight. It's been awful on my children. Can you help me understand why TBT doesn't consider this a real news story? Thanks.

Chris

Subject: Follow up on Bar's compliance with its own Rules in investigating Attorney Scott Davis (RFA No. 25-6861)

Good afternoon. I'm writing to formally express concern regarding the handling and purported investigation into my complaint referenced above. I called again last Friday 9-26-25 attempting to speak with someone directly, but my only option was to leave another message. In light of the extensive history of my diligent follow-ups and repeated requests for updates and transparency, and ACAP's complete failure to engage as required by rule, I have a responsibility to investigate further. The bar's actions the last several months reflect a broader pattern of neglect and opacity, very likely intentional, that undermines the integrity of the Bar's oversight process.

The Florida Bar's refusal to engage, explain, or even acknowledge the existence of investigative materials raises serious questions about procedural fairness, transparency, and compliance with its own rules. I suspect you will eventually find that my case is not ambiguous—it is a clear matter of right and wrong, Truth and outright malicious lies for the purpose of harassment, delay, and concealment of evidence. The reckless lawfare from Davis breezed right by the 13th Judicial Circuit, and now the Florida Bar as well.

The complete lack of transparency and any appearance of a good faith investigation is readily apparent and obviously inconsistent with the Bar's own Rules. The fact that the complaint involves systemic corruption within the 13th Circuit, and yet the Bar violates its own transparency rules is quite troubling and I hope that as attorneys each of you can see why that is. This unchecked onslaught of dishonest and bad faith litigation caused demonstrable harm to my children and what should be their innocent years.

Mr. Davis's conduct and the complicity of the Florida Bar and others put my children in a position where their Mom has to create conflict and actively weaponize the children in her attempt to manufacture a basis for her absurd motions, obviously pursued for improper grounds, in direct violation of the Rules. The children have lived under these completely unnecessary circumstances that create an appearance for them that is the precise opposite of true. Obviously, it's caused enormous pain within my family and the bar's blanket dismissal of all of that the past several months is nothing short of cruel.

How can the bar accept this as a consequence of litigation? Please understand that the Florida Bar's complete failure to follow its own rules in this has only recharged my capacity to obtain transparency and a real investigation. In that light, please maintain any and all communications and other materials the Florida Bar may have with any connection to this process.

I saw your blanket, preemptive dismissal of any follow up concerns I may have—as referenced in the attached letter that I received Saturday. To date, I still have not received a copy of the material that was apparently produced to Mr. Davis with an August 6 letter, but not to me, despite multiple requests, some of which you'll find below.

Instead, the bar took time to send me a letter enclosing a new version of an old letter, simply correcting an obvious typo. That appears to be the extent of the work the Bar shared with me, which—if that's the extent of the bar's efforts—it demonstrates such absurdity in its incompetence or worse, one can barely believe it. As a licensed and paying member of the Florida Bar or just as a citizen suffering harm from attorney misconduct, I certainly believe that I deserve better than what the Bar has given my concerns. I'm making another good faith request for transparency and investigation materials. Failure to respond will demonstrate actual concealment of information related to any investigation at least in my opinion.

Partial Timeline of Requests for Engagement from the Florida Bar

This timeline reflects repeated efforts to engage the Florida Bar under its own procedural rules, including:

- Rule 3-7.3(c): Mandating preliminary investigation unless the complaint is clearly unfounded.
- Rule 3-7.4(g): Governing the respondent's right to submit rebuttal materials and triggering review of all related submissions.

The timeline also reflects my good faith efforts to submit sworn statements and request transparency regarding any investigative materials or procedural steps taken.

- June 26: Initial complaint with supporting documentation.
- July 21, 25, 30: Follow-up emails requesting acknowledgment and engagement.
- August 7, 14: Submission of additional evidence and sworn statements.
- September 1, 12, 23: Final pleas for transparency and reconsideration—none of which received substantive response.

This timeline reflects not only persistence, but the Bar's failure to meet its own standards of responsiveness and procedural fairness.

Rights of a Bar Complainant

Under the Florida Bar Rules, I am entitled to:

- Acknowledgment and engagement under Rule 3-7.3(c), which mandates preliminary investigation unless the complaint is clearly unfounded.
- Submission of rebuttal materials under Rule 3-7.4(g)—which entitles the respondent (in this case, Mr. Davis) to submit a response, and which should trigger a review process that includes consideration of all materials submitted by the complainant and respondent.
- Transparency and explanation of outcomes, especially when the complaint involves sworn evidence and serious allegations.
- Protection from prejudicial conduct under Rule 4-8.4(d), which applies not only to attorneys but to the Bar's own handling of complaints.

The Bar's refusal to share any alternative review of the facts or explain its rationale violates these principles. It undermines public confidence and shields misconduct from scrutiny. Hypothetically, if someone with influence over the FLorida bar wanted this "swept under the rug," it appears that the bar's handling of my complaint would be the easiest way to do that. Please provide me with some information or some explanation that might restore some confidence in the Florida bar.

Reasonable Questions and Document Requests

To understand the process and assess whether the Bar complied with its own rules, I respectfully request answers to the following:

1. Was a preliminary investigation conducted or authorized under Rule 3-7.3(c)? If so, who conducted it, and what materials were reviewed?
2. Did Mr. Davis submit any rebuttal materials under Rule 3-7.4(g)? If so, why have I not received a copy? Will you provide copies of those materials now?
3. Was there any discussion or coordination with the JQC or anyone within the judiciary or judicial oversight? Please provide any applicable communications or at least whether you will or will not confirm whether any such contact occurred.
4. Who were the assigned investigators and reviewers at each stage of the process? I understand the initial decision maker was Ms. Huston and the final decision maker was Ms. Gangi. I do not understand anything in between. The limited information I've received fails to clarify the process, the investigators involved, or the decision makers at each stage. If this information exists, it should be provided. If it does not, or if the Bar refuses to disclose it, that refusal should be explicitly acknowledged. I will assume the Bar is refusing to provide this information if I don't hear back from you by Wednesday at 5pm.
5. Investigative materials and anything conflicting with the facts and evidence of violations, intent, and harm I alleged. I want to reiterate my many prior requests for any and all documentation not protected from disclosure. If you will not provide, please at least confirm whether such materials exist and preserve them in case needed for future proceeding
6. Was anyone ever contacted regarding this complaint, including Mr. Davis, judicial officers, or third-party witnesses? If so, please provide a list of individuals or offices contacted, the nature of the outreach, and any responses received. If no such outreach occurred, please confirm that no external contact was made. I know that I was not contacted despite several requests to offer more information supporting my complaint. Is there anything justifying or even just documenting the failure to contact me, the complainant, opposing counsel, and the litigant? Other than the reviewers/investigators and any witnesses, is there any other individual who played any role in the assessment, investigation, and/or determination reached?
7. What policies or procedures govern the Florida Bar's handling of complaints involving systemic corruption or coordinated misconduct? Given the gravity of such allegations, what safeguards exist to ensure transparency, independence, and accountability in the review process? If no such procedures exist, please explain why the Bar applies less transparency in cases where heightened scrutiny is warranted.

8. What standards guided the Florida Bar's decision in this matter? Based on published rules and oversight principles, the following factors are critical:

- Clarity of the violation: Is there any evidence that contradicts the clear ethical breaches documented in my complaint? If so, please identify it.
- Intent and mental state: Is there any evidence suggesting Mr. Davis acted without intent or recklessness? If so, please provide it.
- Degree of harm caused: Is there any evidence that disputes my sworn statements regarding the harm to my children and the broader impact on the judicial process? If so, please explain.
- Pattern or duration of misconduct: Is there any evidence that this was an isolated incident rather than part of a broader pattern? If so, please clarify.
- Public interest and protection: Is there any evidence that supports the conclusion that no disciplinary action is needed to protect the public or uphold confidence in the legal system? If so, please provide it and/or an explanation on how the bar reached its conclusion.

These factors are consistent with the Florida Bar's own disciplinary framework and constitutional mandate under Article V, §15, as well as its obligations under Rule 3-7.3(c) and Rule 4-8.4(d). I request that any evidence contradicting these considerations be disclosed and explained. If no such evidence exists, the Bar should affirmatively state that fact.

Absent a response, I will assume the Bar is not only refusing to answer these questions, but also refusing to confirm whether the relevant materials exist.

Constitutional and Oversight Concerns

The seriousness of the Florida Bar's failure is underscored by its constitutional and ethical obligations:

- Article V, §15 of the Florida Constitution grants the Supreme Court authority to regulate the admission and discipline of attorneys. This power carries a duty to ensure transparency and protect the public from misconduct.

- Rule 3-7.3(c) requires preliminary investigation unless a complaint is clearly unfounded. Silence and refusal to engage are not permissible substitutes for review.
- Rule 4-8.4(d) prohibits conduct prejudicial to the administration of justice. Shielding misconduct—especially when it harms children—is a direct violation.

The Florida Bar's failure to act in this matter not only undermines its own rules but erodes public trust in the legal system. Oversight is not discretionary—it is a constitutional mandate. It's important to make it clear that these failures have consequences. I've enclosed a picture so you have an image of some of the people your failures impact. The litigation tactics Davis employs and of which the at least implicitly approves are tearing a family a part - specifically because they are so demonstrably and universally false. The suffering is not hypothetical—it is direct, personal, and ongoing. The harm they've endured as a result of Mr. Davis's ethical violations and the Florida Bar's refusal to intervene exemplifies the broader danger these systemic failures pose to families across Florida. I hope that will help you understand why I'll never stop exposing those who've allowed this to happen to my children and likely, countless others.

There has never been a complaint about me in my career. Likewise, there's never been a complaint about me as a father. Even with all the ugliness Davis has brought, there are no allegations of any impropriety as a father. I will always uphold the law and tell the truth, regardless of the consequences. I'm now concerned about retaliation from the Florida bar and related individuals, as I'm forced to expose systemic failures that are so harmful to Florida families. I feel a strong sense of obligation as a Florida attorney to expose these harmful failures even if that means going against the bar, the 13th Circuit, and Mr. Davis.

The next step will be including this email correspondence and the history described herein as part of the record in a pending appeal before the Second District Court of Appeal as well as sharing it with various lawmakers, the Public, and Supreme Court representatives. I encourage and accept any cooperation you all will offer and willing to go thru all proper channels. I've already pointed out deep systemic corruption within the 13th Circuit and this utter lack of transparency and any semblance of a neutral investigation cause me grave concerns over the competence and/or possible corruption within those acting on behalf of the bar. Truth and Justice are black and white in this case. Any one that fails to see the truth is really trying to avoid it, begging a whole new set of questions.

I again ask that this matter be reviewed with the seriousness it deserves and at the highest levels within the bar and Supreme Court if necessary. I require at least acknowledgment and some good faith action to demonstrate cooperation by Wednesday October 1, 2025 at 5pm EST even if you cannot get all of the answers by then. At least show me that the bar has some interest in a fair process because there is absolutely nothing in the record supporting that, and your silence demonstrates that you know all of this quite well.

Sincerely,

Chris Hanson

Good morning. I really don't mean to be difficult about this. I waited to send this. However, I can't help but be frustrated about this response in light of the experience I'm having in the 13th Circuit and the course of events with the Florida bar. I've made credible, unrefuted allegations of obvious ethical violations and described the damaged they're causing to my family. Everything the Florida bar has done (to my knowledge) demonstrates a complete lack of concern and oversight for such outrageous conduct from an attorney. There appears to be deep systemic problems where the people of Florida are simply at the mercy of the lawyers who operate free from ethical restraints, with Judges that collude with them. I never asked for any of this, but I will make it my career to ensure that changes.

Despite several offers and even requests, no one from the Florida bar has ever discussed the case with me or provided any basis for the prior findings that completely dismissed these obvious violations. The bar fails to respond to multiple inquiries on the appeal status. When I finally get a response, it's dismissive and essentially conclusive in that I shouldn't expect anyone to ever contact me about my concerns.

Does someone disbelieve any of my allegations? Any basis for that if so? I

I hope you can understand why I have some concerns about bias and/or other impropriety in the review and investigation process. Is there someone higher up either at the bar, ACAP, or the Supreme Court, with whom I may speak about these concerns? I'm going to get on the phone today or later this week in hopes of reaching someone. Please let me know if you have any information, you can offer or if someone is willing to speak with me about my concerns.

Thank you.

Subject: Re: Follow-Up on Inquiries into Status of Investigation into Attorney Scott Davis (RFA No. 25-6861) and Receipt of Recent Correspondence

Good evening all. I'm not sure how this sent already, but I'm just fixing a couple of issues on it and will hope you find this one first. I am once again following up on my several prior inquiries as to the status of this investigation and requests to speak with someone. I last emailed on September 1, and the automatic reply requested up to seven days for ACAP to review and respond. We'll be over 2 weeks out by Monday.

Please try to understand the urgency of my concerns here. They're well documented in our prior correspondence, and I won't repeat all of them. But the continuing lack of any response or even acknowledgment of my good faith requests for some information here are really difficult to understand. I would hope that as a litigant, a complainant, or even just as an 18 year Florida attorney with an excellent reputation, the Florida bar would be more responsive and decisive in handling unethical attorney behavior.

Is there a rule against speaking with me? Or is there some reason the bar is ignoring this obvious misconduct and my requests for a conversation that I don't know? Something preventing an investigation or discipline in the case? Someone please help me to understand. I find all of this very unnerving both personally and professionally. If ACAP believes Mr. Davis's conduct is acceptable, please have the courtesy to have a discussion with me so I can make every effort before having to continue to escalate this very obvious problem with corruption infecting Tampa Courts.

ACAPs automatic email suggests responses within 7 days are standard. Just from the email chain below, you can see where I have followed up for answers to the same, yet expanding, list of questions, for several months, with no response other than what appear to be attempts to quietly sweep this misconduct under the rug. I hope I'm wrong, but please at least communicate with me. My children are being actively weaponized thru active, ongoing misconduct. I've made you all aware of that as clearly as I can. Please provide some response this coming week

And this isn't a litigation is ugly issue. It's misconduct. Please respond to me this week with some information about the status. Again, I do not consider any of these emails confidential so please let me know immediately if I'm mistaken on that. I do not wish to have problems with the Florida bar, nor anyone else. I'm just going to continue following the truth and doing the right thing and hope eventually that Fixes some of these things that are clearly broken.

I see there is a Florida Bar Board of Governors meeting coming up in Tampa next week. If possible, I'd like the opportunity to present some information to anyone part of this review process at or around the same time as the meeting. Please let me know the status of the current review/appeal and what the options are moving forward. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Chris Hanson.

I hope this email finds you well. I am following up on my previous correspondence dated August 14, 2025, with Ms. Gangi (attached below), and my ongoing communications with the Florida Bar's Attorney/Consumer Assistance Program (ACAP) regarding the investigation into Attorney Scott Davis in connection with my dissolution of marriage case (Lower Tribunal No. 24-DR-001150, 13th Judicial Circuit; Appellate Case No. 2D2025-1936). As a reminder, my initial complaint, outlined concerns about Mr. Davis's conduct during the proceedings, which has become more egregious and harmful in the months since the several months initial complaint. I have not filed additional complaints as it's part of the same course of conduct. However, it's important that the bar deal with this in a timely fashion given the ongoing harm from it and systemic corruption within the 13th Circuit delaying any relief. There are currently 2 issues up on appeal.

I recently received the letter dated August 25, 2025, from Ms. Schuyler, notifying me of a typographical error in the July 16, 2025, closing letter and enclosing a revised version. I appreciate the effort to correct the record for accuracy. However, the mailing I received did not include the enclosure previously sent to other recipients, but not the undersigned, as requested below. Please provide that at your earliest convenience.

More importantly, I'm still confused about why no one has contacted me about this investigation. I can provide you with definitive evidence (used consistently with the Florida Rules) that prove both the violations and the harm they caused. If you're drafting letters to enclose new letters for a simple typo, I'd expect that contacting me about the basis for conclusions and the status of the investigation are very reasonable requests.

I wanted to reiterate my interest in understanding the process and next steps more fully. I'm continuing to appeal the bar's determination. As I understand it, the investigation is with Ms. Gangi, but still is very much active in terms of her review. If I'm mistaken on that, please let me know ASAP. I would like to respectfully request clarification on a few points:

1. Status and Timeline: Could you please provide an update on the current stage of the investigation, including any recent developments or an estimated timeline for completion? I understand processes can vary, but this information would help me stay informed.
2. Burden of proof/standard for proceeding with discipline: I do not understand the Bar's conclusions to date. There are many intentional violations that the evidence shows beyond any reasonable doubt. And I know just how damaging the violations have been to my family. From my review of the Florida bar's mission statement, the certainty of the violations and the harm they're actively causing support action. What is it that's justifying inaction to the point of no one ever even contacting me?
3. Scope of Review: I am interested in learning more about the steps involved, such as whether interviews with potential witnesses (e.g., Ms. Hodz or Ms.

Samarkos) have been conducted or if additional documentation from Mr. Davis has been requested. This would assist me in ensuring all relevant information is considered.

4. Documentation and Criteria: Please share copies of documents in the file to date, or explain the criteria for continuing or closing a complaint? I am also unclear on whether a "bar counsel" review occurred around April 2025, and any guidance on that would be helpful. Additionally, it would be useful to know how the Bar ensures thorough outreach during investigations, such as contacting complainants or witnesses for input, especially when compared to the prompt correction of administrative errors like the recent typo.
5. Next Steps for Appeal or Review: Please advise on where we are in the appellate process and what the next step is to ensure that I give the Bar every option and all information necessary to do the right thing and protect Floridians here.

These concerns stem from the ongoing impact on my family, and I am eager to cooperate fully. If there is any additional information I can provide to assist, please let me know. Thank you for your time and attention to this matter—I value the Florida Bar's role in maintaining professional standards and look forward to your response within the next week.

Sincerely,

Christopher Hanson

Good Afternoon Ms. Gangi. You'll see below, both the reason for the conduct and where I asked the ACAP reps about whether it's acceptable to reach out to you. I did not hear back. I am not copying Mr. Davis on this correspondence although can add him in or I understand if you need to provide him with all of my correspondence. I'm writing to request any information available about the investigation to date and offer my information and assistance in your investigation. It's an unusual situation in that I'm the complainant, opposing party, and opposing attorney, all in one person. No one from the bar has ever contacted me about the investigation.

This is my first involvement in the bar complaint process after 16 plus year in high volume litigation. I know that Mr. Davis broke the rules and intentionally continues to do so. I also see how much damage that is causing to my children and my family. I assumed those were the top criteria in determining whether the bar takes action? I have seen a couple of letters in which the bar decided not to pursue, and then the second was part of the review process which reached the same conclusion. There was nothing ever provided to me that offered any explanation for the well documented facts other than ongoing, intentional ethical violations. If the bar has any documentation on the investigation, could you please provide me what you have or let me know how to proceed in getting it.

I know it's easy to look at this and think it's 2 attorneys bickering and maybe some "sour grapes" from a divorce, and move on. I can assure you with detailed facts to back it up, that is not the case. I find this to be extremely concerning antics from an attorney and I'm hoping that there's something or someone in the bar process that will take action to deter this type of grossly unethical behavior.

I'm happy to provide further back up documentation if requested. Please let me know if you need anything and if there's anything on the bar's investigation you can provide. Thank you for your cooperation.

Subject: Scott Davis bar complaint - RFA No. 25-6861 - Request for Bar Counsel review, Chief Branch Discipline Counsel and/or Grievance Committee chair

Good evening. I did receive the attached correspondence in the mail. I wanted to inquire about a couple of things. The letter references an enclosure, "copy of complainant's letter," although I did not receive it. I am not certain which letter or possibly email that references. Will you please provide me with a copy.

Also, I have not received a copy of anything that Mr. Davis submitted. If he's offered some explanation for the many violations I've described, I certainly need to have that. Despite my best efforts, he has offered no explanation of which I'm aware. And worse, the violations are ongoing and escalating, demonstrating a complete indifference to the ethical rules.

Please let me know if you will provide me with the file documents on the investigation to date. Do you have any materials that explain the bar's criteria on whether to close a complaint or continue the disciplinary process. I still struggle to understand closure without contacting me or providing me any explanation Mr. Davis may have offered to the bar.

Is it acceptable for me to reach out to Ms. Gangi and offer further documentation? Either way, please pass along my eagerness to cooperate with a real investigation into the issues I've laid out the past few months. I look forward to hearing from you on the above. Thank you for your cooperation.

Good afternoon. Please excuse this interruption, especially if there is investigation going on in the background. It's been over a week, and I've not heard anything about the next review/appeal option.

I'm hoping you can understand my concern here. I've worked very hard to lay out ethical violations in black and white. No one has ever attempted to explain Mr. Davis's conduct in a manner that even suggests an explanation without rule violations. I know I can prove beyond any reasonable doubt that his entire litigation strategy at the core of the case is a severe rule violation in that he seeks only to delay and conceal.

The significant expense and damage from his violations are constantly in front of me and have been for more than a year. There is a very serious problem with corruption in the 13th Circuit. I'm unaware of what, if anything the bar has done to actually investigate this complaint. I do know that no one has talked to the complainant, the opposing party, or the opposing attorney who has extensive documentation about the violations and damage.

It's impossible to take the bar's investigation seriously under these circumstances. I'm going to continue working to expose every part of this, both for myself and due to my responsibilities as a Florida attorney. Even if it seems people don't want to listen, I'm skilled and experienced enough to know exactly how to prove all of this and how damaging it will be for other families if it's allowed to continue.

Please provide a response at your earliest convenience. Thank you for your cooperation.

I sent the inquiries below in order to proceed to the next review/appeal option and follow up on continuing concerns that I have.

I'm a bit confused about the review that's been completed to date. I received the initial determination from the bar and the July 16 letter from the director of ACAP. The letter references the decision "by bar counsel." Is that an additional step where some review or investigation took place or just the initial determination that I received back in April I believe?

Please let me know if you need anything from me in order to continue the review/appeal process. I know firsthand the extent and damage of these violations and it's important that I do whatever I can to discourage this as an accepted manner of practice in Florida. Thank you.

I'm also very interested in what investigation was done. Please allow this to serve as a formal request for any and all documentation related to any investigation completed by the bar in relation to this complaint.

No one has ever reached out to me about this. Did anyone reach out to Ms. Hodz or Ms. Samarkos? It's very difficult to take this process seriously when the process takes longer than the high estimate, and no one reached out to the complainant, the opposing litigant, or the opposing attorney.

Again, I do not consider any of this correspondence as confidential. If there is any rule that prevents me from making these documents and this correspondence public, please let me know ASAP.

Please also let me know if you need anything more from me in order to proceed with the appellate options requested herein. Thank you.

Good morning Ms. Huston. Please excuse the additional follow up email. As you know, there are a few layers of additional appeal/review in this matter, and I plan to exhaust all of them if necessary. I am trying to stay on top of this to make sure it's properly and timely addressed both for myself and other litigants and attorneys in the future. No consequences will only further embolden attorneys willing to commit such violations as this case proves.

This is a very straightforward case of misconduct. I reviewed the concerning course of actions with Mr. Davis back in November of 2024. He has offered no alternative explanation for his litigation tactics that might create a bit of nuance as to whether there are true Rule violations. Worse, Mr. Davis has continued to commit ethical violations since then including a veiled threat of physical violence against me and continuing to obstruct all discovery efforts (even admittedly non-objectionable ones).

As previously addressed below, The May 6th letter suggests it may take "up to 60 days" for the investigation. I'm confused over how we're at 75 days, and I've heard nothing about the investigation. I am the complainant, opposing litigant, and opposing attorney in this matter yet no one has even contacted me about it. As I've mentioned, I will need to either supplement the prior complaint or file a new one describing all of the subsequent misconduct. Please let me know if you can offer any guidance on how best to proceed with that.

I waived any attorney client privilege with all of the attorneys who represented me. Ms. Hodz and Ms. Samarkos were both part of separate calls with Mr. Davis that completely changed their outlook on my sole objective in the case and their willingness to even pursue it on my behalf. There is no privilege or confidentiality that prevents them from talking about those conversations. I hope that your investigator has pursued that information?

No one has reached out to me about literally anything related to this over year long history of consistent rule violations from Mr. Davis. In about 18 years of practice, this is my one and only bar complaint I've filed, and never had one filed against me. There's no allegation that I've stated anything inaccurate or committed any rule violations myself. It seems to me that this should be about the simplest, fastest investigation in bar history, yet it's already gone over 25 percent beyond the high estimate for the investigatory period. Can you please help me understand that?

You have an attorney, completely unrestrained by the ethical rules actively and knowingly weaponizing my children in an attempt to thwart discovery. I hope there is a real disciplinary process occurring in the background. Please let me know if you can provide me with any information on the status of investigation and/or reach out to the investigator to encourage interviews with myself and the relevant witnesses including Ms. Samarkos and Ms. Hodz. Thank you.

Good morning. The May 6 letter I received about the investigation described an investigation that could take up to 60 days. No one has contacted me about any of this. I would hope that would be part of any investigation about such misconduct if the goal is to address it. Please let me know if I can offer any assistance. It will be extremely frustrating if the bar finds another way to ignore this conduct, especially if that determination is made without first interviewing me about these subjects.

There are many clear violations of the ethical rules in these facts for which Mr. Davis has offered no explanation or objection. I can offer concise explanations and supporting documents for all of it that will make it very easy for your investigator. Mr. Davis's entire strategy in the case is in itself a violation of the ethical rules. This is precisely why we need a disciplinary process for attorneys.

I'm confused about why I've not been contacted and we're now over the 60 days. Is there any update or information that you can provide me on the process and when I will hear from an investigator or on the result of the investigation?

Please let me know if I can assist in any way or if you would like me to forward any additional documentation to you or if new violations need to go in a separate bar complaint. Thanks.

I have not seen anything in the mail although I think that's the least reliable manner of communication. May I opt to receive notice by email or phone in addition?

I'm also attaching a couple of recent emails from Mr. Davis in which he continues with his delay, harass, burden, and conceal strategy, repeatedly insulting me, as he's done in the past multiple times.

What he's done and soon to be ex-wife have done is criminal. And they're like cornered animals trying to hide it. It's a very scary situation. I plan on making everything public this weekend if I don't have some results either thru the bar or thru the Court case.

The fact that helpless litigants go thru situations like this is shocking and desperately needs attention and serious consequences. Please provide me with an update on the status before the end of the week. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Good morning. I'm forwarding my initial bar complaint previously sent, with the FL bar's 2-24-25 response. You will also find attached that letter Attorney Allie Huston.

I'm extremely confused and disappointed by the letter. The sentence that apparently provides the basis for closure without investigation is, "The matters upon which your allegations are premised present questions of law and involve a dispute over which a court has jurisdiction."

I'm not sure I even understand that. It seems to me that it describes every case in litigation ever. Does that mean that any misconduct in relation to litigation is of no concern to the Florida bar?

Regardless, the attached Florida bar letter from 2-24-25 is not a good faith response to a very serious and detailed bar complaint, at least in my opinion. I'm an 18 year attorney, AV rated, with no disciplinary issue. This is the first bar complaint that I have ever filed. I've talked to the bar about other lawyers' misconduct and always felt as though the bar discouraged complaints. I hoped that if I did ever need to file a complaint, the bar would take it seriously. Unfortunately, it appears to me that the Florida bar is more interested in limiting/closing disputes than addressing them. In the attached complaint, I provided clear, undisputed facts that demonstrate multiple violations of the professional rules at the very core of this case, having a very significant impact on the opposing party/attorney and his children. I had hoped the Florida bar is here precisely for this type of case.

Seeing how the Florida bar was so dismissive of good faith concerns about an unethical attorney who's causing real suffering for a family is beyond disheartening. I've tried addressing this with the chief Judge, my local state rep, state senator, and others. This is a problem at the core of the divorce litigation at least in Hillsborough County.

I've talked to enough other people who've experienced divorce in Hillsborough County that I'm convinced that corruption is a prevalent issue for litigants. It's allowing lawyers to break the rules to hurt people often at their lowest. I did not ask for any of this. The only thing I wanted since day one was some very fair reciprocal discovery. That's all I'm seeking now. It is Mr. Davis's unethical behavior that's the driving force interrupting and largely ruining a year of our family's lives. It's a problem for many families in the Tampa area that must be addressed.

I feel an obligation to publish extensive documentation about my case and all that I've done to protect my family from a corrupt process. Perhaps worse is the lack of any institution willing or able to help with an obvious example of attorney and even judicial misconduct. I've seen corruption and unethical behavior many times throughout my career. This case is the first one I've had where an attorney's entire litigation strategy (delay, obstruct, and harass to avoid discovery obligations) is in direct violation of the rules. It's quite obvious that even the decision to bring the children into the divorce was motivated entirely by the desire to avoid the financial discovery Husband seeks.

I don't view the correspondence to or from the Florida bar as privileged, but if there is some authority to suggest otherwise, please let me know. While I'm extremely frustrated with the bar's February 24, 2025 response, I do not want to break any rules if I can avoid it.

You'll also find a recent motion to disqualify Judge Ayers attached. I'm in the process of submitting a JQC complaint on her. There is additional conduct from Mr. Davis that will likely need to go in a separate complaint if this one is not reopened with an investigation that can continue through additional conduct all the way up through yesterday.

I have extensive documentation on top of that provided that I'm happy to provide upon request. Please let me know if you have any questions and whether you will be reopening the file for fresh and comprehensive consideration. Thank you and have a great afternoon.

Subject: Bar complaint regarding Scott Paul Davis, FL bar #115540

To whom it may concern - please find attached a copy of a bar complaint form on attorney Scott Davis with supporting documentation. I have extensive documents and information I can provide. This is my first experience with a bar complaint in almost 20 years in the profession. Please let me know if I can assist or if you are able to provide any estimated timeline. Thank you for your cooperation, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Systemic Judicial Corruption involving the 13th Circuit, the Florida bar and the JQC.

From: cahanson77@yahoo.com (cahanson77@yahoo.com)

To: contact@floridajqc.com; truthoverchaos@outlook.com

Date: Friday, November 21, 2025 at 09:19 AM EST

Good morning. I received the attached letter dismissing my detailed complaint regarding Judge Ayers. I'd like to request reconsideration and/or some explanation for the conclusion. The JQC concluded the allegations against Ayers didn't involve a breach of the Code of Judicial Conduct, adding the clause, "warranting further action by the commission but may be matters for review through the normal court process." I can't tell if that's acknowledging that there are violations just not ones that warrant JQC actions or if you've concluded there is no violation of the code. I'd appreciate clarification on that point.

Also, did the JQC make any effort to obtain video of the 4-4-25 hearing that Judge Ayers offered on the record? I've requested it several times including in ongoing litigation against the 13th Circuit. If the JQC did not obtain that, why not?

I've researched my obligations in this situation. I have very serious concerns about vast systemic corruption in the judicial system involving the Florida Bar, the JQC, and 13th Circuit Court. I have an obligation to pursue an investigation and appropriate consequences for those involved in this conduct enormously detrimental to the Florida citizens and the justice system. This requires me to make all of this information public. I have a detailed article in process that outlines the systemic corruption and how Florida's judicial system fails or refuses to hold insiders accountable.

One concern I have relates to conflicts of interests. I contacted attorney Schifino about these issues almost a year ago (emails attached below). Did the JQC address the conflict that creates in its handling of the JQC complaint? Furthermore, attorney Schifino is at the same law firm as Alicia Gangi. I believe Ms. Gangi violated bar rules in her involvement in the bar complaint against Davis. Holding Ayers accountable would further highlight the violations of Gangi and the Florida bar. Was that addressed in the process?

I understand the JQC rules on confidentiality when it comes to dismissed complaints. The problem is that it operates as a "magic eraser" for judicial corruption. The factors in determining whether discipline is appropriate include seriousness, patterns of activity, and impact. Given the unrefuted allegations in the complaint and the JQC's failure to offer any explanation for its decision, I'm confident in stating that there is some inappropriate influence or reason that controlled the outcome. No reasonable person could dismiss the Ayers complaint without comment solely based on the facts, law, and rules. Obviously, that's an incredibly concerning problem that undermines any confidence in the judicial process in Florida.

Another conflict arises in looking at the Florida bar violating its own rules in dismissing the Davis complaint. Alicia Gangi, from the Gunster firm along with Mr. Schifino, creates an even more concerning conflict. If the JQC were to hold Ayers accountable, that would highlight the corruption in the Florida bar and with Ms. Gangi in excusing the Davis conduct. It's the broad scope of the systemic corruption that insulates Davis and Ayers from their extreme and harmful misconduct that's destroying my family. That's obviously an enormous problem and supports the existence of the systemic corruption that infects this case.

I've researched and analyzed about a dozen cases where the JQC disciplined Judges, and compared those facts to Judge Ayers complaint. The primary difference is the systemic nature of the Ayers misconduct that now includes so many attorneys and institutions. My article includes a table of facts that lays all of that out in further documenting the JQC's misconduct in this matter. Ayers conduct is far worse than those in which the JQC disciplined the judges. The difference in those cases, and the reason for the disparate result is that in the cases with discipline, you do not have other insider judges and lawyers implicated. That's compelling evidence that the JQC is simply unable or unwilling to address systemic misconduct. I'm aware of other complaints involving Ayers that makes the dismissal even more egregious. The JQC is clearly not acting in the interests of Florida citizens.

I'm only trying to protect my family. What those involved in the litigation and oversight have done to me and my family is unjustifiable and requires further investigation and consequences. I'd ask that you please retain all documentation, communications, text messages, and all other information and documentation, however stored, as I expect all to be relevant in future proceedings. You'll find a formal public records request for these materials attached to this email.

Please let me know if there is any option for additional review, appeal, or even just getting some answers to the questions on the JQC handling.

Finally, I cannot see where the JQC has issued any annual data even after the 2015 OPPAGA report encouraging the JQC to provide some transparency at least in the aggregate. Has the JQC released any data in the past decade that I'm missing?

I remain open to compromise and informal resolution to these issues. Efficiency is the most important thng for me and my family. However, given the Florida bar and JQC complacency with this extreme misconduct, it's going to take months or or years pursuing this. I will be seeking fees and costs for all the time I spend pursuing the truth and justice on this. Thank you for your cooperation.

Good evening. I've called a couple of times the past couple of months to offer additional information and request an update on the above referenced complaint. You'll see that the Florida bar has violated many of its own rules in handling my bar complaint against Scott Davis involving conduct closely intertwined with Judge Ayers' misconduct. I hope that the JQC is taking this seriously and will update me very soon. I remain open to offering additional evidence or undergoing cross-examination regarding these facts. I'll continue to pursue accountability for for all responsible for such misconduct and its cover up. I very much hope that the JQC will assist in that process.

Please contact me at your earliest convenience to discuss this misconduct, any questions you may have on the evidence documenting it, and any assistance I can offer. Thank you for your cooperation.

Hi. Thank you for the response. However, the oversight in place can no longer be trusted at least as it relates to the Florida bar. I urge you to look at the attached and consider the bar's failure to communicate with me about the investigation process nor even explain the appeal process that purportedly took place. The first couple of pages are the bar's final dismissal communication, again offering no answers, explanation nor transparency as required by their rules. The remaining pages relate to my efforts to offer and get information on the purported investigation.

There are clearly people protecting Mr.Scott Davis from his participation in obvious and harmful attorney misconduct and colluding with Judge Ayers in working against my rights under the constitution. These issues are not debatable, but obvious evidence of a corruption problem that many in positions of authority are shockingly ignoring. That is precisely the florida bar is incapable of providing any transparency to the investigation or explanation for the conclusions.

I have similar concerns regarding the JQC which operates almost entirely behind closed doors. I've exhausted attempts at contacting my local representatives as well. This is too big of a problem to allow busy politicians to avoid. The 13th Circuit management is now seeking to conceal evidence of the corruption previously offered by one of its corrupt judges.

Making all of my efforts and the responses from officials public is the only way to ensure necessary change. Please contact me tomorrow as I'm working on publishing extensive information tomorrow and this weekend. Thank you for your cooperation.

Good morning. I'm dealing with a massive problem in Tampa Florida. I have extensive evidence of corruption that's active and causing ongoing harm to children with no basis under the law. I'm addressing the corruption thru the Courts, the Florida bar, and the JQC. The Courts and bar have already demonstrated an attempt to protect their fellow attorneys in a clear clubhouse over citizens result. It really needs attention. Someone please contact me to help. I'll attach a couple recent docs.

Good morning Mr. Courtemanche - thank you for your email last week. It's frustrating that you cover "separation of powers" and reference attorney client privilege and other basic principles, but you fail to answer the question about correspondence received from and/or sent to Mr. Davis. This link: <https://x.com/Truthoverchaos/status/1992245722901577796?s=20> takes you to an article that gives you an idea of the monumental obstructions I've faced in trying to accomplish a simple but good faith and very important discovery issue to get my family through a divorce. The fact that the Florida bar is so corrupted by insider protectionism, personal relationships, and whatever else caused it to abandon its core objective is disheartening and literally sickening to me. I didn't ask for any of this. But I will not stop pursuing it until the truth is out there to the point it requires consequences.

To avoid unnecessary litigation and to allow me to pursue this efficiently for all involved, I have narrowed follow up questions to just 4 at this time:

- 1. Apart from Mr. Davis's brief e-mail pointing out a typographical error, did the Bar receive any written or electronic communication from and/or send any written or electronic communication to Mr. Davis (or anyone on his behalf) in connection with this complaint?
- 2. If the answer to #1 is yes, on what specific provision of the Rules Regulating The Florida Bar does the Bar rely for the position that such correspondence is not part of the "public record" as that term is defined in Rule 3-7.1(b) (which expressly includes "any reports, correspondence, papers ... furnished to, served on, or received from the respondent")?
- 3. If the answer to #1 is no (i.e., the typo e-mail is literally the only communication ever received from or sent to the respondent), will the Bar please confirm that in writing? I noticed that your email never provides an answer to that simple question despite my months of attempting to "engage" with bar representatives regarding this process as documented in the attachment.

- 4. Separately, will the Bar provide a high-level privilege/confidentiality index (e.g., date, sender/recipient, general description such as “internal staff memorandum” or “e-mail to respondent transmitting complaint”) for any documents that exist in the file but which the Bar has determined fall outside the Rule 3-7.1(b) public-record definition? I am not asking for the documents themselves, only enough information to permit informed challenge if necessary.

Clear answers to these four questions may resolve the matter at least for the time being or it may redirect my focus to resolve this dispute. I'm trying to decide if I go straight to Federal Court or continue with my attempts in state.

Concerns Regarding Your Explanation on my facts requiring a Judicial Finding of Misconduct for the Bar to act.

Your statement that the Bar requires an evidentiary finding from the underlying court that Mr. Davis committed misconduct before proceeding is extremely concerning on multiple levels. As detailed in my original complaint, Judge Ayers was directly implicated in facilitating the misconduct at issue, including by ignoring clear ethical violations and enabling delay and child weaponization tactics. I filed a separate complaint with the Judicial Qualifications Commission (JQC) against Judge Ayers, which was dismissed without any substantive comment or explanation.

Given this, how can the Bar reasonably expect a finding from the very judge involved in the alleged impropriety? This position seems to create an insurmountable barrier to accountability in cases involving potential judicial complicity. It seems to be admittedly systemic corruption in progress. And it's hurting my family and certainly others.

Moreover, despite my repeated good-faith efforts to engage with the Bar—documented in the attached 21-page email chain spanning from February 2025 to October 2025—the Bar never contacted me for an interview, additional evidence, or clarification. This chain includes a partial timeline of my requests and follow-ups on June 26, 2025, July 21, 25, 30; submissions on August 7, 14; and pleas for transparency on September 1, 12, 23), all of which went largely unanswered beyond form acknowledgments.

Rule 3-7.3(c) mandates a preliminary investigation unless the complaint is clearly unfounded, yet the Bar's silence and lack of outreach suggest no meaningful inquiry occurred. This failure to engage, especially in a complaint alleging systemic issues in the 13th Judicial Circuit, further undermines the process, leading nicely into this next section.

Additional Bar Complaints and Lack of Confidence in the Florida Bar

I am currently drafting additional complaints against multiple individuals guilty of rule violations that demonstrate corruption or at least intentional dereliction of duties as attorneys. The bar's handling of the Davis complaint and my requests for transparency demonstrate a system that prioritizes protecting attorneys over upholding ethical standards. This has eroded any remaining confidence I have in the Florida Bar's willingness to fulfill its constitutional duties under Article V, §15 of the Florida Constitution, which mandates the regulation of attorney discipline to protect the public and ensure transparency. The Bar's actions—and lack thereof—perpetuate the very systemic issues my complaint sought to address, leaving Florida families vulnerable to unchecked attorney misconduct. As a Florida attorney and father to children impacted by this corruption, I have an obligation to see this through as long as it takes to ensure citizens are protected. Does the bar have any procedure in place for handling complaints against Bar members?

What Do I Do?

Do I submit more complaints to the bar when there's a long pattern of events demonstrates its violations of core duties, in the worst of what's all interrelated misconduct? What do I do when the law and oversight systems are so broken that a basic discovery request in a family law matter escalates into a solid year of constant misconduct from an attorney (Mr. Davis) and a judge (Ayers), followed by even worse cover-ups from those tasked with oversight? The initial acts by Mr. Davis and his predecessor, Ms. Hodz, were harmful, direct, and obvious ethical violations—delaying, harassing, and concealing to avoid scrutiny. But the institutional responses since then, including the Bar's, have compounded the damage through dismissals without investigation, refusals to engage, and now lawyerly emails that imply compliance while dodging direct answers. This has forced me to expend hundreds of hours fighting for transparency, all while my family suffers ongoing harm. If the Bar's role is to protect the public, how can it justify responses that only cause more misdirection, delays, and damage? I implore you to provide the clarifications above so we can resolve this without further escalation. While I fully expect to be compensated for this work in fighting for transparency and accountability, the delays are causing great hardship on my family. The simple discovery issue we had should have been resolved long before Thanksgiving 2024. Yet due to the actions of others and yourself, my family is still suffering. Please consider that very real fact in responding as I urge cooperation in bringing this to a resolution.

I would appreciate a response by the end of the week.

Thank you again for your assistance.

Respectfully,

Christopher Alan Hanson

Mr. Hanso:

You correspondence was forwarded to my office for review and a response.

Relying on separation of powers principles, the courts have consistently held that the judiciary is not an “agency” for purposes of Ch. 119^[1], F.S., commonly known as the Florida Public Records Law. Access to records of the judicial branch is governed by Florida Rule of General Practice & Judicial Administration 2.420:

Rule 2.420, Florida Rules of Judicial Administration - Public Access to and Protection of Judicial Branch Records

a. Scope and Purpose. Subject to the rulemaking power of the Florida Supreme Court provided by article V, section 2, Florida Constitution, the following rule shall govern public access to and the protection of the records of the judicial branch of government. The public shall have access to all records of the judicial branch of government, except as provided below...

b. Definitions.

1. “Records of the judicial branch” are all records, regardless of physical form, characteristics, or means of transmission, made or received in connection with the transaction of official business by any judicial branch entity and consist of:

....

(B) “administrative records,” which are all other records made or received pursuant to court rule, law, or ordinance, or in connection with the transaction of official business by any judicial branch entity.

(2) “Judicial branch” means the judicial branch of government, which includes the state courts system, the clerk of court when acting as an arm of the court, The Florida Bar, the Florida Board of Bar Examiners, the Judicial Qualifications Commission, and all other entities established by or operating under the authority of the supreme court or the chief justice.

(c) Confidential and Exempt Records. The following records of the judicial branch shall be confidential:

(7) All records made confidential under the Florida and United States Constitutions and Florida and federal law;

(8) All records presently deemed to be confidential by court rule, including the Rules for Admission to the Bar, by Florida Statutes, by prior case law of the State of Florida, and by the rules of the Judicial Qualifications Commission;

Although the judicial branch is not governed by the obligations and requirements of Chapter 119, Rule 2.420(c)(7) authorizes the judicial branch to incorporate all exemptions to public record in Chapter 119, and subsection (c)(8) authorizes the Bar to deem records confidential utilizing court rules, including the Rules Regulating the Florida Bar.

One big difference between Chapter 119 and Rule 2.420 is the recognition that judicial branch has a much broader confidentiality when it comes the attorney work-product and attorney-client communication.

Rule 1-14.1, Rules Regulating The Florida Bar - Access to Records

(a) Confidential Records. All records specifically designated confidential by court rules, the Florida or United States Constitution, statutes, attorney work product, and attorney-client communications shall be confidential. In the event that The Florida Bar objects to production, these records shall not be produced without order of the Supreme Court of Florida or some person designated by the supreme court to decide whether the records should be disclosed.

(d) Access to Records; Notice; Costs of Production. Any records of The Florida Bar that are not designated confidential by these Rules Regulating The Florida Bar shall be available for inspection or production to any person upon reasonable notice and upon payment of the cost of reproduction of the records.

Another difference is that under Chapter 119, the definition of a public record includes everything unless it is exempt or confidential. For disciplinary files handled by the Bar, the exact opposite is true – subsection (a) states that all of the records are confidential EXCEPT as provided in the rule. Subsection (b) then identifies what the Bar considered the “public record” subject to disclosure. Anything else (including communication between Bar staff is confidential and not subject to disclosure).

RULE 3-7.1 Rules Regulating the Florida Bar - Confidentiality

(a) Scope of Confidentiality. All records including files, preliminary investigation reports, interoffice memoranda, records of investigations, and the records in trials and other proceedings under these rules, except those disciplinary matters conducted in circuit courts, are property of The Florida Bar. All of those matters are confidential and will not be disclosed except as provided in these rules. When disclosure is permitted under these rules, it will be limited to information concerning the status of the proceedings and any information that is part of the public record as defined in these rules.

(b) Public Record. The public record consists of the record before a grievance committee, the record before a referee, the record before the Supreme Court of Florida, and any reports, correspondence, papers, recordings, and/or transcripts of hearings furnished to, served on, or received from the respondent or the complainant.

You have been provided the entire public record under Rule 3-7.1(b). Also, the bar is not an investigative agency like law enforcement. Our investigative resources are limited. You need to have the court in the underlying litigation make an evidentiary finding that the attorney you complained about committed misconduct.

Thanks.

Subject: Re: Christopher Hanson - General/Multiple Requests Records :: W015656-111025

Good afternoon. I'm following up on the correspondence below and attached seeking compliance with the transparency mandate in the Florida Constitution along with the relevant authority including Barron v. Fla. Freedom Newspapers, Inc., 531 So. 2d 113 (Fla. 1988). There is a strong presumption of public access allowing only minimally necessary and narrowly tailored exemptions.

It seems impossible to me that you've provided all of the communications with Mr. Davis. There's nothing I see related to his receipt or response to my bar complaint. Just him pointing out a typo which prompted the bar to draft a formal letter. That's quite a contrast from the level of cooperation I've received. After my many requests for updates, a formal interview, or just the opportunity to speak with someone about the investigation and offer assistance were ignored, it's very frustrating to have to continually follow up for what should be a very simple task.

Please confirm for me if you are willing to provide the additional materials or if you're refusing to do so, the basis for that. It seems to me that the Florida bar is continuing to violate its own rules in the handling of this matter. I would ask the bar, - what would you have an attorney do in the face of obvious misconduct from another attorney, and after reporting to the bar as required, the bar breaks its own rules and refuses to produce constitutionally required documents?

It appears that the Florida bar would choose chaos and lawlessness over simply performing their duties in good faith. I'll proceed with the formal lawsuit as soon as I can. The level of systemic corruption and/or incompetence I'm encountering is truly unbelievable. I won't let these issues critical to Florida attorneys and residents go without ensuring appropriate consequences and resolution, even if it takes years.

I continue to plead with you to cooperate and at least follow the rules. I'm expending hundreds of hours of work on this and I'll be seeking payment of fees and costs for the time I'm forced to spend getting the bar to follow its own rules and cooperate with constitutionally mandated transparency. Thank you for your cooperation and I look forward to hearing from you.

Thank you for your response dated November 10, 2025, acknowledging my public records request and providing access to some documents related to my dismissed complaint against Attorney Scott Paul Davis (Florida Bar No. 0074284, File No. 25-6861). I appreciate the prompt reply and the materials made available through the Public Records System. I want to respond now while I have your attention as I had requested information from the bar nearly a dozen times without a response. I will print the records and go thru them.

However, upon my initial review, the provided records appear incomplete under the definition of the public record in Rule 3-7.1(b) of the Rules Regulating The Florida Bar. Specifically, the production lacks any correspondence, reports, papers, or other communications furnished to, served on, or received from the respondent (Mr. Davis), including but not limited to:

- Any rebuttal or response submitted by Mr. Davis to the complaint.
- All emails, letters, notices, or other exchanges between The Florida Bar (including staff, investigators, or grievance committee members) and Mr. Davis or his representatives during the investigation and closure process.

I did have the opportunity to review the email from Mr. Davis pointing out a typographical error. Was that the extent of the communication with Mr. Davis throughout this matter including all of my appeals and requests for additional review?

Rule 3-7.1(b) expressly includes such materials in the public record for dismissed cases without probable cause, anything "furnished to, served on, or received from the respondent or the complainant." If no such communications exist beyond the typo note, please confirm this in writing. Otherwise, please immediately produce them in full, with any redactions clearly marked and justified under Rule 3-7.1(d) or other applicable exemptions.

Additionally, to the extent any materials in the file have been deemed confidential or exempt and thus not produced (e.g., internal work product or privileged information), I request a formal review and determination of confidentiality consistent with Florida Rule of Judicial Administration 2.420(e). I may need to research the procedures for that specific to the Florida bar, but it seems that because the Bar is not a Court, it's something that we could initial try to solve directly between myself and the bar.

What I'm requesting is:

- Identification of any withheld or redacted items, with a description sufficient to understand their nature (without revealing confidential content).
- A written explanation of the specific exemption or basis for confidentiality for each item.
- An opportunity for me to challenge the confidentiality designation, as provided under subdivision (e)(2), including any required notice and hearing if required.

This request is made pursuant to Chapter 119, Florida Statutes, Rule 3-7.1, and Rule 2.420, to ensure full compliance with public access requirements and to address the apparent gaps in the production. Please provide the requested materials and/or confidentiality review outcomes within 10 days, in electronic format where possible. If I missed relevant correspondence to or from Mr. Davis, please point that out for me.

It's incredibly concerning to me that no one at the Bar or the Court System has offered an explanation for looks like a hasty decision to sweep this obvious misconduct under the rug. It's an enormous problem that requires attention. If this follow-up is not addressed promptly, I will have no choice but to pursue legal remedies, including a lawsuit for mandamus and recovery of fees and costs, as previously noticed. Thank you for your attention to this matter. Please contact me if you need clarification. Sincerely,

Christopher Hanson:

The Florida Bar acknowledges receipt of your public record request dated November 10, 2025, and I am responding in accordance with Rule 2.420, Florida Rules of General Procedure & Judicial Administration, and applicable law.

The Florida Bar has searched its records and has located the documents that meet the parameters of your request, which may be attached to this message or accessible through the link provided below. Please note that any response is subject to judicial branch and bar records retention schedules.

You have been provided with the entire public record related to your request. The public record of a disciplinary file is defined in Rule 3-7.1(b) of the Rules Regulating The Florida Bar. Pursuant to the rule, "[t]he public record shall consist of the record before a grievance committee, the record before a referee, the record before the Supreme Court of Florida, and any reports, correspondence, papers, recordings, and/or transcripts of hearings furnished to, served on, or received from the respondent or the complainant."

Please note: You may find duplicates within the records provided, as copies may be entered into the file multiple times due to emails, responses, etc. Also, some records may have been redacted prior to submission

To review your request or download any associated files; please login to the Public Records System using this email address.

If you have any further questions, please feel free to contact me at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely,

Rick Courtemanche

Good morning. Please find attached my confirmation of no affiliation with law firm and a formal letter, responding to the "complaint" as best I can. I do request specification from the complainant if it's not immediately dismissed.

I'm also reiterating my request for the obvious conflicts of interest here to be addressed. Mr. Sheridan apparently practices family law in Tampa. I mean no offense to Mr. Sheridan with this as I know nothing about him personally. Perhaps he'd be the person to restore some integrity at the 13th Circuit and with the Bar, and I hope he is that.

However, my concerns with insider protectionism and "clubhouse corruption" in Tampa, about which I've written rather extensively, introduce yet another layer of potential conflicts, with the assignment of a Tampa Family law insider to handle the complaint process. Obviously, I'm concerned that he'd be partial towards Judge Ayers, in front of whom, (it would seem), he commonly practices.

Please let me know on why the complaint was not dismissed for failure to describe a violation of the rules or let me know what my next step is. I look forward to hearing from you. Thank you for your cooperation.

Good afternoon. I'm not sure if you're aware of the background here, but I stand behind every word that I've written. Beyond that, I stand behind publishing every word of it as I know it's of great public importance. I've offered anyone implicated in this corruption to offer another explanation for their misconduct other than his or her complicity in it. Here's a couple of links to the most recent posts on the misconduct my family has suffered through for over a year and a half.

I will be keeping all of that adding to it and

I will be keeping all of that, adding to it, and making this development public as well. Judge Ayers is corrupt, dishonest, and now, certainly vindictive. I understand the seriousness of those statements. And I hope you'll consider the possibility that they are demonstrably true statements that have been swept under the rug for far too long. I'll take a look at the specifics in the attached documents. But my response is essentially, telling the truth in compliance with my duties as a Florida attorney, even in the face of massive power and corruption, is the opposite of an ethics violation. To the extent the rules allow, I request that this entire process be as public and open as possible. I waive any rights I may have to keep this confidential.

I do have concerns about the impartiality of the Florida bar. As you may know, I could not get the Florida bar to "engage" at all in relation to my bar complaint against Mr. Davis. I fully believe the bar is complicit in covering up his intentional, harmful, and ongoing ethical violations. A public records lawsuit against the Florida bar will be filed within the next few days. There are real concerns that the bar could retaliate and discipline me for simply telling the truth to expose the corruption.

To the extent I can request anyone outside the bar handle the complaint, I'd like to request that as well. Or, isn't there a step where the bar can't simply dismiss based on routine? If so, please advise me of the decision or process of getting that done.

Despite the rule requiring public access to reports, correspondence, papers, etc. submitted by the respondent being public under Rule 3-7.1, the Florida bar never furnished me with those materials. I'm still waiting on an answer on whether they even exist. I certainly didn't get a copy of anything like this that I assume was served upon and received back from Mr. Davis? Either way, I'd like to request the bar consider dismissing it for the vindictive waste of time it is.

I copied Mr. Courtemanche as he's familiar with the public records issue.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Okay. It sounds like you've been through the social media. Can you tell me one statement that I've made that is false?

I've followed up several times on that precise question reminding you that I've not had the opportunity to respond any allegation about any statement or statement(s) that I've made. The truth is still an absolute defense, right?

Or if you're going to move to a vote without involving me further, please explain to me how Judge Ayers' bar complaint against me passes even the first step of your process once I point out that she fails to allege any false statement that I've made.

Have you all considered the closely related bar complaint against Scott Davis and the bar's misconduct related to that? Is the bar so committed to covering up its own internal misconduct that it would retaliate against me in this manner?

What about the fact that everything I've said is true?? Do you see the extent of judicial misconduct and corruption that's occurring. The ruling class just gets a pass from the bar? While they get to wield its power against those who tell the truth about active and harmful corruption.

The FL bar desperately needs a whistleblower. I'm requesting the opportunity for every formality available under the rules and all communication and engagement that the bar is willing to provide. This battle against corrupt and powerful people that somehow are able to operate above the law has taken over much of my life. It's put me in a very difficult position financially and in many other ways. I won't stop pursuing this. I'm working on a federal complaint now. If the federal courts support this open and obvious corruption, that won't stop my fight either.

I pray that The Florida Bar and its lawyers and staff or at least one of them will do the right thing. It's truly terrifying that an organization in charge of justice can willfully subvert the obvious truth for so long. The truth doesn't change and when you try to cover that up, you create more corruption and dishonesty that will need to be addressed. I will keep doing that until someone does the right thing.

I ask again that the bar immediately notify me and provide an opportunity to respond to anything that I've published or written anywhere that the Florida Bar or Judge Ayers can tell me is untrue? Thank you for your cooperation.

Mr. Kelley - hopefully you can understand my confusion and frustration with all of this.

Mr. Sheridan, as chair of the committee, you must have some information about what's occurred in the last 3 and a half months. Who, within your committee, was assigned as the investigator? Was there any conflict assessment? Did you take any action or communicate with anyone based on the 6-7 communications referenced below?

Mr. Sheridan and Bar Counsel:

On December 3, 2025, Bar Counsel, Jason Kelley, sent me an official letter certifying that the complaint filed against me by Judge Ayers was being forwarded to the grievance committee chaired by Mr. Joshua Sheridan for "further investigation and disposition" .

For the past 104 days, I have operated under the Florida Bar's official notice that Mr. Sheridan was investigating this matter. In addition to my response to the complaint seeking information on any of my statements alleged to be untrue, I have sent five separate, detailed follow-up emails (December 18, January 7, January 15, February 13, and March 17) requesting basic due process, raising valid conflict-of-interest objections regarding Mr. Sheridan's assignment, and demanding that the complainant identify a single specific statement she alleges to be false .

Yet, yesterday afternoon, March 17, 2026, Mr. Sheridan replied to my fifth inquiry stating: "I'm not assigned to this case. I have no knowledge" .

There must be some story here. Was your committee ever assigned to the case? When and how did that change? Why wasn't I notified? Why ignore the five emails below following up for specification on status and any statement I made that anyone alleges to be false?

Especially given my ongoing litigation against the bar related to their active concealment of internal misconduct relating to my bar complaint against attorney Scott Davis, the delays and confusion about the status of the complaint against me are very concerning. This demonstrates further internal bar failures prejudicial to the administration of justice, violating the Bar's own ethical standards under Rule 4-8.4(d) . I

I'm very concerned about continuing misconduct from institutional insiders continuing to retaliate against me for exposing systemic corruption in the 13th Circuit and beyond. These problems are continuing to grow due to the bar's absolute refusal to acknowledge internal problems such as Mr. Courtemanche violating the rules for Public Record access that he teaches throughout the state. The costs and damage to my family from these failures are very real and ongoing.

As I have stated repeatedly, Judge Ayers' complaint cites Rules 4-8.2(a) and 4-8.4(d) but fails to identify a single specific factual error in my reporting . Under Rule 3-7.1, the Bar's intake counsel has the authority to dismiss complaints that are vague, conclusory, or lack sufficient factual specificity to support a violation . It is a legal impossibility to defend against an alleged falsehood when the accuser and the Bar refuse to identify it .

Demand for Immediate Action: Based on the complainant's complete failure to specify a false statement, compounded by the Bar's inexcusable mishandling and misrepresentation of the investigation's assignment, I demand the following:

1. Immediate Dismissal: The outright dismissal of Judge Ayers' complaint (File No. 2026-10,395(13F)) for lack of specificity and severe procedural prejudice.
2. Written Explanation: A formal, written explanation by the end of this week detailing exactly who has been handling this file since December 3, 2025, why I was falsely notified of Mr. Sheridan's assignment, and why the Bar ignored five direct inquiries regarding my case.
3. Immediate Production: The bar should produce all correspondence and materials on the Judge Ayers' complaint against Hanson and corresponding handling and investigation.
4. Referral of Judge Ayers' to the JQC: Judge Ayers submitted a false and retaliatory bar complaint. The bar representatives know that as well as anyone, and this is certainly grounds for discipline thru the JQC.

Please let me know the bar's position on this.

And Mr. Sheridan, what changed? Did you have any contact with the bar after the 12-3-25 email? Why not respond to any of my first 4 emails on the topic?

I look forward to hearing from you. To be clear, I never asked for any of this. I encountered severe and obvious attorney and judicial misconduct and corruption. While I'm not looking to make things embarrassing for the bar or any individuals, accountability is imperative for anyone to move forward from this. If the bar wants to talk about resolution to these issues in a manner that limits costs and damage for all involved, please let me know.

Good morning. It's been another month, now 3.5 months total, that I've been requesting an explanation about any statement that I've made that is untrue and/or violative of the professional rules. I have other questions that I've repeatedly raised that have also gone ignored... all while the Florida bar attempts to conceal evidence that will further illuminate internal misconduct, bias, and "complaint fixing" within the Florida Bar. I've requested depositions and formal investigation into all of this.

Yet I've heard nothing. I'm sure you're aware of the stress inherent in dealing with the Florida Bar especially when unethical attorney conduct continues to harm my family, despite a formal complaint from over a year ago, that the bar continues to work to bury. And on top of that, I'm apparently under investigation for telling the truth about a corrupt judge.

This is not going away. There is no solution remotely consistent with truth or justice other than the bar coming clean.

What is the hold up? Has the Florida bar communicated with the complainant in the case against me? After over 3.5 months of having this case over my head, is there a single untrue or even questionable statement I've made? How is the complaint still pending if not? Why hasn't anyone told me if you're alleging now that I've said something untrue.

I think this is part of a coordinated effort involving the 13th Circuit, Florida Bar, 2nd Circuit, 6th Circuit, Attorney General's office to serve the powerful insiders over truth and justice. Please help me see your side of the story.

Thank you for your cooperation and I look forward to hearing from you.

Mr. Sheridan and Bar Counsel:

Please see the email chain below thru January 15, 2026. It's been 2.5 months since I formally requested that the Complainant, Judge Ayers, specify exactly which statements or even any statement she alleges as false. As noted in my initial formal response (December 8, 2025), the complaint simply cites Rules 4-8.2(a) and 4-8.4(d) and attaches voluminous public statements without identifying a single specific factual error. I reaffirmed those statements many times.

It's very hard for me to understand this process when no one has told me any statement anyone believes to be false. And, I've heard nothing about the defenses I raised or the conflicts of interest concerns.

The Bar has done nothing to clarify options for dealing with the conflicts of interest I raised in the correspondence below. I believe that the Bar has a vested interest in these proceedings, as defendants in a 2nd Circuit case seek to conceal communications with Davis about the bar complaint against him. The Bar desperately needs to find a way to support Ayers fiction that I've made false statements. The problem is, the veracity of my statements is documented throughout the records of litigation in 3 Circuits and a DCA, with many examples of facts recorded contemporaneously with occurrence, that now fit into this broad framework of misconduct spanning from the 6th and 13th Circuits, to the 2nd Circuit and Florida Bar.

I continue to ask the Bar to consider appointment of an independent counsel, unconnected to Florida's Judiciary, due to the scope of powerful figures in Florida already implicated in the corruption and/or cover up attempts. There are numerous bar complaints I need to submit, but I'm not going to email a bar complaint to the same bar that's actively working to conceal public records from public access in litigation against me.

The harm that your course of action is causing my family is very real in ways I can't describe in an email. I continue to urge you to consider efficiency and resolution rather than aggravating the damages already inflicted. What is the consideration stopping the Florida bar from acknowledging the truth in these proceedings across 6 plus dockets? There's nothing in the facts or law that I see. It's unlawful and harmful conduct 100 percent motivated by self and fellow ruling class protectionism. And it's no longer appropriate in Florida.

if you believe anything I stated here or anywhere else is untrue, I encourage you to correct me. Once again, I want to reiterate my availability for statements, depositions, or any other discovery. And I continue to request my opportunity to question Judge Ayers and individuals at the bar about the handling of my complaint.

Please provide me some update as to the status of the complaint at your earliest convenience. Thank you for your cooperation.

Dear Mr. Courtemanche, Mr. Kelley and Mr. Sheridan:

I am writing to follow up—again—on my correspondence dated December 18, 2025, and my subsequent detailed follow-up on December 23, 2025, regarding the complaint initiated by Judge Ayers and the related conflicts-of-interest and vagueness issues. Other than a brief phone call from Mr. Kelley on December 20 confirming receipt of my materials, I have received no written acknowledgment, no substantive response, and no update of any kind.

Given the seriousness of the issues raised, the silence is becoming increasingly concerning- especially as directly related matters inexplicably remain pending in the second district court of appeal.

1. Outstanding Requests Under RRTFB 3-7.4

As stated in my December 23 email, I requested the following pursuant to Rule 3-7.4:

- A timeline for when Judge Ayers will specify the allegedly inaccurate statements, or confirmation and explanation if the Bar is refusing to require such specificity.
- The current posture of the investigation, including whether it remains under preliminary review or has been referred to a grievance committee.
- Confirmation that my waiver of confidentiality under Rule 3-7.1 has been noted and that all materials will be handled publicly as permitted.

None of these requests have been addressed.

2. Conflict-of-Interest and Disqualification Request (RRTFB 3-3.4, 3-7.4, 3-7.5, 4-1.7)

I also requested:

- Immediate disqualification of Mr. Sheridan due to conflicts under Rule 4-1.7(a)(2),
- Reassignment to independent counsel outside the 13th Judicial Circuit, and
- A public hearing on the motion, consistent with my Rule 3-7.1 waiver.

These requests likewise remain unanswered.

Given the direct adversarial posture between myself and the Florida Bar (as detailed in my petition for mandamus and declaratory relief), and the involvement of Judge Ayers in both matters, the failure to respond only heightens the appearance of institutional bias and retaliation—precisely the concerns the rules are designed to prevent.

3. Public Records Request (Article I, §24; Rule 2.420)

My Formal Public Records Request #1, submitted on December 23, sought:

- All records relating to the assignment of Mr. Sheridan,
- All conflict-of-interest evaluations or discussions,
- All sufficiency assessments of Judge Ayers' complaint, both before and after my objections, and
- All related correspondence, notes, logs, drafts, and internal materials.

Under Article I, Section 24 of the Florida Constitution and Rule 2.420, a response is required within a reasonable time. At this point, the lack of acknowledgment itself is a violation.

If any portion of the requested records is exempt, you are required to identify the exemption with particularity and produce all non-exempt portions.

I received a response from Mr. Courtemanche stating, "Fla.R.Gen.Proc.Jud.Admin 2.420(c)(3)(B) & RRTFB 3-7.1(a)(1): Complaints alleging misconduct against attorneys until probable cause/no probable cause is established." I'm requesting multiple sets of documents outside of the complaint. I request compliance with that so that we can avoid the time and expense associated with additional writ proceedings.

4. Request for Immediate Action

At this stage, I respectfully request:

1. A written response to my questions within the week, addressing each of the items above;
2. Production of all non-exempt public records responsive to my December 23 request; and
3. Clarification of the procedural posture of this matter, including whether any action has been taken since my December 18 submission.

If no response is provided, I will have no choice but to pursue additional remedies, including supplementing my pending petition for writ of mandamus and seeking judicial intervention to compel compliance with the Bar's constitutional and procedural obligations.

I would also request any and all formalities in the investigations including affidavits and depositions. No one has contacted me about this. Unfortunately, this causes me great concern given the results of the Davis investigation. where the similarly refused to engage on the process.

I remain available to discuss these issues, but at this point, written clarity is essential.

Sincerely, Christopher Hanson Florida Bar #44094

Good afternoon. It's now been a full 10 days since my email below attaching formal response efforts (subject to the limitations from the lack of any substantive allegations). I have not received any response or acknowledgment from the Florida Bar.

Can you please at least confirm for me that my response was received and is sufficient for now? And that Judge Ayers is going to provide specification about which statements she believes are inaccurate along with a timeline for when I can expect that?

Please find links to recent documents I filed last night as part of a petition/complaint for mandamus and declaratory relief against the Florida bar. There's now a formal and direct adversarial relationship between myself and the Florida Bar. The focus of the petition is on failures related to my bar complaint against attorney Scott Davis. His conduct requiring the bar complaint directly involves Judge Ayers covering for him, approving of harmful ethical violations, and even advancing his litigation tactics obviously violating the law. I reference Judge Ayers' recent complaint against me and request some relief from the Circuit Court including appointment of an independent counsel to oversee issues where the conflict between myself and the Bar raise serious concerns over potential bias and retaliation against me.

Could someone please at least advise me of the current posture of the case. I'm not even sure whom to call? Since Ms. Alcorn sent the email, I'll start there if I don't get a response to your email. Thank you for your cooperation.

However, my concerns with insider protectionism and "clubhouse corruption" in Tampa, about which I've written rather extensively, introduce yet another layer of potential conflicts, with the assignment of a Tampa Family law insider to handle the complaint process. Obviously, I'm concerned that he'd be partial towards Judge Ayers, in front of whom, (it would seem), he commonly practices.

Please let me know on why the complaint was not dismissed for failure to describe a violation of the rules or let me know what my next step is. I look forward to hearing from you. Thank you for your cooperation.

I will be keeping all of that, adding to it, and making this development public as well. Judge Ayers is corrupt, dishonest, and now, certainly vindictive. I understand the seriousness of those statements. And I hope you'll consider the possibility that they are demonstrably true statements that have been swept under the rug for far too long. I'll take a look at the specifics in the attached documents. But my response is essentially, telling the truth in compliance with my duties as a Florida attorney, even in the face of massive power and corruption, is the opposite of an ethics violation. To the extent the rules allow, I request that this entire process be as public and open as possible. I waive any rights I may have to keep this confidential.

I do have concerns about the impartiality of the Florida bar. As you may know, I could not get the Florida bar to "engage" at all in relation to my bar complaint against Mr. Davis. I fully believe the bar is complicit in covering up his intentional, harmful, and ongoing ethical violations. A public records lawsuit against the Florida bar will be filed within the next few days. There are real concerns that the bar could retaliate and discipline me for simply telling the truth to expose the corruption.

To the extent I can request anyone outside the bar handle the complaint, I'd like to request that as well. Or, isn't there a step where the bar can't simply dismiss based on routine? If so, please advise me of the decision or process of getting that done.

Despite the rule requiring public access to reports, correspondence, papers. etc. submitted by the respondent being public under Rule 3-7.1, the Florida bar never furnished me with those materials. I'm still waiting on an answer on whether they even exist. I certainly didn't get a copy of anything like this that I assume was served upon and received back from Mr. Davis? Either way, I'd like to request the bar consider dismissing it for the vindictive waste of time it is.

I copied Mr. Courtemanche as he's familiar with the public records issue.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Mr. Hanson,

It appears you have a lot to say, and I am going to give you the opportunity to make it all part of the record.

I am going to send you a subpoena to appear in person for a sworn statement.

I have to work out court reporter, conference room, investigator and my own schedules. After I do that, I will send you some dates and give you your choice.

There will likely be a few in April and a few in May. I am expecting 3-4 hours.

I will contact you when we get that sorted.

Okay. It sounds like you've been through the social media. Can you tell me one statement that I've made that is false?

I've followed up several times on that precise question reminding you that I've not had the opportunity to respond any allegation about any statement or statement(s) that I've made. The truth is still an absolute defense, right?

Or if you're going to move to a vote without involving me further, please explain to me how Judge Ayers' bar complaint against me passes even the first step of your process once I point out that she fails to allege any false statement that I've made.

Have you all considered the closely related bar complaint against Scott Davis and the bar's misconduct related to that? Is the bar so committed to covering up its own internal misconduct that it would retaliate against me in this manner?

What about the fact that everything I've said is true?? Do you see the extent of judicial misconduct and corruption that's occurring. The ruling class just gets a pass from the bar? While they get to wield its power against those who tell the truth about active and harmful corruption.

The FL bar desperately needs a whistleblower. I'm requesting the opportunity for every formality available under the rules and all communication and engagement that the bar is willing to provide. This battle against corrupt and powerful people that somehow are able to operate above the law has taken over much of my life. It's put me in a very difficult position financially and in many other ways. I won't stop pursuing this. I'm working on a federal complaint now. If the federal courts support this open and obvious corruption, that won't stop my fight either.

I pray that The Florida Bar and its lawyers and staff or at least one of them will do the right thing. It's truly terrifying that an organization in charge of justice can willfully subvert the obvious truth for so long. The truth doesn't change and when you try to cover that up, you create more corruption and dishonesty that will need to be addressed. I will keep doing that until someone does the right thing.

I ask again that the bar immediately notify me and provide an opportunity to respond to anything that I've published or written anywhere that the Florida Bar or Judge Ayers can tell me is untrue? Thank you for your cooperation.

Mr. Kelley - hopefully you can understand my confusion and frustration with all of this.

Mr. Sheridan, as chair of the committee, you must have some information about what's occurred in the last 3 and a half months. Who, within your committee, was assigned as the investigator? Was there any conflict assessment? Did you take any action or communicate with anyone based on the 6-7 communications referenced below?

Mr. Sheridan and Bar Counsel:

On December 3, 2025, Bar Counsel, Jason Kelley, sent me an official letter certifying that the complaint filed against me by Judge Ayers was being forwarded to the grievance committee chaired by Mr. Joshua Sheridan for "further investigation and disposition" .

For the past 104 days, I have operated under the Florida Bar's official notice that Mr. Sheridan was investigating this matter. In addition to my response to the complaint seeking information on any of my statements alleged to be untrue, I have sent five separate, detailed follow-up emails (December 18, January 7, January 15, February 13, and March 17) requesting basic due process, raising valid conflict-of-interest objections regarding Mr. Sheridan's assignment, and demanding that the complainant identify a single specific statement she alleges to be false .

Yet, yesterday afternoon, March 17, 2026, Mr. Sheridan replied to my fifth inquiry stating: "I'm not assigned to this case. I have no knowledge" .

There must be some story here. Was your committee ever assigned to the case? When and how did that change? Why wasn't I notified? Why ignore the five emails below following up for specification on status and any statement I made that anyone alleges to be false?

Especially given my ongoing litigation against the bar related to their active concealment of internal misconduct relating to my bar complaint against attorney Scott Davis, the delays and confusion about the status of the complaint against me are very concerning. This demonstrates further internal bar failures prejudicial to the administration of justice, violating the Bar's own ethical standards under Rule 4-8.4(d) . I

I'm very concerned about continuing misconduct from institutional insiders continuing to retaliate against me for exposing systemic corruption in the 13th Circuit and beyond. These problems are continuing to grow due to the bar's absolute refusal to acknowledge internal problems such as Mr. Courtemanche violating the rules for Public Record access that he teaches throughout the state. The costs and damage to my family from these failures are very real and ongoing.

As I have stated repeatedly, Judge Ayers' complaint cites Rules 4-8.2(a) and 4-8.4(d) but fails to identify a single specific factual error in my reporting . Under Rule 3-7.1, the Bar's intake counsel has the authority to dismiss complaints that are vague, conclusory, or lack sufficient factual specificity to support a violation . It is a legal impossibility to defend against an alleged falsehood when the accuser and the Bar refuse to identify it .

Demand for Immediate Action: Based on the complainant's complete failure to specify a false statement, compounded by the Bar's inexcusable mishandling and misrepresentation of the investigation's assignment, I demand the following:

1. Immediate Dismissal: The outright dismissal of Judge Ayers' complaint (File No. 2026-10,395(13F)) for lack of specificity and severe procedural prejudice.
2. Written Explanation: A formal, written explanation by the end of this week detailing exactly who has been handling this file since December 3, 2025, why I was falsely notified of Mr. Sheridan's assignment, and why the Bar ignored five direct inquiries regarding my case.
3. Immediate Production: The bar should produce all correspondence and materials on the Judge Ayers' complaint against Hanson and corresponding handling and investigation.
4. Referral of Judge Ayers' to the JQC: Judge Ayers submitted a false and retaliatory bar complaint. The bar representatives know that as well as anyone, and this is certainly grounds for discipline thru the JQC.

Please let me know the bar's position on this.

And Mr. Sheridan, what changed? Did you have any contact with the bar after the 12-3-25 email? Why not respond to any of my first 4 emails on the topic?

I look forward to hearing from you. To be clear, I never asked for any of this. I encountered severe and obvious attorney and judicial misconduct and corruption. While I'm not looking to make things embarrassing for the bar or any individuals, accountability is imperative for anyone to move forward from this. If the bar wants to talk about resolution to these issues in a manner that limits costs and damage for all involved, please let me know.

Good morning. It's been another month, now 3.5 months total, that I've been requesting an explanation about any statement that I've made that is untrue and/or violative of the professional rules. I have other questions that I've repeatedly raised that have also gone ignored... all while the Florida bar attempts to conceal evidence that will further illuminate internal misconduct, bias, and "complaint fixing" within the Florida Bar. I've requested depositions and formal investigation into all of this.

Yet I've heard nothing. I'm sure you're aware of the stress inherent in dealing with the Florida Bar especially when unethical attorney conduct continues to harm my family, despite a formal complaint from over a year ago, that the bar continues to work to bury. And on top of that, I'm apparently under investigation for telling the truth about a corrupt judge.

This is not going away. There is no solution remotely consistent with truth or justice other than the bar coming clean.

What is the hold up? Has the Florida bar communicated with the complainant in the case against me? After over 3.5 months of having this case over my head, is there a single untrue or even questionable statement I've made? How is the complaint still pending if not? Why hasn't anyone told me if you're alleging now that I've said something untrue.

I think this is part of a coordinated effort involving the 13th Circuit, Florida Bar, 2nd Circuit, 6th Circuit, Attorney General's office to serve the powerful insiders over truth and justice. Please help me see your side of the story.

Thank you for your cooperation and I look forward to hearing from you.

Mr. Sheridan and Bar Counsel:

Please see the email chain below thru January 15, 2026. It's been 2.5 months since I formally requested that the Complainant, Judge Ayers, specify exactly which statements or even any statement she alleges as false. As noted in my initial formal response (December 8, 2025), the complaint simply cites Rules 4-8.2(a) and 4-8.4(d) and attaches voluminous public statements without identifying a single specific factual error. I reaffirmed those statements many times.

It's very hard for me to understand this process when no one has told me any statement anyone believes to be false. And, I've heard nothing about the defenses I raised or the conflicts of interest concerns.

The Bar has done nothing to clarify options for dealing with the conflicts of interest I raised in the correspondence below. I believe that the Bar has a vested interest in these proceedings, as defendants in a 2nd Circuit case seek to conceal communications with Davis about the bar complaint against him. The Bar desperately needs to find a way to support Ayers fiction that I've made false statements. The problem is, the veracity of my statements is documented throughout the records of litigation in 3 Circuits and a DCA, with many examples of facts recorded contemporaneously with occurrence, that now fit into this broad framework of misconduct spanning from the 6th and 13th Circuits, to the 2nd Circuit and Florida Bar.

I continue to ask the Bar to consider appointment of an independent counsel, unconnected to Florida's Judiciary, due to the scope of powerful figures in Florida already implicated in the corruption and/or cover up attempts. There are numerous bar complaints I need to submit, but I'm not going to email a bar complaint to the same bar that's actively working to conceal public records from public access in litigation against me.

The harm that your course of action is causing my family is very real in ways I can't describe in an email. I continue to urge you to consider efficiency and resolution rather than aggravating the damages already inflicted. What is the consideration stopping the Florida bar from acknowledging the truth in these proceedings across 6 plus dockets? There's nothing in the facts or law that I see. It's unlawful and harmful conduct 100 percent motivated by self and fellow ruling class protectionism. And it's no longer appropriate in Florida.

if you believe anything I stated here or anywhere else is untrue, I encourage you to correct me. Once again, I want to reiterate my availability for statements, depositions, or any other discovery. And I continue to request my opportunity to question Judge Ayers and individuals at the bar about the handling of my complaint.

Please provide me some update as to the status of the complaint at your earliest convenience. Thank you for your cooperation.

Dear Mr. Courtemanche, Mr. Kelley and Mr. Sheridan:

I am writing to follow up—again—on my correspondence dated December 18, 2025, and my subsequent detailed follow-up on December 23, 2025, regarding the complaint initiated by Judge Ayers and the related conflicts-of-interest and vagueness issues. Other than a brief phone call from Mr. Kelley on December 20 confirming receipt of my materials, I have received no written acknowledgment, no substantive response, and no update of any kind.

Given the seriousness of the issues raised, the silence is becoming increasingly concerning- especially as directly related matters inexplicably remain pending in the second district court of appeal.

1. Outstanding Requests Under RRTFB 3-7.4

As stated in my December 23 email, I requested the following pursuant to Rule 3-7.4:

- A timeline for when Judge Ayers will specify the allegedly inaccurate statements, or confirmation and explanation if the Bar is refusing to require such specificity.
- The current posture of the investigation, including whether it remains under preliminary review or has been referred to a grievance committee.
- Confirmation that my waiver of confidentiality under Rule 3-7.1 has been noted and that all materials will be handled publicly as permitted.

None of these requests have been addressed.

2. Conflict-of-Interest and Disqualification Request (RRTFB 3-3.4, 3-7.4, 3-7.5, 4-1.7)

I also requested:

- Immediate disqualification of Mr. Sheridan due to conflicts under Rule 4-1.7(a)(2),
- Reassignment to independent counsel outside the 13th Judicial Circuit, and
- A public hearing on the motion, consistent with my Rule 3-7.1 waiver.

These requests likewise remain unanswered.

Given the direct adversarial posture between myself and the Florida Bar (as detailed in my petition for mandamus and declaratory relief), and the involvement of Judge Ayers in both matters, the failure to respond only heightens the appearance of institutional bias and retaliation—precisely the concerns the rules are designed to prevent.

3. Public Records Request (Article I, §24; Rule 2.420)

My Formal Public Records Request #1, submitted on December 23, sought:

- All records relating to the assignment of Mr. Sheridan,
- All conflict-of-interest evaluations or discussions,
- All sufficiency assessments of Judge Ayers' complaint, both before and after my objections, and
- All related correspondence, notes, logs, drafts, and internal materials.

Under Article I, Section 24 of the Florida Constitution and Rule 2.420, a response is required within a reasonable time. At this point, the lack of acknowledgment itself is a violation.

If any portion of the requested records is exempt, you are required to identify the exemption with particularity and produce all non-exempt portions.

I received a response from Mr. Courtemanche stating, "Fla.R.Gen.Proc.Jud.Admin 2.420(c)(3)(B) & RRTFB 3-7.1(a)(1): Complaints alleging misconduct against attorneys until probable cause/no probable cause is established." I'm requesting multiple sets of documents outside of the complaint. I request compliance with that so that we can avoid the time and expense associated with additional writ proceedings.

4. Request for Immediate Action

At this stage, I respectfully request:

1. A written response to my questions within the week, addressing each of the items above;
2. Production of all non-exempt public records responsive to my December 23 request; and
3. Clarification of the procedural posture of this matter, including whether any action has been taken since my December 18 submission.

If no response is provided, I will have no choice but to pursue additional remedies, including supplementing my pending petition for writ of mandamus and seeking judicial intervention to compel compliance with the Bar's constitutional and procedural obligations.

I would also request any and all formalities in the investigations including affidavits and depositions. No one has contacted me about this. Unfortunately, this causes me great concern given the results of the Davis investigation. where the similarly refused to engage on the process.

I remain available to discuss these issues, but at this point, written clarity is essential.

Sincerely, Christopher Hanson Florida Bar #44094

Can you please at least confirm for me that my response was received and is sufficient for now? And that Judge Ayers is going to provide specification about which statements she believes are inaccurate along with a timeline for when I can expect that?

Please find links to recent documents I filed last night as part of a petition/complaint for mandamus and declaratory relief against the Florida bar. There's now a formal and direct adversarial relationship between myself and the Florida Bar. The focus of the petition is on failures related to my bar complaint against attorney Scott Davis. His conduct requiring the bar complaint directly involves Judge Ayers covering for him, approving of harmful ethical violations, and even advancing his litigation tactics obviously violating the law. I reference Judge Ayers' recent complaint against me and request some relief from the Circuit Court including appointment of an independent counsel to oversee issues where the conflict between myself and the Bar raise serious concerns over potential bias and retaliation against me.

Could someone please at least advise me of the current posture of the case. I'm not even sure whom to call? Since Ms. Alcorn sent the email, I'll start there if I don't get a response to your email. Thank you for your cooperation.

I am in receipt of your March 20 email demanding my appearance for a three-to-four-hour sworn statement. Your opening remark—"It appears you have a lot to say"—is noted for the record as both dismissive and indicative of the retaliatory mission the Bar has adopted in this matter. You are right – I do have a lot to say. I very much look forward to the sworn statement although I'm not convinced that 4 hours will be long enough to review all of the relevant misconduct in the case.

Both Ayers (in her bar complaint against me) and Davis (link to relevant thread here: bit.ly/41fTAlI) generally allege what I'm saying is untrue, but only in a very generic sense. Their complete inability to identify even one false statement proves that they are simply frustrated that I am telling the truth in a comprehensive and coherent manner. Telling the truth, even about judicial insiders, is not violative of the rules.

Continuing request for specification:

As the record reflects, my insistence on reasonable specification is not a new demand; it dates back to my initial response to the Bar complaint in December. In that response, and consistently in our email chain ever since, I have explicitly requested that the Complainant identify exactly what she believes to be false so that I may properly defend myself.

Did you even ask the Complainant about what she alleges is false?

Has she sworn to any of my statements being false?

If not, why not? You point out that I have "a lot to say" based on reviewing my social media statements. I have confirmed that I stand behind every word I wrote. You know my story. Do you know Judge Ayers version of the story and how that differs from mine? Because I don't...

Standard Bar complaints require the complaining witness to swear to the facts under penalties of perjury. It appears Judge Ayers has merely made a nebulous and vague allegation by attaching over 20 pages of screenshots and citing a rule, without actually swearing to the falsity of any specific statement.

Before I am compelled to testify under oath, fundamental due process dictates that my accuser must first swear, under penalty of perjury, to the specific statements she alleges to be false. If she has not sworn to a specific falsehood, why is the Bar weaponizing its subpoena power to force me into a multi-hour sworn deposition in an attempt to bypass this foundational requirement?

Instead of answering these fundamental due process questions, your email demanding a sworn statement ignores months of correspondence. Since December, I have sent several communications seeking basic updates on this matter. The Bar has failed to respond at all, while leaving the following critical issues entirely unaddressed:

1. Conflict of Interest and Retaliation Concerns: My documented requests for a conflict of interest evaluation, specifically regarding Joshua Sheridan and the appearance of structural impropriety mirroring the exact conflicts I am exposing within the 13th Circuit.
2. Investigative Opacity: The sudden and unexplained change in the investigating committee assigned to this matter.
3. Personnel and Posture: The Bar's refusal to clarify the current official stance of the investigation or even confirm the identity of the active investigator.

Before I sit for any sworn statement, the Bar should at least fulfill its constitutional and procedural obligations. To date, Judge Ayers has simply attached over 20 pages of my public statements without specifying a single sentence she alleges to be factually inaccurate.

Under the Florida Supreme Court's precedent in The Florida Bar v. Price, 478 So. 2d 812 (Fla. 1985), specificity is strictly required for any charge involving falsity. Furthermore, The Florida Bar v. Vernell, 721 So. 2d 705 (Fla. 1998), guarantees my right to know the precise nature of the charges before proceedings commence to prevent a trial by ambush. Most importantly, under The Florida Bar v. Ray, my secondary defense to a Rule 4-8.2(a) allegation is that I possessed an "objectively reasonable factual basis." I have consistently given those I am accusing of misconduct an opportunity to point out any statements I've made that are untrue. No one has suggested that any statement I've made is untrue.

Because truth is an absolute defense, it is a legal and logical impossibility for me to defend myself against an unarticulated falsehood. Therefore, I continue to demand a Specification of Charges explicitly identifying the exact sentences the Bar alleges to be false. If the Bar cannot produce a single specific false statement, this complaint must be dismissed immediately for vagueness, with a corresponding referral to the JQC for Ayers' filing of a false complaint.

The Bar's rush to subpoena me without specifying the charges is impossible to reconcile with its handling of my heavily documented complaint against Attorney Scott Davis, which was full of unrefuted facts. It's also important to consider that I filed a detailed complaint against Judge Ayers with the JQC. I have serious concerns about the JQC process as well, with that institution following the same insider protectionism motives evident in the Bar's handling of these matters. I have compared the relevant aspects of these complaints and the Bar/JQC positions in the table below.

When Regular Joes Go Against the Judicial Insiders: Proof that the Florida Bar and JQC act as protection mechanisms and attack dogs for the elites:

Category/Case	Hanson vs. Davis (Bar)	Hanson vs. Ayers (JQC)	Ayers vs. Hanson (Bar)
---------------	------------------------	------------------------	------------------------

Complainant	Hanson (Regular Joe)	Hanson (Regular Joe)	Judge Ayers (Judicial Insider)
Respondent	Davis (Judicial Insider)	Judge Ayers (Judicial Insider)	Hanson (Regular Joe)
Violations alleged	17 specific rule violations, including Rules 3.1, 3.2, 3.3, 4.1, 4-3.4, 4-4.4, and 4-8.4.	5 distinct actions violating Code of Judicial Conduct Canons 1, 2, and 3.	Vague citations to Rule 4-8.2(a) and 4-8.4(d).
Specificity and support for violations	25-page verified complaint detailing specific dates, transcripts, and objective evidence of discovery fraud.	Sworn complaint supported by correspondence, pleadings, hearing transcripts and court-recorded video evidence that remains improperly concealed.	Zero specific false statements identified; relies entirely on unsworn screenshots of public reporting, with no support for any statement being false.
Information / Documents Requested by Regular Joe	An explanation for the immediate dismissal, appeal of the Bar's dismissal, Bar materials including rebuttal and communications with Davis.	The courtroom video proving the judge lied.	Reasonable specification of any statements alleged to be false.
Result of Regular Joe's Requests	Dismissed in 6 days, with a non-sensical explanation that was never clarified, and semantic shell games attempting to conceal correspondence with Davis and internal misconduct.	Dismissed without comment; absolute records blackout maintained.	Requests for due process and specification of alleged false statement ignored; whistleblower ignored until he's subpoenaed for a sworn statement.
How the Result Violates Due Process	Ignores Rule 3-7.3(c) mandate to investigate; violates Rule 2.420 right to public access, and insulates Davis from any meaningful oversight, free to continue to violate the rights of Regular Joes like me.	Operates as a secret tribunal with zero explanation or path for appellate review.	Violates 14th Amendment (Ruffalo) requirement for fair notice of alleged violation before sworn interrogation.
How the Result Serves Ruling Class Interests	Protects an insider's license, covers up discovery fraud in the 13th	Shields a judge from exposure for perjury and bias, preserving the status quo.	Weaponizes disciplinary power to chill free speech and

	Circuit, advanced through judicial misconduct.		bankrupt whistleblowers.
Respondent Questioned?	NO	NO	YES

The evidence supports that the Bar decides its course of action based on the identity of the complainant and respondent, ignoring the facts. It protects insiders regardless of the extent and harm from their misconduct, while attacking those who dare to expect those in power to follow the rules. In my facts, where I have proceeded honestly, waiving any attorney client privilege with attorneys representing me, right and wrong is black and white. Therefore, the Bar's positions are exceedingly absurd as they consistently support the insiders guilty of a long, consistent history of misconduct and retaliation against a litigant telling the truth. Our Justice system requires an affinity to truth over power, and the bar's priorities have clearly shifted in a dangerous direction that I will continue to expose.

The Broad Scope of Insider Misconduct to Support this Unconscionable Scheme

The misconduct within the Bar, the Second Circuit Court, the 6th Circuit Court, the attorney general's office, etc. is all consistent with the very problematic themes discussed herein, going back to "The Foxes Guarding the Courthouse, and even before that. The need for accountability is clear. I hope the Bar will take this opportunity to consider the questions and facts discussed herein and reconsider their positions. If not, I will continue to cooperate any way I can.

Please accept this correspondence as formal notice that I consider the Bar's current posture to be an intentional, bad-faith effort to deprive me of my constitutional rights under color of state law. This disparate treatment is transparently designed to suppress documented evidence of severe insider misconduct while utilizing the Bar's investigatory authority to retaliate against me for exercising my First Amendment rights. I am fully prepared to pursue all available federal remedies, including civil rights claims under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 against The Florida Bar, the 13th Judicial Circuit, and the specific individuals involved in this deprivation of my rights.

I stand behind every word I have published as the absolute truth. I am comfortable with, and proud of, every action I have taken to protect my family. If the Bar requires me to appear for a deposition, even while refusing to provide me with any additional documentation or answers, I'm willing to do that and request that we complete it as soon as possible.

Conclusion

I have a stellar record for honesty and professionalism throughout my nearly 20 year-career as a lawyer despite primarily working in high-volume contentious litigation. I never submitted a bar complaint nor had one submitted against me until this situation with Davis started.

I did not ask for any of this. This entire ordeal began because I sought an efficient, fair resolution to a simple discovery issue. I continue to be increasingly alarmed at how far powerful officials in the state are willing to go to protect insiders despite the harm to common citizens. From day one, my approach has been defined by absolute transparency, including the complete waiver of any attorney-client privilege in all of these proceedings. Those that the bar continues to protect and support have engaged in a now years long campaign to defraud, bully, and harass me. Something must change.

I look forward to your prompt response.

Sincerely,

/s/ Chris Hanson

Hi Mr. Kelley - I'm concerned that you're not aware of the toll that the bar's misconduct continues to have on my family. First, by failing ministerial duties related to my bar complaint against Davis, the bar has subjected me to ongoing attorney and judicial misconduct, all completely unchecked.

Then, Judge Ayers files her baseless bar complaint that fails to even allege a single false statement, and the Bar holds that and a 4 hour sworn statement over my head for half a year. Can you please explain what I'm missing? What is the bar's plan here?

Do I have any rights whatsoever? Please respond. I'm concerned about the 13th Circuit taking further retaliatory action against me to directly involve my children. Things have gotten way out of hand, and still no one can explain any role that I have in the ugly side other than trying to expose it.

As you stated, I have a lot to say, and it's all been out there for over a year now. Why the several month delay?? I look forward to hearing the bar's side very soon.

Good morning Mr. Kelley. It's been another week and I have not heard from you on my request for specification on any violation of the Florida rules nor my questions about the status of the investigation - including identity of any investigator and investigatory committee etc. The last information I had from the bar was that the case was assigned to Mr. Sheridan up until I received the March 17th response to my 5th follow inquiry.

I remain willing to attend a deposition as I offered a week ago. Additionally, there is a perfect way to investigate probably the most consistent and prominent statement covered in the 20 or so pages offered by the complainant. It relates to the April 4, 2025 hearing. As I am sure you are aware, Judge Ayers rolled her eyes at me multiple times, denied it when confronted, and stated her intent to get the video tape to prove her side of the story. As you can see from the transcript I've linked in multiple posts, I requested the video immediately and consistently ever since, now spending a lot of time and money fighting frivolous defenses from the 13th Circuit.

Assuming you are reviewing my social media footprint, you have links to documents substantiating most, if not all of these allegations. There may be a time or two that I did not attach a document although I'm confident there is record support for every allegation. I don't understand what the bar is doing. The mandamus action against the Florida bar is on appeal at the 1st DCA. This complaint situation with Ayers is not complicated. Have you asked her if she can specify if there's any untrue statement? The fact that I don't know the answer to that 4 months later deserves an explanation.

What is the delay here? The facts and law/rules are clear at every level. The pattern they reveal is concerning as there's bar/judicial action in each that deviates significantly from the law, the Rules, and any interest in the truth of what's occurred for nearly 2 years and continues today. I've got a good draft of my Federal Complaint done and once again, the facts and the law seem to line up very nicely in my favor.

I again want to make it clear that I did not want any of this. Even now, I am looking for the most efficient solution to all of this. I do not like social media and want to move on from all of this ASAP. I'd appreciate it if the bar could get that video. And if there's some resolution to all of this for the Bar and anyone else interested in an efficient result, that is still my objective. At a minimum, please let me know on the specification request, status questions on investigation/complaint, and getting video of the April 4, 2025 hearing in order to at least resolve that issue.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Good morning. You will find a detailed response to your correspondence below, attached. I very much look forward to attending the deposition. However, I do request some information from the bar regarding the specific violation or violations the complainant alleged. The attached letter explain the basis for the request. However, if the bar refuses to provide any additional info, I will still attend the deposition, subject to the due process objections.

I also wanted to separately raise an issue about confidentiality. As you know I have waived any right to confidentiality related to these proceedings. In fact I request that they be public and I would even invite the public to attend the deposition if that is an option. While the judicial insiders rely on records blackouts, unsworn allegations, and institutional shielding to conceal their misconduct, I have proactively opened every aspect of my case to objective scrutiny. This total waiver of confidentiality demonstrates that my defense relies solely on the verifiable truth, with absolutely nothing to hide.

Given my waiver of confidentiality, the Bar's complete failure to respond to 3 months of consistent requests for specification on the alleged rule violations, and the impact these cases are likely to have on confidence in the Judiciary, I'm hoping that you will provide some answers on the questions raised in the attached letter, what happened with Sheridan's involvement, the identity of the investigative committee, and the investigator, etc. Thank you for your cooperation and I look forward to hearing from you.

I am going to send you a subpoena to appear in person for a sworn statement.

I have to work out court reporter, conference room, investigator and my own schedules. After I do that, I will send you some dates and give you your choice.

There will likely be a few in April and a few in May. I am expecting 3-4 hours.

I will contact you when we get that sorted.

Okay. It sounds like you've been through the social media. Can you tell me one statement that I've made that is false?

I've followed up several times on that precise question reminding you that I've not had the opportunity to respond any allegation about any statement or statement(s) that I've made. The truth is still an absolute defense, right?

Or if you're going to move to a vote without involving me further, please explain to me how Judge Ayers' bar complaint against me passes even the first step of your process once I point out that she fails to allege any false statement that I've made.

Have you all considered the closely related bar complaint against Scott Davis and the bar's misconduct related to that? Is the bar so committed to covering up its own internal misconduct that it would retaliate against me in this manner?

What about the fact that everything I've said is true?? Do you see the extent of judicial misconduct and corruption that's occurring. The ruling class just gets a pass from the bar? While they get to wield its power against those who tell the truth about active and harmful corruption.

The FL bar desperately needs a whistleblower. I'm requesting the opportunity for every formality available under the rules and all communication and engagement that the bar is willing to provide. This battle against corrupt and powerful people that somehow are able to operate above the law has taken over much of my life. It's put me in a very difficult position financially and in many other ways. I won't stop pursuing this. I'm working on a federal complaint now. If the federal courts support this open and obvious corruption, that won't stop my fight either.

I pray that The Florida Bar and its lawyers and staff or at least one of them will do the right thing. It's truly terrifying that an organization in charge of justice can willfully subvert the obvious truth for so long. The truth doesn't change and when you try to cover that up, you create more corruption and dishonesty that will need to be addressed. I will keep doing that until someone does the right thing.

I ask again that the bar immediately notify me and provide an opportunity to respond to anything that I've published or written anywhere that the Florida Bar or Judge Ayers can tell me is untrue? Thank you for your cooperation.

Mr. Kelley - hopefully you can understand my confusion and frustration with all of this.

Mr. Sheridan, as chair of the committee, you must have some information about what's occurred in the last 3 and a half months. Who, within your committee, was assigned as the investigator? Was there any conflict assessment? Did you take any action or communicate with anyone based on the 6-7 communications referenced below?

Mr. Sheridan and Bar Counsel:

On December 3, 2025, Bar Counsel, Jason Kelley, sent me an official letter certifying that the complaint filed against me by Judge Ayers was being forwarded to the grievance committee chaired by Mr. Joshua Sheridan for "further investigation and disposition" .

For the past 104 days, I have operated under the Florida Bar's official notice that Mr. Sheridan was investigating this matter. In addition to my response to the complaint seeking information on any of my statements alleged to be untrue, I have sent five separate, detailed follow-up emails (December 18, January 7, January 15, February 13, and March 17) requesting basic due process, raising valid conflict-of-interest objections regarding Mr. Sheridan's assignment, and demanding that the complainant identify a single specific statement she alleges to be false .

Yet, yesterday afternoon, March 17, 2026, Mr. Sheridan replied to my fifth inquiry stating: "I'm not assigned to this case. I have no knowledge" .

There must be some story here. Was your committee ever assigned to the case? When and how did that change? Why wasn't I notified? Why ignore the five emails below following up for specification on status and any statement I made that anyone alleges to be false?

Especially given my ongoing litigation against the bar related to their active concealment of internal misconduct relating to my bar complaint against attorney Scott Davis, the delays and confusion about the status of the complaint against me are very concerning. This demonstrates further internal bar failures prejudicial to the administration of justice, violating the Bar's own ethical standards under Rule 4-8.4(d) . I

I'm very concerned about continuing misconduct from institutional insiders continuing to retaliate against me for exposing systemic corruption in the 13th Circuit and beyond. These problems are continuing to grow due to the bar's absolute refusal to acknowledge internal problems such as Mr. Courtemanche violating the rules for Public Record access that he teaches throughout the state. The costs and damage to my family from these failures are very real and ongoing.

As I have stated repeatedly, Judge Ayers' complaint cites Rules 4-8.2(a) and 4-8.4(d) but fails to identify a single specific factual error in my reporting . Under Rule 3-7.1, the Bar's intake counsel has the authority to dismiss complaints that are vague, conclusory, or lack sufficient factual specificity to support a violation . It is a legal impossibility to defend against an alleged falsehood when the accuser and the Bar refuse to identify it .

Demand for Immediate Action: Based on the complainant's complete failure to specify a false statement, compounded by the Bar's inexcusable mishandling and misrepresentation of the investigation's assignment, I demand the following:

1. Immediate Dismissal: The outright dismissal of Judge Ayers' complaint (File No. 2026-10,395(13F)) for lack of specificity and severe procedural prejudice.
2. Written Explanation: A formal, written explanation by the end of this week detailing exactly who has been handling this file since December 3, 2025, why I was falsely notified of Mr. Sheridan's assignment, and why the Bar ignored five direct inquiries regarding my case.
3. Immediate Production: The bar should produce all correspondence and materials on the Judge Ayers' complaint against Hanson and corresponding handling and investigation.
4. Referral of Judge Ayers' to the JQC: Judge Ayers submitted a false and retaliatory bar complaint. The bar representatives know that as well as anyone, and this is certainly grounds for discipline thru the JQC.

Please let me know the bar's position on this.

And Mr. Sheridan, what changed? Did you have any contact with the bar after the 12-3-25 email? Why not respond to any of my first 4 emails on the topic?

I look forward to hearing from you. To be clear, I never asked for any of this. I encountered severe and obvious attorney and judicial misconduct and corruption. While I'm not looking to make things embarrassing for the bar or any individuals, accountability is imperative for anyone to move forward from this. If the bar wants to talk about resolution to these issues in a manner that limits costs and damage for all involved, please let me know.

I have other questions that I've repeatedly raised that have also gone ignored... all while the Florida bar attempts to conceal evidence that will further illuminate internal misconduct, bias, and "complaint fixing" within the Florida Bar. I've requested depositions and formal investigation into all of this.

Yet I've heard nothing. I'm sure you're aware of the stress inherent in dealing with the Florida Bar especially when unethical attorney conduct continues to harm my family, despite a formal complaint from over a year ago, that the bar continues to work to bury.

And on top of that, I'm apparently under investigation for telling the truth about a corrupt judge.

This is not going away. There is no solution remotely consistent with truth or justice other than the bar coming clean.

What is the hold up? Has the Florida bar communicated with the complainant in the case against me? After over 3.5 months of having this case over my head, is there a single untrue or even questionable statement I've made? How is the complaint still pending if not? Why hasn't anyone told me if you're alleging now that I've said something untrue.

I think this is part of a coordinated effort involving the 13th Circuit, Florida Bar, 2nd Circuit, 6th Circuit, Attorney General's office to serve the powerful insiders over truth and justice. Please help me see your side of the story.

Please see the email chain below thru January 15, 2026. It's been 2.5 months since I formally requested that the Complainant, Judge Ayers, specify exactly which statements or even any statement she alleges as false. As noted in my initial formal response (December 8, 2025), the complaint simply cites Rules 4-8.2(a) and 4-8.4(d) and attaches voluminous public statements without identifying a single specific factual error. I reaffirmed those statements many times.

It's very hard for me to understand this process when no one has told me any statement anyone believes to be false. And, I've heard nothing about the defenses I raised or the conflicts of interest concerns.

The Bar has done nothing to clarify options for dealing with the conflicts of interest I raised in the correspondence below. I believe that the Bar has a vested interest in these proceedings, as defendants in a 2nd Circuit case seek to conceal communications with Davis about the bar complaint against him. The Bar desperately needs to find a way to support Ayers fiction that I've made false statements. The problem is, the veracity of my statements is documented throughout the records of litigation in 3 Circuits and a DCA, with many examples of facts recorded contemporaneously with occurrence, that now fit into this broad framework of misconduct spanning from the 6th and 13th Circuits, to the 2nd Circuit and Florida Bar.

I continue to ask the Bar to consider appointment of an independent counsel, unconnected to Florida's Judiciary, due to the scope of powerful figures in Florida already implicated in the corruption and/or cover up attempts. There are numerous bar complaints I need to submit, but I'm not going to email a bar complaint to the same bar that's actively working to conceal public records from public access in litigation against me.

The harm that your course of action is causing my family is very real in ways I can't describe in an email. I continue to urge you to consider efficiency and resolution rather than aggravating the damages already inflicted. What is the consideration stopping the Florida bar from acknowledging the truth in these proceedings across 6 plus dockets? There's nothing in the facts or law that I see. It's unlawful and harmful conduct 100 percent motivated by self and fellow ruling class protectionism. And it's no longer appropriate in Florida.

if you believe anything I stated here or anywhere else is untrue, I encourage you to correct me. Once again, I want to reiterate my availability for statements, depositions, or any other discovery. And I continue to request my opportunity to question Judge Ayers and individuals at the bar about the handling of my complaint.

Please provide me some update as to the status of the complaint at your earliest convenience. Thank you for your cooperation.

1. Outstanding Requests Under RRTFB 3-7.4

As stated in my December 23 email, I requested the following pursuant to Rule 3-7.4:

- A timeline for when Judge Ayers will specify the allegedly inaccurate statements, or confirmation and explanation if the Bar is refusing to require such specificity.
- The current posture of the investigation, including whether it remains under preliminary review or has been referred to a grievance committee.
- Confirmation that my waiver of confidentiality under Rule 3-7.1 has been noted and that all materials will be handled publicly as permitted.

None of these requests have been addressed.

2. Conflict-of-Interest and Disqualification Request (RRTFB 3-3.4, 3-7.4, 3-7.5, 4-1.7)

I also requested:

- Immediate disqualification of Mr. Sheridan due to conflicts under Rule 4-1.7(a)(2),
- Reassignment to independent counsel outside the 13th Judicial Circuit, and
- A public hearing on the motion, consistent with my Rule 3-7.1 waiver.

These requests likewise remain unanswered.

Given the direct adversarial posture between myself and the Florida Bar (as detailed in my petition for mandamus and declaratory relief), and the involvement of Judge Ayers in both matters, the failure to respond only heightens the appearance of institutional bias and retaliation—precisely the concerns the rules are designed to prevent.

3. Public Records Request (Article I, §24; Rule 2.420)

My Formal Public Records Request #1, submitted on December 23, sought:

- All records relating to the assignment of Mr. Sheridan,
- All conflict-of-interest evaluations or discussions,
- All sufficiency assessments of Judge Ayers' complaint, both before and after my objections, and
- All related correspondence, notes, logs, drafts, and internal materials.

Under Article I, Section 24 of the Florida Constitution and Rule 2.420, a response is required within a reasonable time. At this point, the lack of acknowledgment itself is a violation.

If any portion of the requested records is exempt, you are required to identify the exemption with particularity and produce all non-exempt portions.

I received a response from Mr. Courtemanche stating, "Fla.R.Gen.Proc.Jud.Admin 2.420(c) (3)(B) & RRTFB 3-7.1(a)(1): Complaints alleging misconduct against attorneys until probable cause/no probable cause is established." I'm requesting multiple sets of documents outside of the complaint. I request compliance with that so that we can avoid the time and expense associated with additional writ proceedings.

4. Request for Immediate Action

At this stage, I respectfully request:

1. A written response to my questions within the week, addressing each of the items above;
2. Production of all non-exempt public records responsive to my December 23 request; and
3. Clarification of the procedural posture of this matter, including whether any action has been taken since my December 18 submission.

If no response is provided, I will have no choice but to pursue additional remedies, including supplementing my pending petition for writ of mandamus and seeking judicial intervention to compel compliance with the Bar's constitutional and procedural obligations.

I would also request any and all formalities in the investigations including affidavits and depositions. No one has contacted me about this. Unfortunately, this causes me great concern given the results of the Davis investigation. where the similarly refused to engage on the process.

I remain available to discuss these issues, but at this point, written clarity is essential.

Sincerely, Christopher Hanson Florida Bar #44094

Good afternoon. It's now been a full 10 days since my email below attaching formal response efforts (subject to the limitations from the lack of any substantive allegations). I have not received any response or acknowledgment from the Florida Bar.

Can you please at least confirm for me that my response was received and is sufficient for now? And that Judge Ayers is going to provide specification about which statements she believes are inaccurate along with a timeline for when I can expect that?

Please find links to recent documents I filed last night as part of a petition/complaint for mandamus and declaratory relief against the Florida bar. There's now a formal and direct adversarial relationship between myself and the Florida Bar. The focus of the petition is on failures related to my bar complaint against attorney Scott Davis. His conduct requiring the bar complaint directly involves Judge Ayers covering for him, approving of harmful ethical violations, and even advancing his litigation tactics obviously violating the law. I reference Judge Ayers' recent complaint against me and request some relief from the Circuit Court including appointment of an independent counsel to oversee issues where the conflict between myself and the Bar raise serious concerns over potential bias and retaliation against me.

Could someone please at least advise me of the current posture of the case. I'm not even sure whom to call? Since Ms. Alcorn sent the email, I'll start there if I don't get a response to your email. Thank you for your cooperation.

Good morning. Please find attached my confirmation of no affiliation with law firm and a formal letter, responding to the "complaint" as best I can. I do request specification from the complainant if it's not immediately dismissed.

I'm also reiterating my request for the obvious conflicts of interest here to be addressed. Mr. Sheridan apparently practices family law in Tampa. I mean no offense to Mr. Sheridan with this as I know nothing about him personally. Perhaps he'd be the person to restore some integrity at the 13th Circuit and with the Bar, and I hope he is that.

However, my concerns with insider protectionism and "clubhouse corruption" in Tampa, about which I've written rather extensively, introduce yet another layer of potential conflicts, with the assignment of a Tampa Family law insider to handle the complaint process. Obviously, I'm concerned that he'd be partial towards Judge Ayers, in front of whom, (it would seem), he commonly practices.

Please let me know on why the complaint was not dismissed for failure to describe a violation of the rules or let me know what my next step is. I look forward to hearing from you. Thank you for your cooperation.

Good afternoon. I'm not sure if you're aware of the background here, but I stand behind every word that I've written. Beyond that, I stand behind publishing every word of it as I know it's of great public importance. I've offered anyone implicated in this corruption to offer another explanation for their misconduct other than his or her complicity in it. Here's a couple of links to the most recent posts on the misconduct my family has suffered through for over a year and a half.

I will be keeping all of that, adding to it, and making this development public as well. Judge Ayers is corrupt, dishonest, and now, certainly vindictive. I understand the seriousness of those statements. And I hope you'll consider the possibility that they are demonstrably true statements that have been swept under the rug for far too long. I'll take a look at the specifics in the attached documents. But my response is essentially, telling the truth in compliance with my duties as a Florida attorney, even in the face of massive power and corruption, is the opposite of an ethics violation. To the extent the rules allow, I request that this entire process be as public and open as possible. I waive any rights I may have to keep this confidential.

I do have concerns about the impartiality of the Florida bar. As you may know, I could not get the Florida bar to "engage" at all in relation to my bar complaint against Mr. Davis. I fully believe the bar is complicit in covering up his intentional, harmful, and ongoing ethical violations. A public records lawsuit against the Florida bar will be filed within the next few days. There are real concerns that the bar could retaliate and discipline me for simply telling the truth to expose the corruption.

To the extent I can request anyone outside the bar handle the complaint, I'd like to request that as well. Or, isn't there a step where the bar can't simply dismiss based on routine? If so, please advise me of the decision or process of getting that done.

Despite the rule requiring public access to reports, correspondence, papers. etc. submitted by the respondent being public under Rule 3-7.1, the Florida bar never furnished me with those materials. I'm still waiting on an answer on whether they even exist. I certainly didn't get a copy of anything like this that I assume was served upon and received back from Mr. Davis? Either way, I'd like to request the bar consider dismissing it for the vindictive waste of time it is.

I copied Mr. Courtemanche as he's familiar with the public records issue.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Hi Mr. Kelley. I really don't understand the delays here. It's a straightforward set of facts. Just related to the Florida Bar, there are 2 separate examples of the pattern demonstrated throughout at least 8 different dockets now. The Florida Bar did something it's hiding on the Davis complaint. And the same bar advanced a complaint so baseless that now nearly 6 months later, still no one has alleged any statement I've made as false.

As you look at the facts more closely, the pattern of misconduct and cover-up gets darker and darker. There is no excuse for this becoming a 2 year ordeal. At it's core, this is a single issue case where I've waived any attorney client privilege in all of the litigation. The facts are clear and in the open at every level.

Unfortunately, the 13th Circuit Court continues to act under an intense structural conflict. The 13th Circuit including Judge Felix are defendants in my petition for writ of mandamus case directly related to misconduct in the 13th Circuit the last 2 years in case #1150. The litigation is not going well for defendants who are openly violating constitutional transparency mandates. They're asserting "judicial immunity." ... to this "mandamus" action. The Florida Attorney General is formally taking the position that that the Judges in the 13th Circuit are "immune" from their basic duties including constitutional transparency.

Judge Felix is completely unconcerned with the due process issues. He refuses to even watch video of the April 4, 2025 video (part of the 13th Circuit's ongoing unlawful concealment) when the same exact motions were set for hearing again on 4-17-26. Judge Felix continues to retaliate against me and advance the same obstructive and unethical lawfare that Judge Ayers was disqualified over. What's happening here is simple and clear. It's not going away. It's just how much damage to confidence in the judiciary (and to my family) does Florida Bar leadership and other Judicial actors want to do?

In case I don't hear from you with information that can replace the need for your testimony in case numbers 1150 and 10255, I must request your depositions. Mr. Davis has taken the position that the bar cleared him of my complaints. Additionally, the retaliatory and baseless complaint from Judge Ayers is critical to the proceedings in case #1150 and to the extent there are additional proceedings in case #10255.

Mr. Sheridan - I really regret that I have to bother you with this. It appears that you may have pushed back and refused to pursue the disciplinary path the bar had planned. I appreciate it if you did refuse to become involved and understand what an annoyance this email is. It's not my intent, however what's happening to my family in the 13th Circuit requires me to pursue this evidence. Hopefully the bar will cooperate with providing the relevant answers and we can limit or even eliminate your involvement moving forward.

If you all can provide me the documentation I've been requesting, perhaps we can avoid the depositions? That would certainly be my preference. I remain open to discussing resolution of all of these issues. My primary objective is getting a fair result in the litigation. I never wanted any of these problems and will be ecstatic when I'm able to put all of them to rest. Thanks for any assistance you can offer in that regard.

Hi Mr. Kelley - I'm concerned that you're not aware of the toll that the bar's misconduct continues to have on my family. First, by failing ministerial duties related to my bar complaint against Davis, the bar has subjected me to ongoing attorney and judicial misconduct, all completely unchecked.

Then, Judge Ayers files her baseless bar complaint that fails to even allege a single false statement, and the Bar holds that and a 4 hour sworn statement over my head for half a year. Can you please explain what I'm missing? What is the bar's plan here?

Do I have any rights whatsoever? Please respond. I'm concerned about the 13th Circuit taking further retaliatory action against me to directly involve my children. Things have gotten way out of hand, and still no one can explain any role that I have in the ugly side other than trying to expose it.

As you stated, I have a lot to say, and it's all been out there for over a year now. Why the several month delay?? I look forward to hearing the bar's side very soon.

Good morning Mr. Kelley. It's been another week and I have not heard from you on my request for specification on any violation of the Florida rules nor my questions about the status of the investigation - including identity of any investigator and investigatory committee etc. The last information I had from the bar was that the case was assigned to Mr. Sheridan up until I received the March 17th response to my 5th follow inquiry.

I remain willing to attend a deposition as I offered a week ago. Additionally, there is a perfect way to investigate probably the most consistent and prominent statement covered in the 20 or so pages offered by the complainant. It relates to the April 4, 2025 hearing. As I am sure you are aware, Judge Ayers rolled her eyes at me multiple times, denied it when confronted, and stated her intent to get the video tape to prove her side of the story. As you can see from the transcript I've linked in multiple posts, I requested the video immediately and consistently ever since, now spending a lot of time and money fighting frivolous defenses from the 13th Circuit.

Assuming you are reviewing my social media footprint, you have links to documents substantiating most, if not all of these allegations. There may be a time or two that I did not attach a document although I'm confident there is record support for every allegation. I don't understand what the bar is doing. The mandamus action against the Florida bar is on appeal at the 1st DCA. This complaint situation with Ayers is not complicated. Have you asked her if she can specify if there's any untrue statement? The fact that I don't know the answer to that 4 months later deserves an explanation.

What is the delay here? The facts and law/rules are clear at every level. The pattern they reveal is concerning as there's bar/judicial action in each that deviates significantly from the law, the Rules, and any interest in the truth of what's occurred for nearly 2 years and continues today. I've got a good draft of my Federal Complaint done and once again, the facts and the law seem to line up very nicely in my favor.

I again want to make it clear that I did not want any of this. Even now, I am looking for the most efficient solution to all of this. I do not like social media and want to move on from all of this ASAP. I'd appreciate it if the bar could get that video. And if there's some resolution to all of this for the Bar and anyone else interested in an efficient result, that is still my objective. At a minimum, please let me know on the specification request, status questions on investigation/complaint, and getting video of the April 4, 2025 hearing in order to at least resolve that issue.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Good morning. You will find a detailed response to your correspondence below, attached. I very much look forward to attending the deposition. However, I do request some information from the bar regarding the specific violation or violations the complainant alleged. The attached letter explain the basis for the request. However, if the bar refuses to provide any additional info, I will still attend the deposition, subject to the due process objections.

I also wanted to separately raise an issue about confidentiality. As you know I have waived any right to confidentiality related to these proceedings. In fact I request that they be public and I would even invite the public to attend the deposition if that is an option. While the judicial insiders rely on records blackouts, unsworn allegations, and institutional shielding to conceal their misconduct, I have proactively opened every aspect of my case to objective scrutiny. This total waiver of confidentiality demonstrates that my defense relies solely on the verifiable truth, with absolutely nothing to hide.

Given my waiver of confidentiality, the Bar's complete failure to respond to 3 months of consistent requests for specification on the alleged rule violations, and the impact these cases are likely to have on confidence in the Judiciary, I'm hoping that you will provide some answers on the questions raised in the attached letter, what happened with Sheridan's involvement, the identity of the investigative committee, and the investigator, etc. Thank you for your cooperation and I look forward to hearing from you.

Okay. It sounds like you've been through the social media. Can you tell me one statement that I've made that is false?

I've followed up several times on that precise question reminding you that I've not had the opportunity to respond any allegation about any statement or statement(s) that I've made. The truth is still an absolute defense, right?

Or if you're going to move to a vote without involving me further, please explain to me how Judge Ayers' bar complaint against me passes even the first step of your process once I point out that she fails to allege any false statement that I've made.

Have you all considered the closely related bar complaint against Scott Davis and the bar's misconduct related to that? Is the bar so committed to covering up its own internal misconduct that it would retaliate against me in this manner?

What about the fact that everything I've said is true?? Do you see the extent of judicial misconduct and corruption that's occurring. The ruling class just gets a pass from the bar? While they get to wield its power against those who tell the truth about active and harmful corruption.

The FL bar desperately needs a whistleblower. I'm requesting the opportunity for every formality available under the rules and all communication and engagement that the bar is willing to provide. This battle against corrupt and powerful people that somehow are able to operate above the law has taken over much of my life. It's put me in a very difficult position financially and in many other ways. I won't stop pursuing this. I'm working on a federal complaint now. If the federal courts support this open and obvious corruption, that won't stop my fight either.

I pray that The Florida Bar and its lawyers and staff or at least one of them will do the right thing. It's truly terrifying that an organization in charge of justice can willfully subvert the obvious truth for so long. The truth doesn't change and when you try to cover that up, you create more corruption and dishonesty that will need to be addressed. I will keep doing that until someone does the right thing.

I ask again that the bar immediately notify me and provide an opportunity to respond to anything that I've published or written anywhere that the Florida Bar or Judge Ayers can tell me is untrue? Thank you for your cooperation.

Mr. Sheridan and Bar Counsel:

On December 3, 2025, Bar Counsel, Jason Kelley, sent me an official letter certifying that the complaint filed against me by Judge Ayers was being forwarded to the grievance committee chaired by Mr. Joshua Sheridan for "further investigation and disposition" .

For the past 104 days, I have operated under the Florida Bar's official notice that Mr. Sheridan was investigating this matter. In addition to my response to the complaint seeking information on any of my statements alleged to be untrue, I have sent five separate, detailed follow-up emails (December 18, January 7, January 15, February 13, and March 17) requesting basic due process, raising valid conflict-of-interest objections regarding Mr. Sheridan's assignment, and demanding that the complainant identify a single specific statement she alleges to be false .

Yet, yesterday afternoon, March 17, 2026, Mr. Sheridan replied to my fifth inquiry stating: "I'm not assigned to this case. I have no knowledge" .

There must be some story here. Was your committee ever assigned to the case? When and how did that change? Why wasn't I notified? Why ignore the five emails below following up for specification on status and any statement I made that anyone alleges to be false?

Especially given my ongoing litigation against the bar related to their active concealment of internal misconduct relating to my bar complaint against attorney Scott Davis, the delays and confusion about the status of the complaint against me are very concerning. This demonstrates further internal bar failures prejudicial to the administration of justice, violating the Bar's own ethical standards under Rule 4-8.4(d) . I

I'm very concerned about continuing misconduct from institutional insiders continuing to retaliate against me for exposing systemic corruption in the 13th Circuit and beyond. These problems are continuing to grow due to the bar's absolute refusal to acknowledge internal problems such as Mr. Courtemanche violating the rules for Public Record access that he teaches throughout the state. The costs and damage to my family from these failures are very real and ongoing.

As I have stated repeatedly, Judge Ayers' complaint cites Rules 4-8.2(a) and 4-8.4(d) but fails to identify a single specific factual error in my reporting . Under Rule 3-7.1, the Bar's intake counsel has the authority to dismiss complaints that are vague, conclusory, or lack sufficient factual specificity to support a violation . It is a legal impossibility to defend against an alleged falsehood when the accuser and the Bar refuse to identify it .

Demand for Immediate Action: Based on the complainant's complete failure to specify a false statement, compounded by the Bar's inexcusable mishandling and misrepresentation of the investigation's assignment, I demand the following:

1. Immediate Dismissal: The outright dismissal of Judge Ayers' complaint (File No. 2026-10,395(13F)) for lack of specificity and severe procedural prejudice.
2. Written Explanation: A formal, written explanation by the end of this week detailing exactly who has been handling this file since December 3, 2025, why I was falsely notified of Mr. Sheridan's assignment, and why the Bar ignored five direct inquiries regarding my case.
3. Immediate Production: The bar should produce all correspondence and materials on the Judge Ayers' complaint against Hanson and corresponding handling and investigation.
4. Referral of Judge Ayers' to the JQC: Judge Ayers submitted a false and retaliatory bar complaint. The bar representatives know that as well as anyone, and this is certainly grounds for discipline thru the JQC.

Please let me know the bar's position on this.

And Mr. Sheridan, what changed? Did you have any contact with the bar after the 12-3-25 email? Why not respond to any of my first 4 emails on the topic?

I look forward to hearing from you. To be clear, I never asked for any of this. I encountered severe and obvious attorney and judicial misconduct and corruption. While I'm not looking to make things embarrassing for the bar or any individuals, accountability is imperative for anyone to move forward from this. If the bar wants to talk about resolution to these issues in a manner that limits costs and damage for all involved, please let me know.

I have other questions that I've repeatedly raised that have also gone ignored... all while the Florida bar attempts to conceal evidence that will further illuminate internal misconduct, bias, and "complaint fixing" within the Florida Bar. I've requested depositions and formal investigation into all of this.

Yet I've heard nothing. I'm sure you're aware of the stress inherent in dealing with the Florida Bar especially when unethical attorney conduct continues to harm my family, despite a formal complaint from over a year ago, that the bar continues to work to bury. And on top of that, I'm apparently under investigation for telling the truth about a corrupt judge.

This is not going away. There is no solution remotely consistent with truth or justice other than the bar coming clean.

What is the hold up? Has the Florida bar communicated with the complainant in the case against me? After over 3.5 months of having this case over my head, is there a single untrue or even questionable statement I've made? How is the complaint still pending if not? Why hasn't anyone told me if you're alleging now that I've said something untrue.

I think this is part of a coordinated effort involving the 13th Circuit, Florida Bar, 2nd Circuit, 6th Circuit, Attorney General's office to serve the powerful insiders over truth and justice. Please help me see your side of the story.

Mr. Sheridan and Bar Counsel:

Please see the email chain below thru January 15, 2026. It's been 2.5 months since I formally requested that the Complainant, Judge Ayers, specify exactly which statements or even any statement she alleges as false. As noted in my initial formal response (December 8, 2025), the complaint simply cites Rules 4-8.2(a) and 4-8.4(d) and attaches voluminous public statements without identifying a single specific factual error. I reaffirmed those statements many times.

It's very hard for me to understand this process when no one has told me any statement anyone believes to be false. And, I've heard nothing about the defenses I raised or the conflicts of interest concerns.

The Bar has done nothing to clarify options for dealing with the conflicts of interest I raised in the correspondence below. I believe that the Bar has a vested interest in these proceedings, as defendants in a 2nd Circuit case seek to conceal communications with Davis about the bar complaint against him. The Bar desperately needs to find a way to support Ayers fiction that I've made false statements. The problem is, the veracity of my statements is documented throughout the records of litigation in 3 Circuits and a DCA, with many examples of facts recorded contemporaneously with occurrence, that now fit into this broad framework of misconduct spanning from the 6th and 13th Circuits, to the 2nd Circuit and Florida Bar.

I continue to ask the Bar to consider appointment of an independent counsel, unconnected to Florida's Judiciary, due to the scope of powerful figures in Florida already implicated in the corruption and/or cover up attempts. There are numerous bar complaints I need to submit, but I'm not going to email a bar complaint to the same bar that's actively working to conceal public records from public access in litigation against me.

The harm that your course of action is causing my family is very real in ways I can't describe in an email. I continue to urge you to consider efficiency and resolution rather than aggravating the damages already inflicted. What is the consideration stopping the Florida bar from acknowledging the truth in these proceedings across 6 plus dockets?

There's nothing in the facts or law that I see. It's unlawful and harmful conduct 100 percent motivated by self and fellow ruling class protectionism. And it's no longer appropriate in Florida.

if you believe anything I stated here or anywhere else is untrue, I encourage you to correct me. Once again, I want to reiterate my availability for statements, depositions, or any other discovery. And I continue to request my opportunity to question Judge Ayers and individuals at the bar about the handling of my complaint.

Please provide me some update as to the status of the complaint at your earliest convenience. Thank you for your cooperation.

Good afternoon all. I'm following up to inquire about my previous correspondence and motion related to judge Ayers complaint, my requests for specific statements anllleged untrue, and conflicts of interest. I assume judge Ayers has not identified any statement as untrue. It concerns me this is taking so long. I know the truth and it's well documented. Please provide me with some response on the status of my concerns and the investigation.

I continue to request all formalities for a thorough investigation. Please let me know if you'd like a sworn statement or any documentation from me.

Thank you.

Dear Mr. Courtemanche, Mr. Kelley and Mr. Sheridan:

I am writing to follow up—again—on my correspondence dated December 18, 2025, and my subsequent detailed follow-up on December 23, 2025, regarding the complaint initiated by Judge Ayers and the related conflicts-of-interest and vagueness issues. Other than a brief phone call from Mr. Kelley on December 20 confirming receipt of my materials, I have received no written acknowledgment, no substantive response, and no update of any kind.

Given the seriousness of the issues raised, the silence is becoming increasingly concerning- especially as directly related matters inexplicably remain pending in the second district court of appeal.

1. Outstanding Requests Under RRTFB 3-7.4

As stated in my December 23 email, I requested the following pursuant to Rule 3-7.4:

- A timeline for when Judge Ayers will specify the allegedly inaccurate statements, or confirmation and explanation if the Bar is refusing to require such specificity.
- The current posture of the investigation, including whether it remains under preliminary review or has been referred to a grievance committee.
- Confirmation that my waiver of confidentiality under Rule 3-7.1 has been noted and that all materials will be handled publicly as permitted.

None of these requests have been addressed.

2. Conflict-of-Interest and Disqualification Request (RRTFB 3-3.4, 3-7.4, 3-7.5, 4-1.7)

I also requested:

- Immediate disqualification of Mr. Sheridan due to conflicts under Rule 4-1.7(a)(2),
- Reassignment to independent counsel outside the 13th Judicial Circuit, and
- A public hearing on the motion, consistent with my Rule 3-7.1 waiver.

These requests likewise remain unanswered.

Given the direct adversarial posture between myself and the Florida Bar (as detailed in my petition for mandamus and declaratory relief), and the involvement of Judge Ayers in both matters, the failure to respond only heightens the appearance of institutional bias and retaliation—precisely the concerns the rules are designed to prevent.

3. Public Records Request (Article I, §24; Rule 2.420)

My Formal Public Records Request #1, submitted on December 23, sought:

- All records relating to the assignment of Mr. Sheridan,
- All conflict-of-interest evaluations or discussions,
- All sufficiency assessments of Judge Ayers' complaint, both before and after my objections, and

- All related correspondence, notes, logs, drafts, and internal materials.

Under Article I, Section 24 of the Florida Constitution and Rule 2.420, a response is required within a reasonable time. At this point, the lack of acknowledgment itself is a violation.

If any portion of the requested records is exempt, you are required to identify the exemption with particularity and produce all non-exempt portions.

I received a response from Mr. Courtemanche stating, "Fla.R.Gen.Proc.Jud.Admin 2.420(c) (3)(B) & RRTFB 3-7.1(a)(1): Complaints alleging misconduct against attorneys until probable cause/no probable cause is established." I'm requesting multiple sets of documents outside of the complaint. I request compliance with that so that we can avoid the time and expense associated with additional writ proceedings.

4. Request for Immediate Action

At this stage, I respectfully request:

1. A written response to my questions within the week, addressing each of the items above;
2. Production of all non-exempt public records responsive to my December 23 request; and
3. Clarification of the procedural posture of this matter, including whether any action has been taken since my December 18 submission.

If no response is provided, I will have no choice but to pursue additional remedies, including supplementing my pending petition for writ of mandamus and seeking judicial intervention to compel compliance with the Bar's constitutional and procedural obligations.

I would also request any and all formalities in the investigations including affidavits and depositions. No one has contacted me about this. Unfortunately, this causes me great concern given the results of the Davis investigation. where the similarly refused to engage on the process.

I remain available to discuss these issues, but at this point, written clarity is essential.

Sincerely, Christopher Hanson Florida Bar #44094

Good afternoon. It's now been a full 10 days since my email below attaching formal response efforts (subject to the limitations from the lack of any substantive allegations). I have not received any response or acknowledgment from the Florida Bar.

Can you please at least confirm for me that my response was received and is sufficient for now? And that Judge Ayers is going to provide specification about which statements she believes are inaccurate along with a timeline for when I can expect that?

Please find links to recent documents I filed last night as part of a petition/complaint for mandamus and declaratory relief against the Florida bar. There's now a formal and direct adversarial relationship between myself and the Florida Bar. The focus of the petition is on failures related to my bar complaint against attorney Scott Davis. His conduct requiring the bar complaint directly involves Judge Ayers covering for him, approving of harmful ethical violations, and even advancing his litigation tactics obviously violating the law. I reference Judge Ayers' recent complaint against me and request some relief from the Circuit Court including appointment of an independent counsel to oversee issues where the conflict between myself and the Bar raise serious concerns over potential bias and retaliation against me.

Could someone please at least advise me of the current posture of the case. I'm not even sure whom to call? Since Ms. Alcorn sent the email, I'll start there if I don't get a response to your email. Thank you for your cooperation.

Chris

Good morning. Please find attached my confirmation of no affiliation with law firm and a formal letter, responding to the "complaint" as best I can. I do request specification from the complainant if it's not immediately dismissed.

I'm also reiterating my request for the obvious conflicts of interest here to be addressed. Mr. Sheridan apparently practices family law in Tampa. I mean no offense to Mr. Sheridan with this as I know nothing about him personally. Perhaps he'd be the person to restore some integrity at the 13th Circuit and with the Bar, and I hope he is that.

However, my concerns with insider protectionism and "clubhouse corruption" in Tampa, about which I've written rather extensively, introduce yet another layer of potential conflicts, with the assignment of a Tampa Family law insider to handle the complaint process. Obviously, I'm concerned that he'd be partial towards Judge Ayers, in front of whom, (it would seem), he commonly practices.

Please let me know on why the complaint was not dismissed for failure to describe a violation of the rules or let me know what my next step is. I look forward to hearing from you. Thank you for your cooperation.

Good afternoon. I'm not sure if you're aware of the background here, but I stand behind every word that I've written. Beyond that, I stand behind publishing every word of it as I know it's of great public importance. I've offered anyone implicated in this corruption to offer another explanation for their misconduct other than his or her complicity in it. Here's a couple of links to the most recent posts on the misconduct my family has suffered through for over a year and a half.

I will be keeping all of that, adding to it, and making this development public as well. Judge Ayers is corrupt, dishonest, and now, certainly vindictive. I understand the seriousness of those statements. And I hope you'll consider the possibility that they are demonstrably true statements that have been swept under the rug for far too long. I'll take a look at the specifics in the attached documents. But my response is essentially, telling the truth in compliance with my duties as a Florida attorney, even in the face of massive power and corruption, is the opposite of an ethics violation. To the extent the rules allow, I request that this entire process be as public and open as possible. I waive any rights I may have to keep this confidential.

I do have concerns about the impartiality of the Florida bar. As you may know, I could not get the Florida bar to "engage" at all in relation to my bar complaint against Mr. Davis. I fully believe the bar is complicit in covering up his intentional, harmful, and ongoing ethical violations. A public records lawsuit against the Florida bar will be filed within the next few days. There are real concerns that the bar could retaliate and discipline me for simply telling the truth to expose the corruption.

To the extent I can request anyone outside the bar handle the complaint, I'd like to request that as well. Or, isn't there a step where the bar can't simply dismiss based on routine? If so, please advise me of the decision or process of getting that done.

Despite the rule requiring public access to reports, correspondence, papers, etc. submitted by the respondent being public under Rule 3-7.1, the Florida bar never furnished me with those materials. I'm still waiting on an answer on whether they even exist. I certainly didn't get a copy of anything like this that I assume was served upon and received back from Mr. Davis? Either way, I'd like to request the bar consider dismissing it for the vindictive waste of time it is.

I copied Mr. Courtemanche as he's familiar with the public records issue.

Thank you for your cooperation.

YOU ARE COMMANDED to appear before the Honorable Matthew L. Felix, Acting Circuit Judge, or any other judge presiding, in Division A, at the Hillsborough County Edgecomb Courthouse, 800 E. Twiggs Street, Courtroom 411, Tampa, Florida 33602, on May 29, 2026, at 9:00 a.m. (five (5) hours reserved), to testify in the above-styled action on behalf of the Respondent/Husband, and to have with you at that time and place the documents and tangible things described in Schedule A below. This subpoena is issued in connection with the evidentiary hearing noticed in Petitioner's Amended Notice of Continued Evidentiary Hearing (Filing #248339674, e-filed May 16, 2026), a copy of which is attached.

The documents and tangible things described in Schedule A are relevant to matters set for the May 29, 2026 evidentiary hearing in this action, including Respondent/Husband's Motion for Sanctions [DIN 239]; Respondent/Husband's Verified Motion for Public Access, Video and Audio Recording and Zoom Broadcast and Verified Emergency Motion for Sanctions [DIN 245]; and Respondent/Husband's Emergency Motion for Immediate Ruling on Subpoena and Discovery Objections [DIN 209] — specifically (a) the litigation misconduct of opposing trial counsel, Scott Paul Davis, Esq.; (b) the accuracy of Attorney Davis's representation to this Court that he was "cleared" of wrongdoing by The Florida Bar; and (c) the unresolved structural conflict in this proceeding and the pattern of institutional protection afforded to Attorney Davis and former presiding Judge Kelly A. Ayers.

SCHEDULE A

1. All video recordings, audio recordings, digital capture files, or rough transcripts of the April 4, 2025 hearing in Case No. 2024-DR-001150, including any footage from courtroom security or surveillance cameras.

2. All access logs, metadata, and internal communications regarding the preservation, viewing, restriction, or non-production of the April 4, 2025 hearing video.
3. All communications, memoranda, or directives regarding the public-records requests submitted by Christopher Hanson between July 24, 2025 and October 14, 2025, including any instructions regarding the retention, search parameters, or withholding of responsive records.
4. The complete set of all communications (including e-mails from kellyayers2020@gmail.com, official judicial accounts, and text messages) between Judge Kelly A. Ayers (or her staff) and Scott Paul Davis (or his staff) concerning Christopher Hanson.
5. All communications between Judge Kelly A. Ayers (or her staff) and any representative of The Florida Bar (including Jason R. Kelley, Joshua G. Sheridan, or the intake department) concerning Christopher Hanson.
6. All communications, memoranda, or directives concerning Florida Bar Request for Assistance No. 25-6861, The Florida Bar File No. 2026-10,395(13F), or any inquiry by The Florida Bar relating to Case No. 2024-DR-001150.

The manner of appearance may be modified by order of the Court; you will be notified of any order permitting remote appearance.

If you fail to appear in response to this subpoena, you may be held in contempt of court. You are subpoenaed to appear by the following self-represented litigant, who is also a member of The Florida Bar, and unless excused from this subpoena by that litigant or by the Court, you shall respond to this subpoena as directed.

WITNESS FEE: Witness fees and mileage as provided by section 92.142, Florida Statutes, are tendered or will be tendered at the time of service as required by law.

NOTICE: This is a subpoena for production of the listed documents and tangible things at the hearing identified above, pursuant to Florida Rule of Civil Procedure 1.410. If you object to this subpoena, or seek to limit or modify it, you must file and serve a written objection or a motion for protective order before the date and time of the scheduled appearance; the Court will resolve any such objection at or before the hearing.

DIVISION: A

SARAH HANSON, Petitioner/Wife,
and
CHRISTOPHER HANSON, Respondent/Husband.

THE STATE OF FLORIDA:

David Cuillier, Ph.D.

Director, Brechner Freedom of Information Project
University of Florida College of Journalism and Communications
Weimer Hall, Room 2116, 1885 Stadium Road
Gainesville, FL 32611

YOU ARE COMMANDED to appear before the Honorable Matthew L. Felix, Acting Circuit Judge, or any other judge presiding, in Division A, at the Hillsborough County Edgecomb Courthouse, 800 E. Twiggs Street, Courtroom 411, Tampa, Florida 33602, on May 29, 2026, at 9:00 a.m. (five (5) hours reserved), to testify in the above-styled action on behalf of the Respondent/Husband, and to have with you at that time and place the documents and tangible things described in Schedule A below. This subpoena is issued in connection with the evidentiary hearing noticed in Petitioner's Amended Notice of Continued Evidentiary Hearing (Filing #248339674, e-filed May 16, 2026), a copy of which is attached.

The documents and tangible things described in Schedule A are relevant to matters set for the May 29, 2026 evidentiary hearing in this action, including Respondent/Husband's Verified Motion for Public Access, Video and Audio Recording and Zoom Broadcast and Verified Emergency Motion for Sanctions [DIN 245], and the related sanctions and discovery motions [DIN 239, DIN 209], and bear on public-records compliance and litigation, mandamus proceedings, and concerns regarding the suppression of public access to, and media coverage of, these proceedings.

SCHEDULE A

1. Any correspondence, file materials, notes, memoranda, or documents in your possession, custody, or control referencing or relating to Christopher Hanson (a/k/a Christopher A. Hanson).
2. Any documents in your possession, custody, or control referencing or relating to any of the following case numbers: 2024-DR-001150; 2026-CA-010255; 2025-CA-002469; 2D2025-0681; 2D2025-1936; 2D2026-0279; 1D2026-0728; and The Florida Bar File Nos. 25-6861, 2026-10,395(13F), and 2026-10,601(13E).

3. Any documents in your possession, custody, or control relating to public-records litigation in Hillsborough County, Florida, from April 1, 2025 to the present.

The manner of appearance may be modified by order of the Court; you will be notified of any order permitting remote appearance.

If you fail to appear in response to this subpoena, you may be held in contempt of court. You are subpoenaed to appear by the following self-represented litigant, who is also a member of The Florida Bar, and unless excused from this subpoena by that litigant or by the Court, you shall respond to this subpoena as directed.

WITNESS FEE: Witness fees and mileage as provided by section 92.142, Florida Statutes, are tendered or will be tendered at the time of service as required by law.

NOTICE: This is a subpoena for production of the listed documents and tangible things at the hearing identified above, pursuant to Florida Rule of Civil Procedure 1.410. If you object to this subpoena, or seek to limit or modify it, you must file and serve a written objection or a motion for protective order before the date and time of the scheduled appearance; the Court will resolve any such objection at or before the hearing.

SUBPOENA DUCES TECUM FOR HEARING
IN AND FOR HILLSBOROUGH COUNTY, FLORIDA

CASE NO.: 2024-DR-001150
DIVISION: A

SARAH HANSON, Petitioner/Wife,
and
CHRISTOPHER HANSON, Respondent/Husband.

THE STATE OF FLORIDA:

TO:

Grace M. Samarkos, Esq.
Harris, Hunt & Derr, P.A.
Wells Fargo Building
100 S. Ashley Drive, Suite 300
Tampa, FL 33602

YOU ARE COMMANDED to appear before the Honorable Matthew L. Felix, Acting Circuit Judge, or any other judge presiding, in Division A, at the Hillsborough County Edgecomb Courthouse, 800 E. Twiggs Street, Courtroom 411, Tampa, Florida 33602, on May 29, 2026, at 9:00 a.m. (five (5) hours reserved), to testify in the above-styled action on behalf of the Respondent/Husband, and to have with you at that time and place the documents and tangible things described in Schedule A below. This subpoena is issued in connection with the evidentiary hearing noticed in Petitioner's Amended Notice of Continued Evidentiary Hearing (Filing #248339674, e-filed May 16, 2026), a copy of which is attached.

The documents and tangible things described in Schedule A are relevant to matters set for the May 29, 2026 evidentiary hearing in this action, including Respondent/Husband's Motion for Sanctions [DIN 239]; Respondent/Husband's Verified Motion for Public Access, Video and Audio Recording and Zoom Broadcast and Verified Emergency Motion for Sanctions [DIN 245]; and Respondent/Husband's Emergency Motion for Immediate Ruling on Subpoena and Discovery Objections [DIN 209] — specifically (a) the litigation misconduct of opposing trial counsel, Scott Paul Davis, Esq.; (b) the accuracy of Attorney Davis's representation to this Court that he was "cleared" of wrongdoing by The Florida Bar; and (c) the unresolved structural conflict in this proceeding and the pattern of institutional protection afforded to Attorney Davis and former presiding Judge Kelly A. Ayers.

SCHEDULE A

1. The complete client file for Christopher Hanson regarding Case No. 2024-DR-001150 maintained by Harris, Hunt & Derr, P.A., including all internal notes, drafts, strategy memoranda, billing records, and communications.

3. All internal office notes, memoranda, or correspondence relating to Scott Paul Davis's stated intentions regarding discovery compliance in Case No. 2024-DR-001150.
4. All documents, e-mails, or internal communications relating to your assessment of Mr. Davis's litigation tactics, including the communication in which you advised Christopher Hanson that further discovery efforts directed to Mr. Davis would not do any good.

The manner of appearance may be modified by order of the Court; you will be notified of any order permitting remote appearance.

If you fail to appear in response to this subpoena, you may be held in contempt of court. You are subpoenaed to appear by the following self-represented litigant, who is also a member of The Florida Bar, and unless excused from this subpoena by that litigant or by the Court, you shall respond to this subpoena as directed.

WITNESS FEE: Witness fees and mileage as provided by section 92.142, Florida Statutes, are tendered or will be tendered at the time of service as required by law.

NOTICE: This is a subpoena for production of the listed documents and tangible things at the hearing identified above, pursuant to Florida Rule of Civil Procedure 1.410. If you object to this subpoena, or seek to limit or modify it, you must file and serve a written objection or a motion for protective order before the date and time of the scheduled appearance; the Court will resolve any such objection at or before the hearing.

FAMILY LAW DIVISION

CASE NO.: 2024-DR-001150
DIVISION: A

SARAH HANSON, Petitioner/Wife,
and
CHRISTOPHER HANSON, Respondent/Husband.

THE STATE OF FLORIDA:

TO:

Jason Ronald Kelley, Esq.
The Florida Bar — Tampa Branch Office
Park Tower, Suite 2000
400 N. Tampa Street
Tampa, FL 33602

YOU ARE COMMANDED to appear before the Honorable Matthew L. Felix, Acting Circuit Judge, or any other judge presiding, in Division A, at the Hillsborough County Edgecomb Courthouse, 800 E. Twiggs Street, Courtroom 411, Tampa, Florida 33602, on May 29, 2026, at 9:00 a.m. (five (5) hours reserved), to testify in the above-styled action on behalf of the Respondent/Husband, and to have with you at that time and place the documents and tangible things described in Schedule A below. This subpoena is issued in connection with the evidentiary hearing noticed in Petitioner's Amended Notice of Continued Evidentiary Hearing (Filing #248339674, e-filed May 16, 2026), a copy of which is attached.

The documents and tangible things described in Schedule A are relevant to matters set for the May 29, 2026 evidentiary hearing in this action, including Respondent/Husband's Motion for Sanctions [DIN 239]; Respondent/Husband's Verified Motion for Public Access, Video and Audio Recording and Zoom Broadcast and Verified Emergency Motion for Sanctions [DIN 245]; and Respondent/Husband's Emergency Motion for Immediate Ruling on Subpoena and Discovery Objections [DIN 209] — specifically (a) the litigation misconduct of opposing trial counsel, Scott Paul Davis, Esq.; (b) the accuracy of Attorney Davis's representation to this Court that he was "cleared" of wrongdoing by The Florida Bar; and (c) the unresolved structural conflict in this proceeding and the pattern of institutional protection afforded to Attorney Davis and former presiding Judge Kelly A. Ayers.

SCHEDULE A

1. The complete, unredacted investigative file — including all intake notes, conflict checks, and internal routing slips — for The Florida Bar File No. 2026-10,395(13F) concerning Christopher Alan Hanson.

2. The complete, unredacted file and all communications in your possession, custody, or control concerning Florida Bar Request for Assistance (RFA) No. 25-6861 regarding Attorney Scott Paul Davis, including all records concerning the decision to dismiss or decline that matter without a formal written response from Attorney Davis.
3. The complete, unredacted file and all communications in your possession, custody, or control concerning The Florida Bar File No. 2026-10,601(13E) regarding Vivian Hodz, Esq.
4. All communications and records concerning the decision to demand a three-to-four-hour sworn statement from Christopher Hanson in relation to File No. 2026-10,395(13F) notwithstanding the absence of a specified charge or identified false statement.
5. All documents, internal memoranda, or correspondence establishing the specific, identified statements made by Christopher Hanson that The Florida Bar alleges to be false or in violation of Bar Rules 4-8.2(a) and 4-8.4(d).
6. All communications between you (or your staff) and Judge Kelly A. Ayers, Joshua G. Sheridan, Scott Paul Davis, Richard Courtemanche, or Allie Huston concerning Christopher Hanson from November 1, 2025 to the present.
7. All documents relied upon to establish jurisdiction or authority to proceed with the investigation into Christopher Hanson while related civil and appellate litigation remains pending.

The manner of appearance may be modified by order of the Court; you will be notified of any order permitting remote appearance.

If you fail to appear in response to this subpoena, you may be held in contempt of court. You are subpoenaed to appear by the following self-represented litigant, who is also a member of The Florida Bar, and unless excused from this subpoena by that litigant or by the Court, you shall respond to this subpoena as directed.

WITNESS FEE: Witness fees and mileage as provided by section 92.142, Florida Statutes, are tendered or will be tendered at the time of service as required by law.

NOTICE: This is a subpoena for production of the listed documents and tangible things at the hearing identified above, pursuant to Florida Rule of Civil Procedure 1.410. If you object to this subpoena, or seek to limit or modify it, you must file and serve a written objection or a motion for protective order before the date and time of the scheduled appearance; the Court will resolve any such objection at or before the hearing.

Twiggs Street, Courtroom 411, Tampa, Florida 33602, on May 29, 2026, at 9:00 a.m. (five (5) hours reserved), to testify in the above-styled action on behalf of the Respondent/Husband, and to have with you at that time and place the documents and tangible things described in Schedule A below. This subpoena is issued in connection with the evidentiary hearing noticed in Petitioner's Amended Notice of Continued Evidentiary Hearing (Filing #248339674, e-filed May 16, 2026), a copy of which is attached.

The documents and tangible things described in Schedule A are relevant to matters set for the May 29, 2026 evidentiary hearing in this action, including Respondent/Husband's Motion for Sanctions [DIN 239]; Respondent/Husband's Verified Motion for Public Access, Video and Audio Recording and Zoom Broadcast and Verified Emergency Motion for Sanctions [DIN 245]; and Respondent/Husband's Emergency Motion for Immediate Ruling on Subpoena and Discovery Objections [DIN 209] — specifically (a) the litigation misconduct of opposing trial counsel, Scott Paul Davis, Esq.; (b) the accuracy of Attorney Davis's representation to this Court that he was "cleared" of wrongdoing by The Florida Bar; and (c) the unresolved structural conflict in this proceeding and the pattern of institutional protection afforded to Attorney Davis and former presiding Judge Kelly A. Ayers.

SCHEDULE A

1. The complete, unredacted grievance-committee file — including all internal notes, voting records, tracking metadata, routing slips, and investigative materials — for The Florida Bar File No. 2026-10,395(13F) concerning Christopher Alan Hanson.
2. All documents, notices, or records reflecting the assignment, transfer, recusal, or removal of you or your Grievance Committee from — or your knowledge of — The Florida Bar

File No. 2026-10,395(13F), including all records bearing on your statement that you were not assigned to and had no knowledge of that matter.

3. All committee records, communications, notes, or materials in your possession, custody, or control concerning Florida Bar Request for Assistance (RFA) No. 25-6861 regarding Attorney Scott Paul Davis.
4. All committee records, communications, notes, or materials in your possession, custody, or control concerning The Florida Bar File No. 2026-10,601(13E) regarding Vivian Hodz, Esq.
5. All communications (e-mails, text messages, and memoranda) between you and Judge Kelly A. Ayers, Scott Paul Davis, Jason R. Kelley, Richard Courtemanche, Allie Huston, or any other representative of The Florida Bar concerning Christopher Hanson from October 1, 2024 to the present.
6. All documents, internal memoranda, or correspondence establishing the specific, identified statements made by Christopher Hanson that The Florida Bar alleges to be false or in violation of Bar Rules 4-8.2(a) and 4-8.4(d).
7. All conflict-check records, internal communications, and policies regarding potential conflicts of interest in investigating the complaint against Christopher Hanson, given the involvement of Judge Kelly A. Ayers and Scott Paul Davis.

The manner of appearance may be modified by order of the Court; you will be notified of any order permitting remote appearance.

If you fail to appear in response to this subpoena, you may be held in contempt of court. You are subpoenaed to appear by the following self-represented litigant, who is also a member of The Florida Bar, and unless excused from this subpoena by that litigant or by the Court, you shall respond to this subpoena as directed.

WITNESS FEE: Witness fees and mileage as provided by section 92.142, Florida Statutes, are tendered or will be tendered at the time of service as required by law.

NOTICE: This is a subpoena for production of the listed documents and tangible things at the hearing identified above, pursuant to Florida Rule of Civil Procedure 1.410. If you object to this subpoena, or seek to limit or modify it, you must file and serve a written objection or a motion for protective order before the date and time of the scheduled appearance; the Court will resolve any such objection at or before the hearing.

AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT (ADA) NOTICE: If you are a person with a disability who needs any accommodation in order to participate in this proceeding, you are entitled, at no cost to you, to the provision of certain assistance. Please contact the ADA Coordinator, Hillsborough County Courthouse, 800 E. Twiggs Street, Room 604, Tampa, FL 33602, (813) 272-7040, at least 7 days before your scheduled court appearance.

THE STATE OF FLORIDA:

TO:

Richard D. Courtemanche, Jr., Esq.
Deputy General Counsel, The Florida Bar
651 E. Jefferson Street
Tallahassee, FL 32399-2300

YOU ARE COMMANDED to appear before the Honorable Matthew L. Felix, Acting Circuit Judge, or any other judge presiding, in Division A, at the Hillsborough County Edgecomb Courthouse, 800 E. Twiggs Street, Courtroom 411, Tampa, Florida 33602, on May 29, 2026, at 9:00 a.m. (five (5) hours reserved), to testify in the above-styled action on behalf of the Respondent/Husband, and to have with you at that time and place the documents and tangible things described in Schedule A below. This subpoena is issued in connection with the evidentiary hearing noticed in Petitioner's Amended Notice of Continued Evidentiary Hearing (Filing #248339674, e-filed May 16, 2026), a copy of which is attached.

The documents and tangible things described in Schedule A are relevant to matters set for the May 29, 2026 evidentiary hearing in this action, including Respondent/Husband's Motion for Sanctions [DIN 239]; Respondent/Husband's Verified Motion for Public Access, Video and Audio Recording and Zoom Broadcast and Verified Emergency Motion for Sanctions [DIN 245]; and Respondent/Husband's Emergency Motion for Immediate Ruling on Subpoena and Discovery Objections [DIN 209] — specifically (a) the litigation misconduct of opposing trial counsel, Scott Paul Davis, Esq.; (b) the accuracy of Attorney Davis's representation to this Court that he was "cleared" of wrongdoing by The Florida Bar; and (c) the unresolved structural conflict in this proceeding and the pattern of institutional protection afforded to Attorney Davis and former presiding Judge Kelly A. Ayers.

SCHEDULE A

1. All communications (e-mails, memoranda, Microsoft Teams messages, text messages, and notes of telephone calls) sent or received by you concerning Christopher Hanson, Sarah Hanson, Scott Paul Davis, or Vivian Hodz from May 1, 2024 to the present.
2. All records, communications, or memoranda concerning Florida Bar Request for Assistance (RFA) No. 25-6861 regarding Attorney Scott Paul Davis, including the decision to dismiss or decline that matter without obtaining a formal written response from Attorney Davis.

3. All records, communications, or memoranda concerning The Florida Bar File No. 2026-10,395(13F) regarding Christopher Alan Hanson.
4. All records, communications, or memoranda concerning The Florida Bar File No. 2026-10,601(13E) regarding Vivian Hodz, Esq.
5. All internal policies, training materials, slide decks, and presentations authored or used by you regarding Florida public-records law compliance, including the presentation containing "Rick's Rules."
6. All communications between you and Christopher Hanson, or concerning his requests for rebuttal materials to or from Scott Paul Davis, including any communication stating or reflecting that the matter was "closed."
7. All communications between you (or other agents of The Florida Bar) and Judge Kelly A. Ayers, Chief Judge Christopher C. Sabella, or Judge Matthew L. Felix concerning Christopher Hanson or Case No. 2024-DR-001150.
8. All conflict-check records and internal communications regarding any conflict of interest in The Florida Bar's handling of complaints involving Christopher Hanson, Scott Paul Davis, or Judge Kelly A. Ayers.

ANTICIPATED REMOTE APPEARANCE: It is anticipated that your appearance at this hearing will be permitted by remote audio-video communication technology (Zoom). A motion to permit remote appearance is being presented to the Court, and you will be promptly notified of the Court's ruling and, if granted, provided the Zoom connection information. Unless and until the Court orders otherwise, you remain commanded to appear in person as set forth above.

If you fail to appear in response to this subpoena, you may be held in contempt of court. You are subpoenaed to appear by the following self-represented litigant, who is also a member of The Florida Bar, and unless excused from this subpoena by that litigant or by the Court, you shall respond to this subpoena as directed.

WITNESS FEE: Witness fees and mileage as provided by section 92.142, Florida Statutes, are tendered or will be tendered at the time of service as required by law.

NOTICE: This is a subpoena for production of the listed documents and tangible things at the hearing identified above, pursuant to Florida Rule of Civil Procedure 1.410. If you object to this subpoena, or seek to limit or modify it, you must file and serve a written objection or a motion for protective order before the date and time of the scheduled appearance; the Court will resolve any such objection at or before the hearing.

2. All communications (e-mails, text messages, portal messages, and notes of telephone calls) between Vivian Hodz, Jennifer Bracke, or any Cortes Hodz staff member, and

Scott Paul Davis, Kristin Kadaj, or any Davis Law / Hunter Law Group staff member from October 1, 2024 to the present.

3. All internal office notes, memoranda, or correspondence detailing the specific, unprivileged reasons for your emergency motion to withdraw as counsel for Christopher Hanson.
4. All communications, notes, or memoranda referencing or documenting any statement by Scott Paul Davis indicating an intent to make the litigation “ugly and expensive” or a refusal to cooperate with mandatory financial discovery.
5. Your complete response and all communications with The Florida Bar concerning The Florida Bar File No. 2026-10,601(13E) (the complaint by Christopher A. Hanson against you), including all correspondence to or from Bar counsel or staff regarding that file.

The manner of appearance may be modified by order of the Court; you will be notified of any order permitting remote appearance.

If you fail to appear in response to this subpoena, you may be held in contempt of court. You are subpoenaed to appear by the following self-represented litigant, who is also a member of The Florida Bar, and unless excused from this subpoena by that litigant or by the Court, you shall respond to this subpoena as directed.

WITNESS FEE: Witness fees and mileage as provided by section 92.142, Florida Statutes, are tendered or will be tendered at the time of service as required by law.

NOTICE: This is a subpoena for production of the listed documents and tangible things at the hearing identified above, pursuant to Florida Rule of Civil Procedure 1.410. If you object to this subpoena, or seek to limit or modify it, you must file and serve a written objection or a motion for protective order before the date and time of the scheduled appearance; the Court will resolve any such objection at or before the hearing.

AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT (ADA) NOTICE: If you are a person with a disability who needs any accommodation in order to participate in this proceeding, you are entitled, at no cost to you, to the provision of certain assistance. Please contact the ADA Coordinator, Hillsborough County Courthouse, 800 E. Twiggs Street, Room 604, Tampa, FL 33602, (813) 272-7040, at least 7 days before your scheduled court appearance.

DATED this 18th day of May, 2026.
